MANY CAMPAIGNS in ONE GIVE GENEROUSLY TO ALL!

VOL. LXXXIV—No. 281 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., TUESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 20, 1955. PRICE FIVE CENTS

Northeast Escapes Fury of Erratic Ione; 'New Little City' Is Latest Speculation

2,000 Homes Are Predicted, Also Many Modern Facilities

A "new little city" with approximately 2,000 homes, its own shopping center, theatre, office building, airport and golf course, may be in prospect for the Flatbush section, just north of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, according to the latest rumor now current in the area.

A source which has been in touch with "mystery man," Hal C. Purdy of Morristown, N. J., who has recently purchased large tracts of land near the westerly approach of the bridge, said today that Mr. Purdy, representing a "syndicate of millionaires," was reported to be buying up the land as site for a new development "something like Levittown."

This latest piece of speculation joins rumors of various descriptions, one of the most sensational of which has been that the Kingston area might be under consideration as a site for an atomic reactor plant producing power for commercial use.

The rumors arise as the result of recent mysterious purchases of large tracts of land and reported options on hundreds of other acres in the area.

Mr. Purdy, whose name has become a household word in recent weeks, has purchased almost 400 acres in the Flatbush section, with reported options on other tracts, including the Kingston Airport property owned by Ray Coles.

Another rumor has it that industries such as aluminum and steel, which require large sources of power, might move into the area if such power were available. Nuclear power for commercial use is still in the experimental stage, however.

It also is rumored that the land will be used by IBM for an airport and golf course or for an industrial site, a hotel or housing development, etc.

It also is reported that Mr. Purdy had obtained options on the Winston Farms owned by R. H. Winston, located on King's road, just west of the village of Saugerties, for the price of $200,000, and Les Pommiers, a tract of land in Lake Katrine, for an estimated $40,000. Owners of the properties have not confirmed or denied these reports.

Peron Flees, Talks Start

Big Strike Looms As Labor Move Backing Ex-Ruler

Late Bulletin

Buenos Aires, Sept. 20 (AP)—The fallen dictator, Juan D. Peron, boarded a Paraguayan gunboat here today and received assurances of protection. But the rebels whose revolt ousted Peron demanded that the boat be intercepted enroute to Paraguay and the ex-president arrested.

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 20 (AP)—Argentina's new army government began peace talks today with the rebel forces whose revolt ended Juan D. Peron's 10-year dictatorship.

Peron was reported to have escaped arrest and fled the country. The independent newspaper Clarin said the dictator's arrest was decided upon in all-night session of top military leaders. But Peron was forewarned so that he could leave the presidential palace and flee the country by air, the newspaper said. There was speculation that he had gone to Paraguay.

A JUNTA of generals took command of the government as a climax to the four-day revolt that overthrew Peron. They quickly announced peace talks with the rebel forces.

The generals also moved rapidly to tighten their control on Buenos Aires after rebel reports that the six-million-member General Federation of Labor (CGT)—the backbone of Peron's popular support—is planning a general strike. With such a strike Argentine labor returned Peron to power in 1945 after a military clique had jailed him.

The rebel radio at Bahia Blanca, 325 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, said the CGT "is preparing secretly, under the inspiration of Peron, a general revolutionary strike for dawn to restore the tyrant, betraying all pledges."

THE STATE RADIO soon after said there would be "no work" in the capital today, but several hours later a broadcast communique from the Junta called on the workers to remain calm and resume work.

The communique singled out the CGT, saying that Hector Hugo Di Pietro, the federation secretary general and one of the fallen dictator's henchmen, "had been informed the talks aimed at pacification of the country already have been started with the rebels.

Another broadcast communique called on all government employes to continue performing their duties with "regularity, correctness and efficiency" and to maintain normal administrative activities.

The Junta did not say where the peace talks with the rebels are taking place, when they started or who is representing the rebels. Previously the commander of the rebel fleet, Adm. Isaac Rojas, has been reported planning to enter Buenos Aires harbor last night aboard the cruiser La Argentina for the negotiations.

Five Dead, Damage Is In Millions

Caution Is Urged For New England

(By The Associated Press)

Storm-jittery northeastern states heaved a huge sigh of relief today as skittish Hurricane Ione headed out to sea after a final flutter just offshore at Norfolk, Va.

Near noon the Washington weather bureau said the tempest was well out in the Atlantic and moving away from the coast. Ione's position was pegged at 200 miles east of Norfolk.

However, to be on the safe side, the bureau cautioned most of the New England coast to stay on the alert lest winds from the erratic Ione cause trouble.

BEFORE HEADING seaward, the storm had taken at least five lives—all in North Carolina—and caused property damages of millions in the same state. Some crops were badly hit.

Heavy rains fell in Virginia, and hard winds were felt at many points along the northeastern seaboard.

Although New York city felt little effect, the world championship fight between Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore at Yankee Stadium was postponed.

It will go on tomorrow night if the weather permits. Otherwise it will be delayed until Thursday night.

Promoters feared that uncertain weather conditions so near fight time might hurt the gate, particularly with many fans due from out of town.

AS HURRICANE IONE went swirling off to the east, an older sister, Hilda, died out early today in the rugged north central mountains of Mexico.

However, Hilda all but wrecked the city of Tampico, an oil port on the Gulf of Mexico. There were at least 12 persons killed, 350 injured and 15,000 left homeless.

Several additional cities were hard hit, and torrential rains still were expected in some parts of Mexico.

Ione, with her wind-power down to only about half the original force of 120 miles an hour, thrashed about for several hours early today off Norfolk and then took off for the open sea.

ONCE UNDER WAY, her forward movement was about 12 miles an hour.

The northeast was savagely assaulted by floods touched off by Hurricane Diance a month ago, and had eyed Ione's approach with gravest misgivings.

Diane's floods took nearly 200 lives and wrecked property worth billions.

However, as noon neared, weather men had all but written off the possibility that Ione would veer back toward the coast.

Strong northwest winds from Block Island to Cape Hatteras, N. C., were the worst effect expected.

IONE, THE SEASON'S ninth hurricane and whose name means "to go" in Greek, was the most unpredictable of this year's tropic-spawned storms.

At every stage it was difficult to tell where she's head next. As a consequence, the whole eastern seaboard was kept in a state of nervous tension.

While the death and damage toll was far less than in some previous storms, it might have

Girl Scouts Will Get 7½ Cents of Each Chest Dollar

Nearly half of all Girl Scouts in Ulster county reside in the Kingston area, according to figures supplied by the office of the Ulster County Council, Girl Scouts, a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest, Inc.

The Girl Scouts' allotment from the chest's goal of $100,270 for 1956 operational expenses is $7,500, or about 7½ cents out of every dollar contributed to the Community Chest.

A total of 1,354 Girl Scouts are registered in the county, of which 618 are Kingston area girls. There are 72 troops in the county, excluding the nine new troops in process of organization in the Highland-Clintondale area. Of the total, 29 troops are located in the city of Kingston.

THE GIRLS are divided into three age groups: Brownies, aged 7 to 10; Intermediates, 10 to 14, and Seniors, 14 to 17 years.

Adult leaders registered in the county total 165, including 54 leaders and assistants in Kingston city troops. Another 197 adult committee members are registered, of whom 59 are Kingston women.

Active in community life, Girl Scouts last year participated in such projects as baby sitting on Election Day, making favors, layettes and cancer pads, visiting patients at local hospitals. A city-wide choral group formed last year under the direction of Mrs. William E. Rylance cheered patients at the hospitals during Easter and Christmas vacations.

REORGANIZED last year according to the recommendation of the national office, the county council is composed of 14 subdivisions known as neighborhoods. Kingston city is divided into three neighborhoods, each entitled to one representative on the county-wide board.

The board, which transacts business between the annual council membership meetings, consists of the neighborhood representatives, representation from each of the eight functional committees, three members-at-large, and the officers. Of the total board membership of 30, there are 10 women from the city of Kingston.

BEFORE the Community Chest was established in Kingston, the Girl Scouts conducted fund drives throughout the county, with each subdivision retaining for its own use one-quarter of the money collected in its area and forwarding to the county council the remaining three-fourths for use in providing administrative services for Scouts in the entire county.

Outside the city, where separate fund drives are still conducted, the same practice continues. In Kingston and its immediate vicinity, the Chest appropriation is made directly to the council, which in turn credits one-fourth of the amount to the use of city neighborhoods, according to Mrs. Donovan Buehring, council president. Although the council actually disburses the funds, each neighborhood may authorize bills up to the amount allotted it, Mrs. Buehring indicated.

THE TOTAL estimated council budget for 1956 is $33,000. Of this sum, it is estimated that

Chairmen Disagree On Ike Again in '56

Chicago, Sept. 20 (AP)—The chairman of the Republican National Committee says he believes President Eisenhower will be a candidate for re-election but the Democratic national chairman predicts he will not run again.

Leonard W. Hall, the GOP chairman, and Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler, expressed their views to newsmen in interviews yesterday.

HALL SAID he feels certain Eisenhower will be a candidate and announce his 1956 plans "well in advance" of the Republican national convention in San Francisco in August.

"I'm organizing on the basis that he will run again," Hall said. "I think it will be the same ticket as in 1952, with Ike and Nixon. We're going to have the most popular candidate in history at our convention. We've got the issues and we've got the climate for victory—peace and prosperity."

THE GOP CHAIRMAN said that "every Republican leader I come in contact with is so anxious that President Eisenhower make the race again that it isn't necessary to add anything to sustain their interests in advance of the GOP convention."

Butler, told of Hall's remarks, said the GOP chairman was "whistling in the dark."

"I don't blame Mr. Hall," Butler said. "If I were in his shoes, I would feel the same way. But I don't believe Eisenhower will run. I don't believe he is happy as President. He doesn't appear to be enjoying the responsibility of the office. He's probably spending less time at the job than any President in the 20th century."

BUTLER ALSO mentioned "family considerations," referring to his statement earlier this year that Mrs. Eisenhower was in poor health. Butler added that he "got hell" for that statement.

Hall was in Chicago for a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican National convention arangements committee.

Butler attended a meeting of the Democratic Advisory Committee on Agriculture. The committee of farm leaders said that

President Asks Public Call for Modern Roads

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower today called on an organization of motoring-minded citizens to "speak up again and again for prompt action on a highway system adequate for modern living."

Eisenhower, whose multi-billion dollar highway improvement program was rejected by Congress earlier this year, made the suggestion in a message to the 53rd annual convention of the American Automobile Assn. (AAA), an organization whose aim is to improve driving conditions. The group claims 4,800,000 members, mostly passenger car owners.

"The members of your association know from experience how urgently needed is a road system in pace with our expanding population," the President said. "Economic growth must not be stunted by a creeping paralysis of traffic.

"Motoring convenience, safe driving and national security must not be checked by a lack of roads. A modern road system is one of our great national needs," he continued.

"I hope all of you will continue to speak up again and again for prompt action on a highway system adequate for modern living."

His brief message today included no specific details.

Eisenhower proposed to Congress last winter the construction of a vast network of interstate superhighways, to be financed by a special bond issue which would not be charged against the national debt. He also proposed a new federal corporation to issue the bonds.

But congressional Democrats — and some Republicans — opposed the financing proposals.

France to Remove Sultan For Regency in Morocco

Paris, Sept. 20 (AP)—France today officially resolved to remove the sultan of Morocco and replace him with a three-man regency for an indefinite period of governmental reform.

In a stormy, three-hour meeting the French cabinet authorized Premier Edgar Faure and his minister for Moroccan and Tunisian Affairs, Pierre July, to name the three regents.

This decision was taken when the French nominee, Gen. Mohammed Si Kittani Ben Hammon, formally refused a post as regent.

Both Faure and July told newsmen that they would make their choice of regents today and include this in detailed instructions to the French resident general, Pierre Boyer de Latour du Moulin.

"The government instructed the minister of Tunisian and Moroccan Affairs (himself) to draft today detailed and precise instructions which will be given to the resident general in order to settle all pending issues. The government has also approved the text of a formal statement of policy concerning Morocco. This text will be released later."

The cabinet's decision to allow Faure and July to pick the regents ended days of debate

Harriman Says Federal Aid Is School Solution

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—New York Gov. Averell Harriman urges wide federal aid to education and says nothing but that can solve the critical problem.

He says the crisis of deteriorating schools is too huge to be solved by local or state governments alone.

Harriman spoke last night before 800 community, labor, business and school leaders at the New York State Conference on Education dinner.

THE TWO-DAY meeting, which ends today, is a prelude to the White House conference on education to be held in Washington Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

Harriman, who urged a program of federal aid on both the school and college levels, said American schools are "slipping backward."

The governor, former ambassador to Moscow, added that the Soviet Union is outstripping this country in education, especially in the training of scientists and engineers.

HE ALSO URGED a national program of federal scholarships to pay the cost of a college education for qualified students who cannot afford it. "The program," he stated, "should cover all fields, not merely those relating to national defense."

Harriman said federal aid to education would not infringe on states' rights and would not lead to thought control. He added that the federal aid should be an addition to, and not a substitute for local effort.

Harriman said it is possible to have federal aid without federal control.

Stang Primary 449, Edelmuth Vote 238

A tabulation of the vote cast at the annual Primary Day election on Tuesday, September 13, reveals no contests and an unusually heavy vote as predicted.

The total number of votes cast by enrolled voters of the Republican party in the city and county was 2,635, while members of the Democratic party cast a total of 264 votes and the greatest number of votes by the Liberals was 5.

IN THE CITY of Kingston there were 509 votes cast by members of the Republican party. Mayor Frederick H. Stang received a total of 448; John J. Schwenk, candidate for alderman-at-large received 449, the balance being void.

In the county and city the Republican candidates for county office polled large votes. Louis G. Bruhn, candidate for county judge, received 1959 votes out of a total of 2635; Howard C. St. John, district attorney, received 1965; Albert N. Cook, candidate for county treasurer, received a total of 1946 and Charles Rosenstock, candidate for coroner, received 1938.

OF THE 264 votes cast by Democrats in the city William F. Edelmuth, Democratic candidate received 234; Harry A. Flowers, Jr., candidate for alderman-at-large, received 230.

The totals in the city and county for county office gives William A. Kelly, candidate for county judge on the Democratic ticket a total of 747 out of the 857 votes cast. William A. Kaercher, candidate for district attorneys received 730 out of the 857 cast and Henry L. Schipp,

Two Women Released By Red Chinese Today

Hong Kong, Sept. 20 (AP)—The first stage in the repatriation of 41 American civilians from Communist China neared completion today with the release of two American women missionaries after 4½ years' imprisonment.

The women were Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, a native of Tennille, Ga., and Miss Dorothy Middleton, 34, Cicero, Ill. Miss Perkins is a Presbyterian, Miss Middleton a Lutheran who worked at a leper colony.

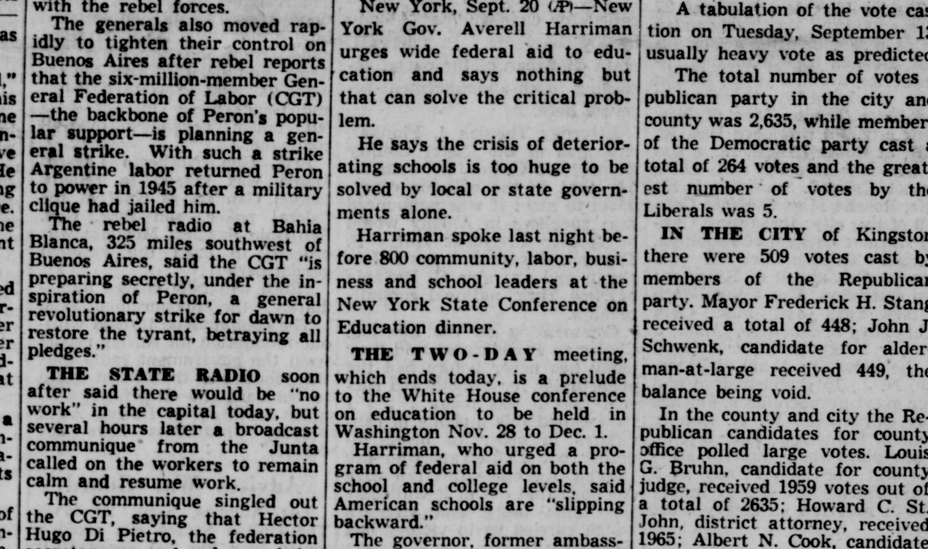
Of the 10 Americans the Communists announced would be freed from jail or house arrest, only Dilmus T. Kanady, a cotton dealer from Houston, Tex., remained to come across.

The Reds also have said that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China and that machinery had been set up to provide the "expeditious" release of 19 others under detention. None of these has arrived yet in the free world.

The women missionaries were the only American passengers on the daily train from Communist Canton. As they crossed the 200-foot freedom bridge to British territory, they were met by U. S. Vice Consul Robert Aylward, Hong Kong Police Supt. A. L. Gordon and American and British Red Cross officials.

"I have a lot to thank the Lord for," Miss Middleton said.

"It's so good to be on free soil," said Miss Perkins.



ARRANGE MURPHY TESTIMONIAL—Initial plans for the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association testimonial dinner scheduled Thursday, Oct. 27, for retired Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy were made during a meeting Monday night at the Central Fire Station. The dinner will be held at municipal auditorium and upwards of 500 volunteers are expected to be on hand. Making the plans seated (l-r) are Ray Radel, secretary; Thomas Coughlin, president; Ed Kolts, treasurer, and James Locke, member of the speakers committee; standing (l-r) Donald Matthews, Union Hose; James K. Ryan, Tenth Ward alderman; Anthony Denton, Wicks Engine Co.; Francis Cashin, Union; Henry Ulrich, Weiner; John Flannery, Twaalfskill and John Donnelly, Excelsior. Craft Buys Route 28 Site For Development Purpose

The Donald W. Johnson property on Route 28 on the Kingston side of the Sunset Drive-in Theatre has been sold to Raymond E. Craft, Kingston real estate business broker, it was announced today.

The land, known for many years as the Wilde property, will be used for a "sizeable development," Mr. Craft said. He explained that the tract, may be developed as a motor court, trailer park, drive-in restaurant or similar commercial enterprise or combination of enterprises.

Filling and grading of the property, located a short distance from the Thruway interchange at Kingston, will begin shortly.

Mr. Craft, who has figured prominently in a number of important real estate deals in the area within the past two years, said he was highly optimistic in regard to the commercial future of Route 28 in the vicinity of the Thruway and considered the Johnson property an "excellent commercial location."

The tract, which is more than 300 feet deep, is the site of an old stone house, now used by Mr. Johnson as a residence and antique shop. A large barn and a shed where the antiques are displayed is also located on the property.

Mr. Johnson is planning to move to Woodstock where he will establish residence and reopen his antique business, it was reported.

A JUNTA of generals took command of the government as a climax to the four-day revolt that overthrew Peron. They quickly announced peace talks with the rebel forces.

The generals also moved rapidly to tighten their control on Buenos Aires after rebel reports that the six-million-member General Federation of Labor (CGT)—the backbone of Peron's popular support—is planning a general strike. With such a strike Argentine labor returned Peron to power in 1945 after a military clique had jailed him.

The rebel radio at Bahia Blanca, 325 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, said the CGT "is preparing secretly, under the inspiration of Peron, a general revolutionary strike for dawn to restore the tyrant, betraying all pledges."

Harriman Says Federal Aid Is School Solution

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—New York Gov. Averell Harriman urges wide federal aid to education and says nothing but that can solve the critical problem.

He says the crisis of deteriorating schools is too huge to be solved by local or state governments alone.

Harriman spoke last night before 800 community, labor, business and school leaders at the New York State Conference on Education dinner.

THE TWO-DAY meeting, which ends today, is a prelude to the White House conference on education to be held in Washington Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

Harriman, who urged a program of federal aid on both the school and college levels, said American schools are "slipping backward."

The governor, former ambassador to Moscow, added that the Soviet Union is outstripping this country in education, especially in the training of scientists and engineers.

HE ALSO URGED a national program of federal scholarships to pay the cost of a college education for qualified students who cannot afford it. "The program," he stated, "should cover all fields, not merely those relating to national defense."

Harriman said federal aid to education would not infringe on states' rights and would not lead to thought control. He added that the federal aid should be an addition to, and not a substitute for local effort.

Harriman said it is possible to have federal aid without federal control.

Stang Primary 449, Edelmuth Vote 238

A tabulation of the vote cast at the annual Primary Day election on Tuesday, September 13, reveals no contests and an unusually heavy vote as predicted.

The total number of votes cast by enrolled voters of the Republican party in the city and county was 2,635, while members of the Democratic party cast a total of 264 votes and the greatest number of votes by the Liberals was 5.

IN THE CITY of Kingston there were 509 votes cast by members of the Republican party. Mayor Frederick H. Stang received a total of 448; John J. Schwenk, candidate for alderman-at-large received 449, the balance being void.

In the county and city the Republican candidates for county office polled large votes. Louis G. Bruhn, candidate for county judge, received 1959 votes out of a total of 2635; Howard C. St. John, district attorney, received 1965; Albert N. Cook, candidate for county treasurer, received a total of 1946 and Charles Rosenstock, candidate for coroner, received 1938.

OF THE 264 votes cast by Democrats in the city William F. Edelmuth, Democratic candidate received 234; Harry A. Flowers, Jr., candidate for alderman-at-large, received 230.

The totals in the city and county for county office gives William A. Kelly, candidate for county judge on the Democratic ticket a total of 747 out of the 857 votes cast. William A. Kaercher, candidate for district attorneys received 730 out of the 857 cast and Henry L. Schipp,

Two Women Released By Red Chinese Today

Hong Kong, Sept. 20 (AP)—The first stage in the repatriation of 41 American civilians from Communist China neared completion today with the release of two American women missionaries after 4½ years' imprisonment.

The women were Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, a native of Tennille, Ga., and Miss Dorothy Middleton, 34, Cicero, Ill. Miss Perkins is a Presbyterian, Miss Middleton a Lutheran who worked at a leper colony.

Of the 10 Americans the Communists announced would be freed from jail or house arrest, only Dilmus T. Kanady, a cotton dealer from Houston, Tex., remained to come across.

The Reds also have said that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China and that machinery had been set up to provide the "expeditious" release of 19 others under detention. None of these has arrived yet in the free world.

The women missionaries were the only American passengers on the daily train from Communist Canton. As they crossed the 200-foot freedom bridge to British territory, they were met by U. S. Vice Consul Robert Aylward, Hong Kong Police Supt. A. L. Gordon and American and British Red Cross officials.

"I have a lot to thank the Lord for," Miss Middleton said. "It's so good to be on free soil," said Miss Perkins.

Caution Is Urged For New England

(By The Associated Press)

Storm-jittery northeastern states heaved a huge sigh of relief today as skittish Hurricane Ione headed out to sea after a final flutter just offshore at Norfolk, Va.

Near noon the Washington weather bureau said the tempest was well out in the Atlantic and moving away from the coast. Ione's position was pegged at 200 miles east of Norfolk.

However, to be on the safe side, the bureau cautioned most of the New England coast to stay on the alert lest winds from the erratic Ione cause trouble.

BEFORE HEADING seaward, the storm had taken at least five lives—all in North Carolina—and caused property damages of millions in the same state. Some crops were badly hit.

Heavy rains fell in Virginia, and hard winds were felt at many points along the northeastern seaboard.

Although New York city felt little effect, the world championship fight between Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore at Yankee Stadium was postponed.

It will go on tomorrow night if the weather permits. Otherwise it will be delayed until Thursday night.

Promoters feared that uncertain weather conditions so near fight time might hurt the gate, particularly with many fans due from out of town.

AS HURRICANE IONE went swirling off to the east, an older sister, Hilda, died out early today in the rugged north central mountains of Mexico.

However, Hilda all but wrecked the city of Tampico, an oil port on the Gulf of Mexico. There were at least 12 persons killed, 350 injured and 15,000 left homeless.

Several additional cities were hard hit, and torrential rains still were expected in some parts of Mexico.

Ione, with her wind-power down to only about half the original force of 120 miles an hour, thrashed about for several hours early today off Norfolk and then took off for the open sea.

ONCE UNDER WAY, her forward movement was about 12 miles an hour.

The northeast was savagely assaulted by floods touched off by Hurricane Diance a month ago, and had eyed Ione's approach with gravest misgivings.

Diane's floods took nearly 200 lives and wrecked property worth billions.

However, as noon neared, weather men had all but written off the possibility that Ione would veer back toward the coast.

Strong northwest winds from Block Island to Cape Hatteras, N. C., were the worst effect expected.

IONE, THE SEASON'S ninth hurricane and whose name means "to go" in Greek, was the most unpredictable of this year's tropic-spawned storms.

At every stage it was difficult to tell where she's head next. As a consequence, the whole eastern seaboard was kept in a state of nervous tension.

While the death and damage toll was far less than in some previous storms, it might have

Craft Buys Route 28 Site For Development Purpose

The Donald W. Johnson property on Route 28 on the Kingston side of the Sunset Drive-in Theatre has been sold to Raymond E. Craft, Kingston real estate business broker, it was announced today.

The land, known for many years as the Wilde property, will be used for a "sizeable development," Mr. Craft said. He explained that the tract, may be developed as a motor court, trailer park, drive-in restaurant or similar commercial enterprise or combination of enterprises.

Filling and grading of the property, located a short distance from the Thruway interchange at Kingston, will begin shortly.

Mr. Craft, who has figured prominently in a number of important real estate deals in the area within the past two years, said he was highly optimistic in regard to the commercial future of Route 28 in the vicinity of the Thruway and considered the Johnson property an "excellent commercial location."

The tract, which is more than 300 feet deep, is the site of an old stone house, now used by Mr. Johnson as a residence and antique shop. A large barn and a shed where the antiques are displayed is also located on the property.

Mr. Johnson is planning to move to Woodstock where he will establish residence and reopen his antique business, it was reported.

Charles Katz, 68, Victim of Heart Attack on Street

Charles Katz, 68, of 41 Janet street dropped dead at approximately 11:15 a. m. today in front of a residence at 110 Pearl street.

According to Coroner Francis J. McCardle the man apparently suffered a heart attack and he was pronounced dead by Dr. Harry C. McNamara who was called to the scene.

Coroner McCardle said that from the information he was able to obtain that the victim lived at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia Katz at 41 Janet street and had been under the care of his physician for a heart condition.

The funeral will be held on Thursday from the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home, 88 West Cester street at a time to be announced.

Deckhand Dies Between Barges

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—A 25-year-old deck hand was crushed fatally between two barges in the East river off 91st street early today after he fell in attempting to jump from one to the other.

Thomas J. Duffy, of 251 Cypress avenue, the Bronx, died in City Hospital at 2:45 a. m., about an hour after the accident.

Duffy was employed aboard the barge "Gene Pope," operated by the Bronx Towing Line Inc.

Albert Connard, captain of the "Gene Pope," pulled Duffy from the river.

Reserves Decision

Riverhead, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Suffolk County Surrogate Edgar F. Hazelton has reserved decision on the petition of Mrs. Dora K. Blowers who is seeking a third of the estate of the late millionaire William K. Vanderbilt. In reserving decision after further testimony yesterday, Hazelton gave opposing attorneys 30 days in which to submit briefs. The estate is estimated at 40 million dollars.

Charge Dismissed At Court Hearing

A charge of second degree robbery brought against Lionel Coddington of 109 Hunter street by Theodore Hinkley was dismissed in City Court today after Hinkley, who lives on one of the Reliance barges, failed to substantiate the charge.

Immediately after Judge Raymond Mino had dismissed the robbery charge, a warrant was sworn out by Hinkley charging Coddington with assault, third degree, and that matter was adjourned one week for trial and bail was fixed at $50.

Hinkley charged that he had been assaulted and robbed on the early morning of September 17 after he and Coddington had gone to the barge. Complainant charged that he had been struck and threatened and a sum of money taken.

AT THE preliminary hearing in City Court Hinkley testified as to the happenings and at the close of the testimony Judge Mino dismissed the robbery charge.

John Gotelli appeared for The People and had Hinkley swear out a warrant for Coddington's arrest on the assault, third degree, charge. Hubert Richter appeared for Coddington, who entered a plea of not guilty and asked for an adjournment.

State Leader Calls Democrats

A statewide meeting of Democratic candidates has been called for October 7 at Albany by Michael H. Prendergast, state chairman of the party, according to an announcement received here.

Attorney Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, said today that in the call for candidates to meet it was announced that speakers in Albany would be former President Harry S. Truman, Governor Averell Harriman and Carmine G. DeSapio of New York, national committeeman.

Commenting on the meeting, Chairman Prendergast said "our party has never before had the opportunity for growth and success that it has today . . . I have called this meeting of candidates in order to bring together our Democrats who are running for office this fall with the hope that out of it will come the same unity and strength which carried us to victory last November."

Chairman Plunket is working out transportation details. He said he would welcome calls at his office concerning the event.

Big Strike . . .

representatives of the provisional government had gone abroad the cruiser in the River Plate off Buenos Aires. Fog and rain shrouded the vessel.

The army commander in chief, Gen. Jose Domingo Molina, appeared to be the new leader of the Junta which took over the reins of government after Peron's resignation yesterday.

Molina was mentioned today as the Junta president, whereas previous announcements had listed only three other members in the group: Gen. Emilio Forcher, commander of interior forces; Brig. Gen. Carlos Wirrth, chief of staff, and Gen. Angel Juan Mani.

IN SWEEPING CHANGES, the Junta named leading army men to replace Peron appointees at the head of the nation's police forces.

An announcement said Division General Felix M. Robles had resigned as director of national security and been replaced by Division Gen. Andelino Bergallo, commander of the 3rd Army and head of the Buenos Aires garrison. "Military, police and Gendarmerie forces" were put under Bergallo's over-all command.

Brig. Gen. Norberto Leoncio Mania was named to replace Miguel Gamboa as chief of the federal police, and Brig. Gen. Benjamin Sanchez Mendoza was ordered to head the national gendarmerie.

"Both will take charge immediately," the announcement said.

The communique termed without foundation an earlier report from the government radio that the rebels had threatened again to bombard the oil refineries 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires because "hostilities have not ceased."

Advises War Guard

Los Angeles, Sept. 20 (AP)—The United States can avoid a major war for 200 years if it keeps its guard up, says former Navy Secretary Dan Kimball. Kaiser Wilhelm, Hitler, Tojo and the Chinese Communists were tempted to attack the United States because of our lack of military forces Kimball told a meeting of the American Rocket Society yesterday. Kimball said the United States has assumed the world role once asserted by England of keeping small wars from spreading. "We won't have two years to get ready for the next one," Kimball warned. "We'll be lucky if we have two weeks."

Seeks Transport Changes

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—A spokesman for major railroads today urged changes in basic transportation laws which he said have created an "indefensible situation" benefitting truck and barge carriers. J. Carter Fort of Washington, vice president and general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, told a House Commerce subcommittee the association supports in general recommendations of a presidential advisory committee on transport policy. The subcommittee is holding hearings on the committee's report preliminary to possible actoin in the next session of Congress to revise transportation regulatory policy.

GOP Will Have Buses for Picnic

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, has extended a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the picnic.

Ferry Union Votes To Keep Running

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Union employes of the Newburgh-Beacon ferry voted yesterday to continue working under an old contract until Jan. 31, 1956, to enable the state legislature to take any action it might deem necessary on the announced abandonment of the line.

Members of Local 33 of the AFL United Marine Division, by a vote of 34 to 13, thus overruled the recommendation of a union committee last week that they refuse to work without a new contract. The old contract expired July 31.

The ferry company had set Sept. 30 as a closing date but said, however, that it would continue to operate the ferry line under the old contract until Jan. 31, if the union membership agreed.

Proposals have been made that the state take over the Hudson river crossing and operate it.

William J. Hannon, attorney for the company, said the union's action was a response to a plea by Assemblyman D. Clinton Dominick III (R.-Newburgh) to continue the line to enable the legislature to step in.

Woodstock

Square Club Plans For Yule Observance

Woodstock, Sept. 20—The subject of the Christmas Eve Celebration on the village green was discussed at the regular meeting of the Woodstock Square Club Thursday night at the fire hall, in order that the committee in charge may begin to formulate plans. The members decided that the Woodstock Square Club would again act as the sponsoring group, but with a member from every organization in the town serving on the working committee.

Lewis Wilson was re-appointed chairman of the Christmas Eve Celebration and was commended on the fine job he and his committee had done in the past two years. He was unanimously chosen and will shortly name the members of his committee from the Square Club and a meeting will be held early in October to which representatives of all organizations will be invited to make suggestions and help plan the project.

Messers Bloom, Wachtel and Davis from the Olive Square Club were present and invited the members and their ladies to a Ladies Night to be held Oct. 17 at the Legion Hall in Ashokan.

The club also voted a donation of $10 to the Woodstock Recreation Committee.

The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. John Comstock of Kingston, who recently returned from Alaska where he served as a dentist under the auspices of the U. S. Dept. of the Interior.

Refreshments followed the meeting. Augustus P. Modjeska, president of the club, reported that he had a surprise speaker for the October meeting which would be announced in the near future.

Historical Society To Hear Folk Songs

Woodstock, Sept. 20 — Folk songs which have originated in this area will be sung by Barbara Moncure at the meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society at the home of Miss Alice Wardwell, at 4 p. m., on Saturday.

Mrs. Moncure will sing one of two ballads of the French-Indian War, 1763, by Philip Whitaker of Ulster county, transcribed by Mrs. Louise Hasbrouck Zimm. The ballad was discovered, hand-written, in a small manuscript notebook, among papers relating to the Whitaker family of Ulster county in the files of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society Library, 122 East 58th street, New York. Mrs. Moncure will also sing several other ballads of Catskill Mountain origin.

Another feature of the program will be a group of Woodstock photographs to be shown by Mrs. Louis Lewis who has been collecting them for several years.

Many new members will also be welcomed into the society.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—The stock market backed down in the early afternoon today for the second straight session.

Prices weren't too depressed, but the lower trend was firmly established.

Losses ranged from 1 and 3 points at the outside. Gains extended up to 2 points. Most plus signs were small.

Trading was quite moderate, at a pace that barely topped two million shares for the day. Yesterday's total was 2,390,000 shares.

Charge Dismissed At Court Hearing

A charge of second degree robbery brought against Lionel Coddington of 109 Hunter street by Theodore Hinkley was dismissed in City Court today after Hinkley, who lives on one of the Reliance barges, failed to substantiate the charge.

Immediately after Judge Raymond Mino had dismissed the robbery charge, a warrant was sworn out by Hinkley charging Coddington with assault, third degree, and that matter was adjourned one week for trial and bail was fixed at $50.

Hinkley charged that he had been assaulted and robbed on the early morning of September 17 after he and Coddington had gone to the barge. Complainant charged that he had been struck and threatened and a sum of money taken.

AT THE preliminary hearing in City Court Hinkley testified as to the happenings and at the close of the testimony Judge Mino dismissed the robbery charge.

John Gotelli appeared for The People and had Hinkley swear out a warrant for Coddington's arrest on the assault, third degree, charge. Hubert Richter appeared for Coddington, who entered a plea of not guilty and asked for an adjournment.

State Leader Calls Democrats

A statewide meeting of Democratic candidates has been called for October 7 at Albany by Michael H. Prendergast, state chairman of the party, according to an announcement received here.

Attorney Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, said today that in the call for candidates to meet it was announced that speakers in Albany would be former President Harry S. Truman, Governor Averell Harriman and Carmine G. DeSapio of New York, national committeeman.

Commenting on the meeting, Chairman Prendergast said "our party has never before had the opportunity for growth and success that it has today . . . I have called this meeting of candidates in order to bring together our Democrats who are running for office this fall with the hope that out of it will come the same unity and strength which carried us to victory last November."

Chairman Plunket is working out transportation details. He said he would welcome calls at his office concerning the event.

Mt. Tremper

Mount Tremper, Sept. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Winne Sr. and Mrs. Mabel Buley attended the Cobleskill Fair recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Odenwald of Brooklyn spent the weekend here. Long-time summer residents, the Odenwalds spent the summer at the home of Mrs. Florence Paul. Big Strike . . .

representatives of the provisional government had gone abroad the cruiser in the River Plate off Buenos Aires. Fog and rain shrouded the vessel.

The army commander in chief, Gen. Jose Domingo Molina, appeared to be the new leader of the Junta which took over the reins of government after Peron's resignation yesterday.

Molina was mentioned today as the Junta president, whereas previous announcements had listed only three other members in the group: Gen. Emilio Forcher, commander of interior forces; Brig. Gen. Carlos Wirrth, chief of staff, and Gen. Angel Juan Mani.

IN SWEEPING CHANGES, the Junta named leading army men to replace Peron appointees at the head of the nation's police forces.

An announcement said Division General Felix M. Robles had resigned as director of national security and been replaced by Division Gen. Andelino Bergallo, commander of the 3rd Army and head of the Buenos Aires garrison. "Military, police and Gendarmerie forces" were put under Bergallo's over-all command.

Brig. Gen. Norberto Leoncio Mania was named to replace Miguel Gamboa as chief of the federal police, and Brig. Gen. Benjamin Sanchez Mendoza was ordered to head the national gendarmerie.

"Both will take charge immediately," the announcement said.

The communique termed without foundation an earlier report from the government radio that the rebels had threatened again to bombard the oil refineries 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires because "hostilities have not ceased."

Advises War Guard

Los Angeles, Sept. 20 (AP)—The United States can avoid a major war for 200 years if it keeps its guard up, says former Navy Secretary Dan Kimball. Kaiser Wilhelm, Hitler, Tojo and the Chinese Communists were tempted to attack the United States because of our lack of military forces Kimball told a meeting of the American Rocket Society yesterday. Kimball said the United States has assumed the world role once asserted by England of keeping small wars from spreading. "We won't have two years to get ready for the next one," Kimball warned. "We'll be lucky if we have two weeks."

Seeks Transport Changes

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—A spokesman for major railroads today urged changes in basic transportation laws which he said have created an "indefensible situation" benefitting truck and barge carriers. J. Carter Fort of Washington, vice president and general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, told a House Commerce subcommittee the association supports in general recommendations of a presidential advisory committee on transport policy. The subcommittee is holding hearings on the committee's report preliminary to possible actoin in the next session of Congress to revise transportation regulatory policy.

GOP Will Have Buses for Picnic

The Ulster County Republican Committee will arrange for free bus transportation from Kingston to Sportsmen's Park next Sunday for those without other means of transportation who wish to attend the Republican county picnic.

Those wishing free bus transportation are asked to notify Bob Snyder, secretary of the County Republican Committee, in the court house on Wall street.

THE SPEAKING program starts at 2 p. m. Attorney General Jacob L. Javits will be the principal speaker.

Tickets cost a nominal sum which covers the cost of a box luncheon.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, has extended a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the picnic.

Ferry Union Votes To Keep Running

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Union employes of the Newburgh-Beacon ferry voted yesterday to continue working under an old contract until Jan. 31, 1956, to enable the state legislature to take any action it might deem necessary on the announced abandonment of the line.

Members of Local 33 of the AFL United Marine Division, by a vote of 34 to 13, thus overruled the recommendation of a union committee last week that they refuse to work without a new contract. The old contract expired July 31.

The ferry company had set Sept. 30 as a closing date but said, however, that it would continue to operate the ferry line under the old contract until Jan. 31, if the union membership agreed.

Proposals have been made that the state take over the Hudson river crossing and operate it.

William J. Hannon, attorney for the company, said the union's action was a response to a plea by Assemblyman D. Clinton Dominick III (R.-Newburgh) to continue the line to enable the legislature to step in.

Woodstock

Square Club Plans For Yule Observance

Woodstock, Sept. 20—The subject of the Christmas Eve Celebration on the village green was discussed at the regular meeting of the Woodstock Square Club Thursday night at the fire hall, in order that the committee in charge may begin to formulate plans. The members decided that the Woodstock Square Club would again act as the sponsoring group, but with a member from every organization in the town serving on the working committee.

Lewis Wilson was re-appointed chairman of the Christmas Eve Celebration and was commended on the fine job he and his committee had done in the past two years. He was unanimously chosen and will shortly name the members of his committee from the Square Club and a meeting will be held early in October to which representatives of all organizations will be invited to make suggestions and help plan the project.

Messers Bloom, Wachtel and Davis from the Olive Square Club were present and invited the members and their ladies to a Ladies Night to be held Oct. 17 at the Legion Hall in Ashokan.

The club also voted a donation of $10 to the Woodstock Recreation Committee.

The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. John Comstock of Kingston, who recently returned from Alaska where he served as a dentist under the auspices of the U. S. Dept. of the Interior.

Refreshments followed the meeting. Augustus P. Modjeska, president of the club, reported that he had a surprise speaker for the October meeting which would be announced in the near future.

Historical Society To Hear Folk Songs

Woodstock, Sept. 20 — Folk songs which have originated in this area will be sung by Barbara Moncure at the meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society at the home of Miss Alice Wardwell, at 4 p. m., on Saturday.

Mrs. Moncure will sing one of two ballads of the French-Indian War, 1763, by Philip Whitaker of Ulster county, transcribed by Mrs. Louise Hasbrouck Zimm. The ballad was discovered, hand-written, in a small manuscript notebook, among papers relating to the Whitaker family of Ulster county in the files of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society Library, 122 East 58th street, New York. Mrs. Moncure will also sing several other ballads of Catskill Mountain origin.

Another feature of the program will be a group of Woodstock photographs to be shown by Mrs. Louis Lewis who has been collecting them for several years.

Many new members will also be welcomed into the society.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—The stock market backed down in the early afternoon today for the second straight session.

Prices weren't too depressed, but the lower trend was firmly established.

Losses ranged from 1 and 3 points at the outside. Gains extended up to 2 points. Most plus signs were small.

Trading was quite moderate, at a pace that barely topped two million shares for the day. Yesterday's total was 2,390,000 shares.

Motorists Urged To Get Operator Renewals Early

Renewal of operators' licenses this week is urged by County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft, who yesterday said the best way to avoid a long wait in line was to "shop early" and not wait until the last minute.

Operator licenses expiring this month must be renewed by Sept. 30. The local motor vehicle bureau office on Main street will be closed all day Saturday, Oct. 1, and for those who intend to operate their car over next week's weekend will have to get renewals by Friday, Sept. 30, to legally drive after that date.

There are a number of new questions being asked on renewal blanks, which incidentally cost $3 this year, double the prior cost. In filling out renewal applications all questions must be answered and the expiring stub of the previous license must be submitted with the application for renewal.

Carl Milles Dies

Stockholm, Sweden, Sept. 20 (AP)—One of modern sculpture's towering figures, 80-year-old Carl Milles, died at his home here last night. The Swedish-born artist had become a U. S. citizen in 1945. Milles worked in the United States from 1929 to the end of World War 2, when he moved to Rome. His sculptures are in most west European capitals and in many U. S. cities, including New York, St. Paul, Minn., St. Louis, Mo., and Wilmington, Del. He was an honorary member of the American Institute of Architects, American League of Architects, American Academy of Arts and letters, and the Royal Academy of Britain.

Truck Driver Is Held in 3 Deaths On State Thruway

Rome, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—A New Jersey truck driver was held today for grand jury action on a charge of criminal negligence in connection with a truck-automobile crash that took three lives on the state thruway last Tuesday.

Frederick B. Thomas, 39, of West Keansburg, was arrested yesterday after a coroner's inquest. He waived examination last night when arraigned before Peace Justice Raymond Yahnke at Sylvan Beach. No plea was entered. Yahnke ordered Thomas held in the Oneida county jail.

THOMAS TESTIFIED at the inquest that he had been traveling about 45 miles per hour just before his tractor-trailer struck a car that had stopped on the shoulder of the expressway. Two women in it and a highway worker standing outside lost their lives.

Thomas said he had swerved to avoid another car that halted at a construction job. The driver of that car, Paul Tanner of Rochester, a newspaperman, testified that he had stopped and driven onto the grass mall. Tanner declared that the car in front of him was stopped and that the truck behind him gave no indication of stopping.

Thomas said that after swerving away from Tanner's car he was waved to the other side of the strip by a flagman. He said he first noticed the second car when he turned again. It was set afire when the truck crashed into it.

Miss Joan Donovan, 22, the driver, and her sister, Mary, 20, were burned to death. The girls lived in Rochester and Nunda. Leslie Lohr, 34, of Durhamville, also was killed.

Thomas suffered leg injuries. He waived immunity before giving evidence.

CORONER Thomas A. Cox recommended that the grand jury investigate in view of what he described as contradictory evidence received at the inquest.

Cox voiced hope that "some recommendations will come forth which will make all users of the thruway better protected. Most of the coroner's witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Thursday.

Tanner, Sunday editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, declared that he had signalled through the automatic flashing of his rear lights and with a hand signal when he stepped on the brakes to slow his car when he came upon construction warning signs near the Verona thruway interchange.

FRANCIS O'CONNOR, 39, of Rome, another witness, stated that Lohr noticed the stopped Donovan car after he had come to relieve O'Connor as flagman. He quoted Lohr as saying he would go to see why it had stopped.

O'Connor said he flagged Thomas' truck from the right lane to the passing lane. He said he could not remember whether Tanner's car was on the pavement or the mall.

Simplified Form Approved by SBA For Disaster Aid

John R. Glassford, chief of the Small Business Administration's emergency disaster loan office in Kingston, today announced that the agency has approved a simplified, one-page application form designed to speed up the making of disaster home loans up to $2,000.

Under its disaster loan authority, the SBA has the responsibility for making 3 per cent loans to assist in the rehabilitation of homes and businesses that have been damaged or destroyed in natural catastrophes such as floods, windstorms, fires and earthquakes.

Mr. Glassford pointed out that a large number of the disaster loans made by the SBA are for small amounts often a few hundred dollars, to help home owners repair their homes or replace ruined household effects. He said:

"THERE IS NO need in such cases to require the use of the longer type of form necessary in loans to businesses, or to persons who require substantial sums to rehabilitate their property.

"In order to avoid needless delay and to lighten the burden imposed both on the applicant and the government, we have designed the new one-page loan application form to be used in disaster loans to home owners when the amount requested is less than $2,000. The procedures for processing this simplified form have also been streamlined.

"In additional moves designed to speed up our disaster loan program, the agency has already granted authority to the regional offices to approve disaster loans up to $50,000 and the emergency disaster loan offices have authority to approve loans up to $20,000."

Mr. Glassford said that since most of the agency's disaster loans are for amounts less than $50,000, the great bulk of the disaster loans can be handled in the field, and only the larger loans will be reviewed in Washington.

Abbot Dies

Piffard, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Dom M. Gerard McGinley, O.C.S.O., abbot of Our Lady of the Genesee Abbey, died yesterday at Citeaux, France, where he was attending a meeting of Trappists-Cictercian abbots. He was 49. Dom McGinley's death was announced by a spokesman at the abbey here.

Changes His Plea To Guilty of 2nd Degree Arson

Arthur M. DeWitt, 23, of Walker Valley, who was charged with setting fire to a bungalow at Tillson Lake last may, changed a former plea of innocent to one of guilty to arson second degree, Monday afternoon in County court. The charge made by State Police at the time of the arrest was that DeWitt had set fire to the summer home of Isaac Rothenberg, New York attorney, and also that he had set several brush fires in the Walker Valley area and also set fire to a parked automobile.

William D. Brinnier appeared for the defendant and Judge William A. Kelly postponed imposition of sentence until September 26 at 2 p. m. in order to get a probation report. DeWitt was remanded to jail,

The case of Daniel Pope, charged with possession of policy slips last January 7, had his case put over the term due to illness.

Henry L. Kemmerer, formerly of Kingston, who now resides in Sullivan county, had a grand larceny charge dismissed on motion of his counsel, Raymond Mino. A letter from LaGuardia Sons, by who the defendant was employed, asked that the charge be dismissed since full restitution had been made. Bail was exonerated and Judge Kelly directed that all photographs and finger prints taken of defendant be returned to him.

James Plunket was assigned as counsel to Dominic DeMarco, charged with extortion.

Edward James Bambrick, 67, of Newark, N. J., entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving and his license will be revoked. Joseph M. Campbell appeared and told the court the defendant had paid for all damage done at the time the charge was lodged. He was originally charged with driving a car while intoxicated but District Attorney St. John said the blood count taken at the time of the arrest showed so low an alcoholic count that it would perhaps be difficult to establish intoxication. A fine of $100 was paid and a 6 months jail sentence was suspended. Bail was exonerated.

P. O. Still in Red

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Post Office Department said today it ended the 1955 fiscal year $362,700,000 in the red. Releasing its annual financial report, the department said this was an improvement of $29,200,000 over the previous fiscal year which ended with a postal deficit of $361,900,000 The department noted that the deficit as of June 30—the end of fiscal 1955—was 47 per cent below the record deficit of fiscal 1952—$682,400,000.

Onteora School Is Formulating Disaster Plans

The Onteora Central School Board of Education announced that disaster plans are being prepared in order to know what to do to protect the lives of Onteora students and property of the local school district in the event of a hurricane or a flood.

Written instructions are almost complete for distribution to parents, students and school personnel throughout the district. The written plans cover detailed instructions for four emergency periods: Pre-emergency, direct emergency, transitional emergency and the terminal emergency period.

A SPOKESMAN for the board said, "weather bureau officials have indicated more bad storms are due in the east during September and October — heavy rains and maybe floods. Apparently there is a new normal hurricane path chartered and expectable. Minor shifts can be expected from these storm paths which might seriously affect our area."

He further said, "the board is investigating the advisability of making its physical facilities and transportation equipment available to stricken areas adjacent to and bordering on the Onteora school district which in itself covers 1150 square miles in Ulster county. We are primarily interested in assuring the parents of our students that the board is fully awake to such eventualities."

Copies of this plan will be made available to other schools and boards of education in the area if requested. The plans were written by John H. Moehle, former coordinator for Civil Defense for Schools in New York state. Moehle was instrumental in organizing the Civil Defense programs for the schools of this state.

The board expects to adopt the plans at its next monthly meeting on Oct. 4.

ROKs Arrest Spy

Seoul, Sept. 20 (AP)—South Korea today announced the arrest of a North Korean spy and identified him as a younger brother of North Korean Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, former senior Communist delegate to the Military Armistice Commission and now North Korean ambasador to Russia. The ROK army Counter Intelligence Corps (CIC) identified him in a formal announcement as Lee Sang Hwan, 27, "genuine younger brother" of Lee. Later, however, a CIC spokesman said the suspect was a cousin of the North Korean general. The discrepancy was not explained.

Motorists Urged To Get Operator Renewals Early

Renewal of operators' licenses this week is urged by County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft, who yesterday said the best way to avoid a long wait in line was to "shop early" and not wait until the last minute.

Operator licenses expiring this month must be renewed by Sept. 30. The local motor vehicle bureau office on Main street will be closed all day Saturday, Oct. 1, and for those who intend to operate their car over next week's weekend will have to get renewals by Friday, Sept. 30, to legally drive after that date.

There are a number of new questions being asked on renewal blanks, which incidentally cost $3 this year, double the prior cost. In filling out renewal applications all questions must be answered and the expiring stub of the previous license must be submitted with the application for renewal.

Carl Milles Dies

Stockholm, Sweden, Sept. 20 (AP)—One of modern sculpture's towering figures, 80-year-old Carl Milles, died at his home here last night. The Swedish-born artist had become a U. S. citizen in 1945. Milles worked in the United States from 1929 to the end of World War 2, when he moved to Rome. His sculptures are in most west European capitals and in many U. S. cities, including New York, St. Paul, Minn., St. Louis, Mo., and Wilmington, Del. He was an honorary member of the American Institute of Architects, American League of Architects, American Academy of Arts and letters, and the Royal Academy of Britain.

Truck Driver Is Held in 3 Deaths On State Thruway

Rome, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—A New Jersey truck driver was held today for grand jury action on a charge of criminal negligence in connection with a truck-automobile crash that took three lives on the state thruway last Tuesday.

Frederick B. Thomas, 39, of West Keansburg, was arrested yesterday after a coroner's inquest. He waived examination last night when arraigned before Peace Justice Raymond Yahnke at Sylvan Beach. No plea was entered. Yahnke ordered Thomas held in the Oneida county jail.

THOMAS TESTIFIED at the inquest that he had been traveling about 45 miles per hour just before his tractor-trailer struck a car that had stopped on the shoulder of the expressway. Two women in it and a highway worker standing outside lost their lives.

Thomas said he had swerved to avoid another car that halted at a construction job. The driver of that car, Paul Tanner of Rochester, a newspaperman, testified that he had stopped and driven onto the grass mall. Tanner declared that the car in front of him was stopped and that the truck behind him gave no indication of stopping.

Thomas said that after swerving away from Tanner's car he was waved to the other side of the strip by a flagman. He said he first noticed the second car when he turned again. It was set afire when the truck crashed into it.

Miss Joan Donovan, 22, the driver, and her sister, Mary, 20, were burned to death. The girls lived in Rochester and Nunda. Leslie Lohr, 34, of Durhamville, also was killed.

Thomas suffered leg injuries. He waived immunity before giving evidence.

CORONER Thomas A. Cox recommended that the grand jury investigate in view of what he described as contradictory evidence received at the inquest.

Cox voiced hope that "some recommendations will come forth which will make all users of the thruway better protected. Most of the coroner's witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Thursday.

Tanner, Sunday editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, declared that he had signalled through the automatic flashing of his rear lights and with a hand signal when he stepped on the brakes to slow his car when he came upon construction warning signs near the Verona thruway interchange.

FRANCIS O'CONNOR, 39, of Rome, another witness, stated that Lohr noticed the stopped Donovan car after he had come to relieve O'Connor as flagman. He quoted Lohr as saying he would go to see why it had stopped.

O'Connor said he flagged Thomas' truck from the right lane to the passing lane. He said he could not remember whether Tanner's car was on the pavement or the mall.

Simplified Form Approved by SBA For Disaster Aid

John R. Glassford, chief of the Small Business Administration's emergency disaster loan office in Kingston, today announced that the agency has approved a simplified, one-page application form designed to speed up the making of disaster home loans up to $2,000.

Under its disaster loan authority, the SBA has the responsibility for making 3 per cent loans to assist in the rehabilitation of homes and businesses that have been damaged or destroyed in natural catastrophes such as floods, windstorms, fires and earthquakes.

Mr. Glassford pointed out that a large number of the disaster loans made by the SBA are for small amounts often a few hundred dollars, to help home owners repair their homes or replace ruined household effects. He said:

"THERE IS NO need in such cases to require the use of the longer type of form necessary in loans to businesses, or to persons who require substantial sums to rehabilitate their property.

"In order to avoid needless delay and to lighten the burden imposed both on the applicant and the government, we have designed the new one-page loan application form to be used in disaster loans to home owners when the amount requested is less than $2,000. The procedures for processing this simplified form have also been streamlined.

"In additional moves designed to speed up our disaster loan program, the agency has already granted authority to the regional offices to approve disaster loans up to $50,000 and the emergency disaster loan offices have authority to approve loans up to $20,000."

Mr. Glassford said that since most of the agency's disaster loans are for amounts less than $50,000, the great bulk of the disaster loans can be handled in the field, and only the larger loans will be reviewed in Washington.

Abbot Dies

Piffard, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Dom M. Gerard McGinley, O.C.S.O., abbot of Our Lady of the Genesee Abbey, died yesterday at Citeaux, France, where he was attending a meeting of Trappists-Cistercian abbots. He was 49. Dom McGinley's death was announced by a spokesman at the abbey here.

Changes His Plea To Guilty of 2nd Degree Arson

Arthur M. DeWitt, 23, of Walker Valley, who was charged with setting fire to a bungalow at Tillson Lake last may, changed a former plea of innocent to one of guilty to arson second degree, Monday afternoon in County court. The charge made by State Police at the time of the arrest was that DeWitt had set fire to the summer home of Isaac Rothenberg, New York attorney, and also that he had set several brush fires in the Walker Valley area and also set fire to a parked automobile.

William D. Brinnier appeared for the defendant and Judge William A. Kelly postponed imposition of sentence until September 26 at 2 p. m. in order to get a probation report. DeWitt was remanded to jail,

The case of Daniel Pope, charged with possession of policy slips last January 7, had his case put over the term due to illness.

Henry L. Kemmerer, formerly of Kingston, who now resides in Sullivan county, had a grand larceny charge dismissed on motion of his counsel, Raymond Mino. A letter from LaGuardia Sons, by who the defendant was employed, asked that the charge be dismissed since full restitution had been made. Bail was exonerated and Judge Kelly directed that all photographs and finger prints taken of defendant be returned to him.

James Plunket was assigned as counsel to Dominic DeMarco, charged with extortion.

Edward James Bambrick, 67, of Newark, N. J., entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving and his license will be revoked. Joseph M. Campbell appeared and told the court the defendant had paid for all damage done at the time the charge was lodged. He was originally charged with driving a car while intoxicated but District Attorney St. John said the blood count taken at the time of the arrest showed so low an alcoholic count that it would perhaps be difficult to establish intoxication. A fine of $100 was paid and a 6 months jail sentence was suspended. Bail was exonerated.

P. O. Still in Red

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Post Office Department said today it ended the 1955 fiscal year $362,700,000 in the red. Releasing its annual financial report, the department said this was an improvement of $29,200,000 over the previous fiscal year which ended with a postal deficit of $361,900,000 The department noted that the deficit as of June 30—the end of fiscal 1955—was 47 per cent below the record deficit of fiscal 1952—$682,400,000.

Onteora School Is Formulating Disaster Plans

The Onteora Central School Board of Education announced that disaster plans are being prepared in order to know what to do to protect the lives of Onteora students and property of the local school district in the event of a hurricane or a flood.

Written instructions are almost complete for distribution to parents, students and school personnel throughout the district. The written plans cover detailed instructions for four emergency periods: Pre-emergency, direct emergency, transitional emergency and the terminal emergency period.

A SPOKESMAN for the board said, "weather bureau officials have indicated more bad storms are due in the east during September and October — heavy rains and maybe floods. Apparently there is a new normal hurricane path chartered and expectable. Minor shifts can be expected from these storm paths which might seriously affect our area."

He further said, "the board is investigating the advisability of making its physical facilities and transportation equipment available to stricken areas adjacent to and bordering on the Onteora school district which in itself covers 1150 square miles in Ulster county. We are primarily interested in assuring the parents of our students that the board is fully awake to such eventualities."

Copies of this plan will be made available to other schools and boards of education in the area if requested. The plans were written by John H. Moehle, former coordinator for Civil Defense for Schools in New York state. Moehle was instrumental in organizing the Civil Defense programs for the schools of this state.

The board expects to adopt the plans at its next monthly meeting on Oct. 4.

THE DEMOCRATIC NEEDLE

Publicly, of course, the Democrats must necessarily assert that they hope President Eisenhower runs again in 1956. You cannot admit that you are incapable of licking the best the opposition can offer.

In the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's day, Republicans were always telling everybody that they couldn't wait to "take on the champ." But they didn't really mean it, and neither do the Democrats now.

In their hearts they know how tough the President would be to beat, and no politician with any sense of realism wants the test at the polls to be any harder than it must.

The ironic thing is that the way the Democrats are playing it, they might prove to be a considerable factor in Mr. Eisenhower's deciding to have another go.

It is not just that they have taken off the wraps and are attacking the President personally, as wholly responsible for what they consider the damaging acts of his administration.

It is rather that they are goading him with their constant insistence that they alone understand the needs of ordinary citizens and are prepared to do anything about them. Word has it that the President is vastly annoyed at Democratic claims of a monopoly in serving the popular welfare.

This Democratic contention isn't at all new. They've been running against the "special interests" and the "princes of privilege" ever since Mr. Roosevelt's heydey.

The difference is on the other side. Mr. Eisenhower has described himself as conservative in money matters and liberal in the area of human welfare. He is plainly convinced that his administration is executing policies which serve that philosophy.

If the Democrats keep hammering this theme—and such a course would appear almost inevitable—they may find themselves with an angry contender on their hands.

A lot of people, including some quite close to Mr. Eisenhower, suggest that his sense of duty will be the final determinant in his decision to run or not to run.

But more than a few men have gone for a second term partly because they felt impelled to try to prove in a second four years the wisdom and rightness of what they did in the first four years. Pressed hard enough, the President might fall into this category.

A WOMAN'S WORLD

Engineering as a whole is commonly considered a man's subject. Electrical engineering is no exception. Yet City College of New York has just made a woman the head of its Electrical Engineering Department. Cecilia Froelich, a member of the faculty since 1942, is the first woman department head in the history of the college.

Women are daily admitted to fields previously closed to them. This trend will continue. The alarmed male wondering what will eventually become of him may look forward to the day when advertisements read, "Help Wanted. No Man Need Apply."

Men created labor saving devices to give the ladies a little leisure. This leisure time has permitted them to hop out of their houses and into careers. The ladies are just plain set on working. But someone should enjoy all those hours of leisure piling up, neglected and apparently unwanted. If the ladies insist on doing all the work, well—no shoving, men.

A BALANCED BUDGET

According to columnist Robert S. Allen, "For the first time in years, it's now very possible the federal budget may finally be balanced by next July 1."

Mr. Allen adds that an all-out economy drive is underway. It is being spark plugged by President Eisenhower, who has ordered the Budget Bureau to direct all government agencies to cut expenditures "to minimum levels and minimum costs."

If this drive succeeds, it will be the greatest thing that has happened in a long, long time to safeguard the value of our money, to lessen the chance of more inflation, and to strengthen the economic foundation on which this nation's peacetime welfare and military security rest. Let it be hoped that the American people, in whose interest the drive is being taken, have the wisdom to give it unqualified support.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE RIGHT TO WORK

One of the most important speeches at the meeting of the American Bar Association at Philadelphia was delivered by Lord Denning, Lord Justice of Appeal, of Great Britain. He was dealing with the broad subject of "The Price of Freedom." One of his points was:

"I suggest that where the law falls short is that it puts too much emphasis on the supposed contract between a man and his union and too little emphasis on his right to work. A man's right to work is just as important to him, indeed more important, than his rights of property. If his rights of property are invaded, the Courts have well known causes of action to protect him. His house, his furniture, and his investments are all well safeguarded by the law. But his right to work is left open to marauders. If he is wrongfully deprived of his right to work, the Courts should intervene to protect him. They have always protected him against wrongful dismissal by his employer. They should also protect him against wrongful exclusion by his union."

This problem must face the British as it does the American people. Without at all raising the question of the virtue of trade unionism, is it correct to ask what redress a man has who is deprived of the opportunity to earn a living because of a conflict with a particular trade union? That conflict may be over as small an issue as an infraction of a rule or as great an issue as a refusal to join. Protests are constantly being made against the unwillingness of an employer or the government to employ Communists or former Communists on the grounds that a citizen ought not to be deprived of his living, but nothing is said about a labor union blacklisting an individual. If an American is not permitted to work for any reason, is he not blacklisted?

This question of the right to work will not down; it requires some adjustment on the part of labor leaders. Samuel Gompers, who founded the American Federation of Labor, was always opposed to compulsion because it was an infraction of human liberty. Gompers, while a labor leader and perhaps the most capable that this country has ever known, believed in the voluntary society. Younger labor leaders, of whom Walter Reuther is typical, are in a terrific hurry to accomplish their ends, often forgetting, in their haste, that compulsion can ruin the nature of the American society.

Lord Denning quotes Charles Geddes, chairman of the British Trade Union Congress, on this subject:

"I do not believe the trade union movement of Great Britain can live for very much longer on the basis of compulsion. Must people belong to us or starve, whether they like our policies or not? Is that to be the future of the movement? No. I believe the trade union card is an honour to be conferred, not a badge which signifies that you have got to do something whether you like it or not. We want the right to exclude people from our union if necessary and we cannot do that on a basis of 'Belong or starve.'"

No more correct statement on the subject could be made. If the unions are to be permitted to exercise power, they must assume obligations beneficial to the whole people. If the United States is to tolerate compulsory unionism, a limitation upon freedom of choice is permitted which could not have been intended by those who wrote the Constitution because they do not permit similar limitations on freedom of choice to be exercised even by the government.

It would seem that with the tremendous success of American trade unionism, its enormous wealth and power, the time has come to reconsider the moral position of the entire movement. In Great Britain, until this year, the trade union movement was able to resist many of the unpalatable characteristics of American trade unionism. This year, the jurisdictional strike appeared there in all its ugliness and was resented by the trade unions as well as the people. It has given the British a taste of something they will not permit and it frightened the labor leaders because they know that if the British people turn on them, Parliament will pass restrictive legislation. That could happen here too.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MEDICINE'S PROCLAMATION OF FAITH

A most inspiring address was that given by Dr. Elmer Hess, president of the American Medicall Association given at the 104th annual meeting of that association. Dr. Hess feels that physicians have been too casual in seeking public understanding. "We are so interested in our work that we often fail to take the public into our confidence. We must tell the public frankly what we are doing or we cannot hope to maintain its confidence. Not so long ago, a friend in my home in Erie, Pennsylvania, complained to me about her inability to get a doctor at night. I asked her if she had tried to get one through the Erie County Medical Society's emergency call service. She replied that she had never heard of it. I knew we had made every effort to acquaint the public with this service, but apparently it was not enough. My friend was amazed that she could get a doctor on short notice through this service."

"I also think that much of our trouble comes from the fact that our medical schools have concentrated on the scientific aspects of medicine without perhaps emphasizing that we must be trained to take into the sickroom more than our scientific skill. We must allay fear, inspire confidence, and strengthen the patient's determination to get well. Unless we are willing to give of ourselves and our faith, our science will avail us little.

"Sometimes what we need most in the sickroom is not the medicine we prescribe. It is the faith and hope that we can instill in our patients. I don't care whether you are a Catholic, a Protestant, or a Jew just so long as you believe in a Power greater than all the instruments of science at your command. Faith is more than the acceptance of a creed, the practice of a religion, or the reading of a Bible. It is best expressed in that which we do every waking moment of our lives without expectation of material reward. True faith cannot be built upon a foundation of complete selfishness."

Dr. Hess outlines the steps being taken by the nation's physicians through the American Medical Association to improve the quality of care in our mental hospitals, to provide adequate hospitalization and medical care for the people who cannot afford to buy insurance against the eventuality of serious illness, to encourage the building of low-cost convalescent facilities for those who suffer from long-term illnesses, and to maintain the high standard of medical education while increasing the output of physicians and the building of more medical training facilities.

"I care not for the doctor's creed, nor his race—I care much for his belief concerning a Creator and his demonstration of that belief by his loving, tender kindness when he is called upon to alleviate human suffering."

"Aw, What's the Use?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — Colorful Nicaraguan Ambassador Sevilla-Sacasa threw probably the only party in the history of Washington society at which there was more ginger ale than booze consumed. It was a noon reception for the Washington Senators baseball team. But because they had a game that night they couldn't drink.

The Ambassador is the town's most ardent baseball fan, and in addition to wanting to bolster the team's sagging, seventh-place spirits, he was anxious for his four sons to meet the team.

It was a terrific party, and even though the team couldn't drink, they made it up by eating double portions of turkey, chicken, ham, potato salad and French pastry.

That night the Senators lost to the Chicago White Sox and committed four errors. Next morning manager Chuck Dressen called the Ambassador to assure him that the guacamole salad, also served to the team, had nothing to do with the loss.

"Just one of those nights when we were all thumbs," Dressen said.

THE BOSTON RED SOX, by the way, will win the American League pennant race, was Seville-Sacasa's risky prediction. And the Ambassador confidently predicted that the Dodgers will take the series.

THE TONE OF men's fashions here will generally sag when Pakistan Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali goes back home. He'll take with him his fabulous collection of about two dozen jewel-encrusted vests. At his last farewell party he sported his favorite white brocade job which is trimmed with blue silk and has white diamonds for buttons.

THE YOUNG COCKTAIL set in Georgetown is developing a new lingo all its own. When a demure, college-bred government girl pouts, "He's such a grunt," she's referring to some poor jerk who left a party before three in the morning and didn't have the sense to wear a gray flannel suit.

Here are other words from their banter with translations:

Shot: A can of beer.

Shop: Someone's house or apartment.

Tweed: The ideal guy equipped with striped tie, vest and foreign car.

Groan: Much the same as grunt.

Bath house: Home with a swimming pool.

To crank up: To awaken someone who passed out the night before.

A NEW REPUBLICAN official came into the Department of Agriculture recently. At nine o'clock in the morning he was assigned a secretary, a married woman whose husband also works for the government. At 2:30 in the afternoon the secretary told her new boss that she would have to ask for sick leave and go home.

"So that's the way the government works," thought the new bureaucrat. Later he learned his secretary was going to have a baby. Now the new official's colleagues are telling him that none of his Democratic predecessors in office ever got things done so fast.

THE NEIGHBORS LOVE IT when the Inter-American Defense Board throws a garden party at its headquarters. Residents of the apartment building which borders the Board's formal garden take full advantage of their ringside seat.

Other night they had a top show at a reception for new board chairman Vice Adm. E. T. Wooldrige and his wife. The Navy was in its white formals, and the Latin-American officers and their wives were as colorful as only they can be.

The champagne flowed. The long buffet sagged under turkeys, hams, roast beef, fancy salads and bowls of shrimp.

When a garden party guest shouted up asking how he liked the party, he yelled back:

"It's the only thing that keeps me from the fights on TV."

WASHINGTON ALMOST lost its title as the cocktail capital of the world to Chicago a couple of weeks ago. To open it big "Powerama" General Motors originally planned to have 25,000 special guests at a huge reception. It probably would have been history's biggest cocktail party.

The drinking part was called off, however, when the Chicago Park Board ruled that no liquor could be served on its grounds where the big show was located.

FAMED AMERICAN fashion designer Hannah Troy sat next to French Minister Pierre Millet an evening ago as the town's society dames were given a preview of the new dresses they would be able to buy for the winter. The designer noted that Millet applauded enthusiastically for several of the Italian creations and sat on his hands when a couple of French Dior numbers were paraded by.

When asked about this seeming disloyalty to the dresses from his own country, he replied:

"My dear Hannah, haven't you heard? The cold war is over. Everyone loves everyone else, even in the dress business."

Maclean-Burgess Case Points Out Real Need for Security

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 19—It's the same old story—inadequate laws and inadequate security measures to protect a nation against Communist agents and their dupes—which now startles the world as the facts come to light about the penetration made by Soviet spies into the British Foreign Office and the Australian Foreign Office.

For, just as Alger Hiss transmitted secrets from the United States Department of State, so did high officials in the British Foreign Office give them to Soviet agents. "Security risks" who should long before have been investigated were not carefully examined. Possibly it was because the atmosphere was poisoned by the specious claim that individual rights are sacrosanct—as if any individual rights could ever supersede the right of the state to protect itself against subversion, sabotage or treason.

It now is definitely established that Donald Maclean—who, up to May 25, 1951, occupied the American desk in the British Foreign Office—was a Soviet spy and month after month transmitted secret papers to the Soviet Embassy.

GUY BURGESS, who fled with Maclean to Moscow, was a second secretary in the British Embassy in Washington and during his stay here had a twenty-four-hour pass to the offices of the Atomic Energy Commission. He was secretary of an international committee of diplomats which dealt with atomic-energy information.

For four years now it has been reported that the two men were behind the Iron Curtain, but the British Foreign Office never confirmed this. Now, from the pen of Vladimir Petrov, who defected from the Soviet Embassy in Australia and told many details of the Soviet spy system, has come the first story from a Russian source about Messrs. Maclean and Burgess. It was revealed in a copyrighted article published in this country by "U. S. News & World Report." This is separate from the document issued by the royal commission of Australia last week giving Petrov's revelations on the Soviet spy system. But until the commission's report on Soviet espionage was released by the Parliament in Australia, Petrov felt that he could not talk about the Maclean-Burgess case.

THE REVELATIONS about Maclean and Burgess were printed in a London newspaper over the weekend by arrangement with "The Sydney Morning Herald," of Australia. British Foreign Office officials, who have never admitted that they really knew what happened to Maclean and Burgess or even what the pair had been doing, now finally concede that "on the basis of this evidence (Petrov's statements) the presumption must be made that documents were passed to the Soviet Union—in what quantity we cannot say."

But Petrov himself declares that Second Secretary Kislytsin of the Soviet Embassy in Australia had been in London and told him (Petrov) that he had handled the material supplied by Burgess. Petrov writes:

"At this time Burgess was bringing out brief cases full of Foreign Office documents, which were photographed in the Soviet Embassy and quickly returned to him. Kislytsin used to encipher the more urgent information and cable it to Moscow. The rest he prepared for dispatch by courier in the diplomatic bag."

This strangely parallels the relationship of Alger Hiss of the United States Department of State and Whittaker Chambers, whose "pumpkin papers" disclosed the documents he got from Hiss.

IT TURNS OUT that just after the British Foreign Office started investigating Maclean and Burgess, the two men learned of the danger and told the Soviet government, which helped them to escape and later brought Mrs. Maclean and the children to Moscow. The family now is living there.

Two important questions arise in connection with the episode. One is why the British security system didn't function effectively. The other is what kind of information did MacLean and Burgess transmit and what possible effects there were on Soviet policy.

The theory advanced by Petrov is that Maclean and Burgess are today advising the Soviet government on how to handle Great Britain and the United States in the field of diplomacy. It may be that the whole Soviet "peace offensive" has its origin in the advice given by these two turncoat diplomats. They know the soft spots in the armor of the Western democracies. They have inside information about American and British relations for several years.

PETROV SAYS there was a special section in Moscow devoted to information received from Maclean and Burgess. The two agents were trained early in Communist espionage even while at Cambridge University Petrov writes:

"Kislytsin was in London from 1945 to 1948, when he was recalled to Moscow. There after a year on an Intelligence training course, in which he specialized in English, he was appointed to the first directorate of the committee of information, where he was put in charge of a special one-man section of the top secret archives.

"This section was devoted solely to the great quantity of material supplied by Maclean and Burgess."

During the years 1948 to 1952 important events were happening in the United States of direct concern to the Communists. The Korean War broke out in 1950. Military operations and plans of the Western Allies were evidently relayed regularly to the Soviet government.

The British officials are saying they had no legal means of detaining Maclean and Burgess when they started to investigate them and also that they didn't think it worth while shadowing Mrs. Maclean.

IT CERTAINLY is to be hoped that those British newspapers which have been sneering at the American security system will realize that Soviet espionage isn't after all just a figment of Senator McCarthy's imagination and that "guilt by association." if followed through in an investigation of the Maclean-Burgess personal relations with each other and their friends, would have possibly nipped the plot before it could do the damage it evidently did. Even a slight interest in the subject of moral habits as shown by a previous investigation of the personnel records of the two men would have raised a question about both as security risks.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—"Call me madam" was actually an extended version of an old familiar burlesque or louse-opera "situation" in which a buxom old babe with a lot of money and no breeding shook hands with the butler and cooled her soup with a fan. However, although "madam" done her wrong, Perle Mesta took it well and, on her return from Luxemburg, met up with Ethel Merman and told her she has enjoyed her work.

Perle knows her knives and forks, all right and, one day she showed me around the Duchy. It came out that she and her beautiful sister, Marguerite Tyson, had known Clare Luce ever since they were kids.

Ike was still at Shape, outside Paris, and he used to fly up Sundays to monkey around the kitchen of the legation in a chef's hat and apron making potato salad, which was his special dish. The friendship was so cordial that when he got the Republican nod in Chicago, in '52, I naturally thought and Perle certainly did, too, that Ike would let her stay long enough to sashay around London at the coronation with the rank of an American ambassador. He didn't, though, and now when Perle comes to Rome, if she can stand it, she finds the girl from Greenwich, who had such a tough, unpromising childhood, sitting in an embassy as big as a department store and living in a mansion, called a villa, which goes with the job. Her husband, Henry Luce, is a wry little figure in the script. Vain and touchy as he is, he has only himself to blame for his ludicrous status in the eyes of Italian men and women because he got his wife the job as the payoff for the "support" that his magazines gave Ike. He is, or was, at my last social contact with them, so proud to be married to Claire that she could use him for a doorstop and he would love it. Clare, is so self-centered that it may not have occurred to her to consider how he looks in the public eye. She is a calculating proposition this ambasciatrice of ours.

The Republican "international" crowd wanted to wean old Arthur Vandenberg from his "isolation" or "narrow" patriotism. Clare was in Congress for Fairfield county, Conn., as a nominal Republican. Both she and Vandenberg were living at the Wardman Park Hotel where a lot of monkey-business has been done which played fateful tricks on us unsuspecting Americans. The "international" people sicked Clare on Vandenberg. She dined with him night after night and in a little time, poor Vandenberg turned "bi-partisan", meaning "international". This was the Roosevelt-Truman foreign policy and the policy of Ike, and the Rockefellers and their Chase Bank whose old chairman, Winthrop Aldrich, has the London embassy now. His sister was the wife of John D. Jr.

Inasmuch as Roosevelt and Truman made this ghastly mess of the world it is beyond my power to understand why the Republicans and Rockefellers should want to commit our country to completion of the disaster. It seems occult. Anyway, Clare delivered Vandenberg and later on, when the old bucks of the party decided to pay her a harmless compliment by letting her make a speech at Philadelphia, with the plain understanding that nominations were not yet in order she came so close to nominating Vandenberg that they were ready to slit her throat. She gets away with it. She has been getting away with it all her life. Next day, Henry Luce was around pouting at journalists who had told the truth about this typical trick of hers.

I met her first in a Fourth avenue speakeasy almost 30 years ago. She swept into the dump in a mink coat that must have stood $8,000 even then. She was trailing Paul Gallico like a St. Bernard and I mean

THE DEMOCRATIC NEEDLE

Publicly, of course, the Democrats must necessarily assert that they hope President Eisenhower runs again in 1956. You cannot admit that you are incapable of licking the best the opposition can offer.

In the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's day, Republicans were always telling everybody that they couldn't wait to "take on the champ." But they didn't really mean it, and neither do the Democrats now.

In their hearts they know how tough the President would be to beat, and no politician with any sense of realism wants the test at the polls to be any harder than it must.

The ironic thing is that the way the Democrats are playing it, they might prove to be a considerable factor in Mr. Eisenhower's deciding to have another go.

It is not just that they have taken off the wraps and are attacking the President personally, as wholly responsible for what they consider the damaging acts of his administration.

It is rather that they are goading him with their constant insistence that they alone understand the needs of ordinary citizens and are prepared to do anything about them. Word has it that the President is vastly annoyed at Democratic claims of a monopoly in serving the popular welfare.

This Democratic contention isn't at all new. They've been running against the "special interests" and the "princes of privilege" ever since Mr. Roosevelt's heydey.

The difference is on the other side. Mr. Eisenhower has described himself as conservative in money matters and liberal in the area of human welfare. He is plainly convinced that his administration is executing policies which serve that philosophy.

If the Democrats keep hammering this theme—and such a course would appear almost inevitable—they may find themselves with an angry contender on their hands.

A lot of people, including some quite close to Mr. Eisenhower, suggest that his sense of duty will be the final determinant in his decision to run or not to run.

But more than a few men have gone for a second term partly because they felt impelled to try to prove in a second four years the wisdom and rightness of what they did in the first four years. Pressed hard enough, the President might fall into this category.

A WOMAN'S WORLD

Engineering as a whole is commonly considered a man's subject. Electrical engineering is no exception. Yet City College of New York has just made a woman the head of its Electrical Engineering Department. Cecilia Froelich, a member of the faculty since 1942, is the first woman department head in the history of the college.

Women are daily admitted to fields previously closed to them. This trend will continue. The alarmed male wondering what will eventually become of him may look forward to the day when advertisements read, "Help Wanted. No Man Need Apply."

Men created labor saving devices to give the ladies a little leisure. This leisure time has permitted them to hop out of their houses and into careers. The ladies are just plain set on working. But someone should enjoy all those hours of leisure piling up, neglected and apparently unwanted. If the ladies insist on doing all the work, well—no shoving, men.

A BALANCED BUDGET

According to columnist Robert S. Allen, "For the first time in years, it's now very possible the federal budget may finally be balanced by next July 1."

Mr. Allen adds that an all-out economy drive is underway. It is being spark plugged by President Eisenhower, who has ordered the Budget Bureau to direct all government agencies to cut expenditures "to minimum levels and minimum costs."

If this drive succeeds, it will be the greatest thing that has happened in a long, long time to safeguard the value of our money, to lessen the chance of more inflation, and to strengthen the economic foundation on which this nation's peacetime welfare and military security rest. Let it be hoped that the American people, in whose interest the drive is being taken, have the wisdom to give it unqualified support.

'These Days'

THE RIGHT TO WORK

One of the most important speeches at the meeting of the American Bar Association at Philadelphia was delivered by Lord Denning, Lord Justice of Appeal, of Great Britain. He was dealing with the broad subject of "The Price of Freedom." One of his points was:

"I suggest that where the law falls short is that it puts too much emphasis on the supposed contract between a man and his union and too little emphasis on his right to work. A man's right to work is just as important to him, indeed more important, than his rights of property. If his rights of property are invaded, the Courts have well known causes of action to protect him. His house, his furniture, and his investments are all well safeguarded by the law. But his right to work is left open to marauders. If he is wrongfully deprived of his right to work, the Courts should intervene to protect him. They have always protected him against wrongful dismissal by his employer. They should also protect him against wrongful exclusion by his union."

This problem must face the British as it does the American people. Without at all raising the question of the virtue of trade unionism, is it correct to ask what redress a man has who is deprived of the opportunity to earn a living because of a conflict with a particular trade union? That conflict may be over as small an issue as an infraction of a rule or as great an issue as a refusal to join. Protests are constantly being made against the unwillingness of an employer or the government to employ Communists or former Communists on the grounds that a citizen ought not to be deprived of his living, but nothing is said about a labor union blacklisting an individual. If an American is not permitted to work for any reason, is he not blacklisted?

This question of the right to work will not down; it requires some adjustment on the part of labor leaders. Samuel Gompers, who founded the American Federation of Labor, was always opposed to compulsion because it was an infraction of human liberty. Gompers, while a labor leader and perhaps the most capable that this country has ever known, believed in the voluntary society. Younger labor leaders, of whom Walter Reuther is typical, are in a terrific hurry to accomplish their ends, often forgetting, in their haste, that compulsion can ruin the nature of the American society.

Lord Denning quotes Charles Geddes, chairman of the British Trade Union Congress, on this subject:

"I do not believe the trade union movement of Great Britain can live for very much longer on the basis of compulsion. Must people belong to us or starve, whether they like our policies or not? Is that to be the future of the movement? No. I believe the trade union card is an honour to be conferred, not a badge which signifies that you have got to do something whether you like it or not. We want the right to exclude people from our union if necessary and we cannot do that on a basis of 'Belong or starve.'"

No more correct statement on the subject could be made. If the unions are to be permitted to exercise power, they must assume obligations beneficial to the whole people. If the United States is to tolerate compulsory unionism, a limitation upon freedom of choice is permitted which could not have been intended by those who wrote the Constitution because they do not permit similar limitations on freedom of choice to be exercised even by the government.

It would seem that with the tremendous success of American trade unionism, its enormous wealth and power, the time has come to reconsider the moral position of the entire movement. In Great Britain, until this year, the trade union movement was able to resist many of the unpalatable characteristics of American trade unionism. This year, the jurisdictional strike appeared there in all its ugliness and was resented by the trade unions as well as the people. It has given the British a taste of something they will not permit and it frightened the labor leaders because they know that if the British people turn on them, Parliament will pass restrictive legislation. That could happen here too.

MEDICINE'S PROCLAMATION OF FAITH

A most inspiring address was that given by Dr. Elmer Hess, president of the American Medicall Association given at the 104th annual meeting of that association. Dr. Hess feels that physicians have been too casual in seeking public understanding. "We are so interested in our work that we often fail to take the public into our confidence. We must tell the public frankly what we are doing or we cannot hope to maintain its confidence. Not so long ago, a friend in my home in Erie, Pennsylvania, complained to me about her inability to get a doctor at night. I asked her if she had tried to get one through the Erie County Medical Society's emergency call service. She replied that she had never heard of it. I knew we had made every effort to acquaint the public with this service, but apparently it was not enough. My friend was amazed that she could get a doctor on short notice through this service."

"I also think that much of our trouble comes from the fact that our medical schools have concentrated on the scientific aspects of medicine without perhaps emphasizing that we must be trained to take into the sickroom more than our scientific skill. We must allay fear, inspire confidence, and strengthen the patient's determination to get well. Unless we are willing to give of ourselves and our faith, our science will avail us little.

"Sometimes what we need most in the sickroom is not the medicine we prescribe. It is the faith and hope that we can instill in our patients. I don't care whether you are a Catholic, a Protestant, or a Jew just so long as you believe in a Power greater than all the instruments of science at your command. Faith is more than the acceptance of a creed, the practice of a religion, or the reading of a Bible. It is best expressed in that which we do every waking moment of our lives without expectation of material reward. True faith cannot be built upon a foundation of complete selfishness."

Dr. Hess outlines the steps being taken by the nation's physicians through the American Medical Association to improve the quality of care in our mental hospitals, to provide adequate hospitalization and medical care for the people who cannot afford to buy insurance against the eventuality of serious illness, to encourage the building of low-cost convalescent facilities for those who suffer from long-term illnesses, and to maintain the high standard of medical education while increasing the output of physicians and the building of more medical training facilities.

"I care not for the doctor's creed, nor his race—I care much for his belief concerning a Creator and his demonstration of that belief by his loving, tender kindness when he is called upon to alleviate human suffering."

"Aw, What's the Use?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — Colorful Nicaraguan Ambassador Sevilla-Sacasa threw probably the only party in the history of Washington society at which there was more ginger ale than booze consumed. It was a noon reception for the Washington Senators baseball team. But because they had a game that night they couldn't drink.

The Ambassador is the town's most ardent baseball fan, and in addition to wanting to bolster the team's sagging, seventh-place spirits, he was anxious for his four sons to meet the team.

It was a terrific party, and even though the team couldn't drink, they made it up by eating double portions of turkey, chicken, ham, potato salad and French pastry.

That night the Senators lost to the Chicago White Sox and committed four errors. Next morning manager Chuck Dressen called the Ambassador to assure him that the guacamole salad, also served to the team, had nothing to do with the loss.

"Just one of those nights when we were all thumbs," Dressen said.

THE BOSTON RED SOX, by the way, will win the American League pennant race, was Seville-Sacasa's risky prediction. And the Ambassador confidently predicted that the Dodgers will take the series.

THE TONE OF men's fashions here will generally sag when Pakistan Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali goes back home. He'll take with him his fabulous collection of about two dozen jewel-encrusted vests. At his last farewell party he sported his favorite white brocade job which is trimmed with blue silk and has white diamonds for buttons.

THE YOUNG COCKTAIL set in Georgetown is developing a new lingo all its own. When a demure, college-bred government girl pouts, "He's such a grunt," she's referring to some poor jerk who left a party before three in the morning and didn't have the sense to wear a gray flannel suit.

Here are other words from their banter with translations:

Shot: A can of beer.

Shop: Someone's house or apartment.

Tweed: The ideal guy equipped with striped tie, vest and foreign car.

Groan: Much the same as grunt.

Bath house: Home with a swimming pool.

To crank up: To awaken someone who passed out the night before.

A NEW REPUBLICAN official came into the Department of Agriculture recently. At nine o'clock in the morning he was assigned a secretary, a married woman whose husband also works for the government. At 2:30 in the afternoon the secretary told her new boss that she would have to ask for sick leave and go home.

"So that's the way the government works," thought the new bureaucrat. Later he learned his secretary was going to have a baby. Now the new official's colleagues are telling him that none of his Democratic predecessors in office ever got things done so fast.

THE NEIGHBORS LOVE IT when the Inter-American Defense Board throws a garden party at its headquarters. Residents of the apartment building which borders the Board's formal garden take full advantage of their ringside seat.

Other night they had a top show at a reception for new board chairman Vice Adm. E. T. Wooldrige and his wife. The Navy was in its white formals, and the Latin-American officers and their wives were as colorful as only they can be.

The champagne flowed. The long buffet sagged under turkeys, hams, roast beef, fancy salads and bowls of shrimp.

When a garden party guest shouted up asking how he liked the party, he yelled back:

"It's the only thing that keeps me from the fights on TV."

WASHINGTON ALMOST lost its title as the cocktail capital of the world to Chicago a couple of weeks ago. To open it big "Powerama" General Motors originally planned to have 25,000 special guests at a huge reception. It probably would have been history's biggest cocktail party.

The drinking part was called off, however, when the Chicago Park Board ruled that no liquor could be served on its grounds where the big show was located.

FAMED AMERICAN fashion designer Hannah Troy sat next to French Minister Pierre Millet an evening ago as the town's society dames were given a preview of the new dresses they would be able to buy for the winter. The designer noted that Millet applauded enthusiastically for several of the Italian creations and sat on his hands when a couple of French Dior numbers were paraded by.

When asked about this seeming disloyalty to the dresses from his own country, he replied:

"My dear Hannah, haven't you heard? The cold war is over. Everyone loves everyone else, even in the dress business."

Two important questions arise in connection with the episode. One is why the British security system didn't function effectively. The other is what kind of information did MacLean and Burgess transmit and what possible effects there were on Soviet policy.

The theory advanced by Petrov is that Maclean and Burgess are today advising the Soviet government on how to handle Great Britain and the United States in the field of diplomacy. It may be that the whole Soviet "peace offensive" has its origin in the advice given by these two turncoat diplomats. They know the soft spots in the armor of the Western democracies. They have inside information about American and British relations for several years.

PETROV SAYS there was a special section in Moscow devoted to information received from Maclean and Burgess. The two agents were trained early in Communist espionage even while at Cambridge University Petrov writes:

"Kislytsin was in London from 1945 to 1948, when he was recalled to Moscow. There after a year on an intelligence training course, in which he specialized in English, he was appointed to the first directorate of the committee of information, where he was put in charge of a special one-man section of the top secret archives.

"This section was devoted solely to the great quantity of material supplied by Maclean and Burgess."

During the years 1948 to 1952 important events were happening in the United States of direct concern to the Communists. The Korean War broke out in 1950. Military operations and plans of the Western Allies were evidently relayed regularly to the Soviet government.

The British officials are saying they had no legal means of detaining Maclean and Burgess when they started to investigate them and also that they didn't think it worth while shadowing Mrs. Maclean.

IT CERTAINLY is to be hoped that those British newspapers which have been sneering at the American security system will realize that Soviet espionage isn't after all just a figment of Senator McCarthy's imagination and that "guilt by association." if followed through in an investigation of the Maclean-Burgess personal relations with each other and their friends, would have possibly nipped the plot before it could do the damage it evidently did. Even a slight interest in the subject of moral habits as shown by a previous investigation of the personnel records of the two men would have raised a question about both as security risks.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—"Call me madam" was actually an extended version of an old familiar burlesque or louse-opera "situation" in which a buxom old babe with a lot of money and no breeding shook hands with the butler and cooled her soup with a fan. However, although "madam" done her wrong, Perle Mesta took it well and, on her return from Luxemburg, met up with Ethel Merman and told her she has enjoyed her work.

Perle knows her knives and forks, all right and, one day she showed me around the Duchy. It came out that she and her beautiful sister, Marguerite Tyson, had known Clare Luce ever since they were kids.

Ike was still at Shape, outside Paris, and he used to fly up Sundays to monkey around the kitchen of the legation in a chef's hat and apron making potato salad, which was his special dish. The friendship was so cordial that when he got the Republican nod in Chicago, in '52, I naturally thought and Perle certainly did, too, that Ike would let her stay long enough to sashay around London at the coronation with the rank of an American ambassador. He didn't, though, and now when Perle comes to Rome, if she can stand it, she finds the girl from Greenwich, who had such a tough, unpromising childhood, sitting in an embassy as big as a department store and living in a mansion, called a villa, which goes with the job. Her husband, Henry Luce, is a wry little figure in the script. Vain and touchy as he is, he has only himself to blame for his ludicrous status in the eyes of Italian men and women because he got his wife the job as the payoff for the "support" that his magazines gave Ike. He is, or was, at my last social contact with them, so proud to be married to Claire that she could use him for a doorstop and he would love it. Clare, is so self-centered that it may not have occurred to her to consider how he looks in the public eye. She is a calculating proposition this ambasciatrice of ours.

The Republican "international" crowd wanted to wean old Arthur Vandenberg from his "isolation" or "narrow" patriotism. Clare was in Congress for Fairfield county, Conn., as a nominal Republican. Both she and Vandenberg were living at the Wardman Park Hotel where a lot of monkey-business has been done which played fateful tricks on us unsuspecting Americans. The "international" people sicked Clare on Vandenberg. She dined with him night after night and in a little time, poor Vandenberg turned "bi-partisan", meaning "international". This was the Roosevelt-Truman foreign policy and the policy of Ike, and the Rockefellers and their Chase Bank whose old chairman, Winthrop Aldrich, has the London embassy now. His sister was the wife of John D. Jr.

Inasmuch as Roosevelt and Truman made this ghastly mess of the world it is beyond my power to understand why the Republicans and Rockefellers should want to commit our country to completion of the disaster. It seems occult. Anyway, Clare delivered Vandenberg and later on, when the old bucks of the party decided to pay her a harmless compliment by letting her make a speech at Philadelphia, with the plain understanding that nominations were not yet in order she came so close to nominating Vandenberg that they were ready to slit her throat. She gets away with it. She has been getting away with it all her life. Next day, Henry Luce was around pouting at journalists who had told the truth about this typical trick of hers.

I met her first in a Fourth avenue speakeasy almost 30 years ago. She swept into the dump in a mink coat that must have stood $8,000 even then. She was trailing Paul Gallico like a St. Bernard and I mean

Canned White Asparagus Glorifies Liver Creole

WHEN SERVING asparagus liver creole, try using paper plates, like the ones above. It'll be less work.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Near Stockton, Calif., we watched green tipped and white asparagus being canned for American menus. It's very good eating. Especially "as is" on mixed green salad.

But lots of people like it better in cooked dishes, so let's look at this recipe from Mrs. Esther Speer of Stratford, Conn.

Asparagus Liver Creole
(Makes 4-6 servings)

Four slices bacon, diced; 1 pound calves liver, sliced ¼-inch thick; 1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained; 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce, 1 No. 2 can California white asparagus, drained; ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper.

Cook bacon over low heat until crisp; remove from pan. Cook liver in bacon drippings until browned on both sides. Add bacon and remaining ingredients and cook, covered, over low heat 45 minutes.

Note: Use the asparagus liquid in soup or as a sauce topping for meats and vegetables.

Asparagus Watercress Sauce
(Makes about 2½ cups)

Five tablespoons butter or margarine, 5 tablespoons all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, 1 cup chicken stock or bouillon, 2/3 cup California white asparagus liquid (liquid drained from one No. 2 can), ¾ cup milk, ½ cup chopped watercress.

Melt butter or margarine. Add flour and seasonings and blend. Gradually add chicken stock or bouillon, asparagus liquid and milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add watercress and heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally.

Tomorrow's Dinner: Chilled pineapple juice, asparagus liver Creole, buttered rice, parsley carrots, crisp rolls, butter or margarine, assorted relishes, coconut custard pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Army to Rotate 20 Battalions Starting in Spring

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP) — The army announced today it will rotate 20 battalions next spring and summer, with 10 coming back to the United States and the other 10 replacing them overseas.

They will be involved in what the army calls "Operation Gyroscope."

The following will switch stations in April:

Fourth Transportation Bn. Ft. Eustis, Va. and the 27th Transportation Bn. Stuttgart, Germany.

The 25th Signal Bn. Ft. Devens, Mass., and the 40th Signal Bn. Karlsruhe, Germany.

The 66th Ordnance Bn. Ft. Bragg, N. C., and the 80th Ordnance Bn., Stuttgart.

The 95th Engineer Bn., Ft. Ord, Calif., and the 547th Engineer Bn., Darmstadt, Germany.

The 97th Field Artillery Bn., Ft. Carson, Colo., and the 254th Field Artillery Bn., Wurzburg, Germany.

The 267th Field Artillery Bn., Ft. Sill, Okla., and the 597th Field Artillery Bn., Hanau, Germany.

In May, the 583rd Field Artillery Bn., Ft. Bragg, will swap posts with the 268th Field Artillery Bn., Tokyo.

In June, the 532nd Field Artillery Bn., Ft. Sill, and the 529th Field Artillery Bn., Karlsruhe, will exchange stations. So will the 538th Field Artillery Bn., Ft. Carson, and the 273rd Field Artillery, New Ulm, Germany.

In July, the 553rd Field Artillery Bn., Ft. Sill, will move to Darmstadt to replace the 760th Field Artillery Bn.

St. Bernard, not Mastiff. He was drooling. Paul had worked out a magazine style of his own and was selling his product to Vanity Fair. Clare was one of the editors and she and Paul started collaborating. He pretty well wrote himself out of his accumulated supply in a few, years and the collaboration waned. But, only a few years ago she did a book on the lives of saints and they teamed up again on St. Francis of Assisi.

About that time she was often seen with Barney Baruch and once when I was quailing on Baruch's preserve near Charleston, S. C., who showed up on the porch of the unpainted, rickety country store up a dirt road which was our rendezvous but a blonde, blue-eyed number in Bergdorf-Goodman hunting costume? Years later, long after she married Luce, Baruch remarked one night that in a little political discussion some woman had accused him of echoing Clare's sentiments. The woman had added, "everybody knows you are in love with Clare". Baruch said he replied, "I hope I will always love Clare."

It is odd that women rather than men carry on about her beauty which always was a little around the corner in my eye. She has good blonde coloring and the shade of eyes that Peggy Joyce got so much mileage out of. But years ago an English pundit said Margot Asquith "hasn't really got a proper face but two profiles stuck together" and I would say that describes Clare.

She got herself off to a flying start here with a speech warning the Italians to vote our way or we would not give them any more money. That cost the Christian Democrats a mess of votes but the word was eased around that the State Department had put the words in her innocent, rose-bud mouth. Recently, she thumbed out a Hollywood movie truly depicting juvenile crime in the U. S. A. She said it would give a bad impression of our beloved country and this from the author of "The Women", one of the dirtiest plays in the history of Broadway.

When the American cobbler came to visit his dad in a remote Italian village recently, Clare invited him and his wife and daughter to a sip of something. But instead of receiving these peasants at the embassy, the gay, girlish hoyden, traipsed up the street to a sidewalk cafe and dealt in Joe Di Maggio, who happened to be in town. The newspics showed her bubbling with vivacity to DiMaggio with the back of her head to the cobbler.

Henry Luce is a strange deal. He never wrote anything worth noting and the formula which he and Briton Hadden deliberately created to attract attention and make circulation was a system of insulting adjectives. Yet Luce has made one of our great fortunes and he goes into the mopes when anyone needles him back. He tried to "interview" R. R. McCormick to placate him. McCormick said Time-Life had never told the truth about him yet and he wasn't going to give them a chance to misquote him. He refused to see Henry or anyone from his outfit, but Mrs. McCormick invited Clare out to a party at the house at Wheaton. Henry literally implored Harold Ross of the New Yorker to soften a "profile" on him which has become a collector's item.

Perle and Marguerite sketched a girlhood in conditions so unappetizing that Marguerite added, "I can't ever blame Clare for anything she does."

Well, there is the scenario for another story about a female American ambassador. But this is not burlesque. This is drama.

Clinics Called Failure in Ohio For Drug Sales

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP) — Ohio cities that once allowed drug addicts to buy narcotics legally in treatment clinics found the experiment a complete failure, narcotics bureau records disclosed today.

The papers were released in connection with hearings currently being held in New York city by a Senate narcotic subcommittee headed by Sen. Daniel (D.-Tex.).

The subcommittee is investigating all aspects of the narcotics problem, including the possibility of permitting addicts to receive treatments and buy dope legally in clinics to eliminate the criminals who sell it.

THESE CLINICS were set up in 44 American cities in the early 1920's, and were closed by the end of 1925. The four Ohio cities were Cleveland, Youngstown, Columbus and Cincinnati.

The head of the Cleveland clinic, Dr. G. E. Webster, found that the experiment merely aggravated the problem. He estimated that there were from 5,000 to 6,000 addicts there, and that only 80 applied for treatment.

"Some of the addicts in attendance were peddlers and attended the clinic as a blind," said Dr. Webster's report. "Some of the others were supplementing their supply by buying from illicit sources."

EXCERPTS from reports by other Ohio cities:

Youngstown—"Chief of Police James Watkins stated that at first he was in favor of the clinic. But after it had been in operation for several months he found that it was a drawing card for criminal addicts from all over the country to come to Youngstown for the sole purpose of getting dope."

Youngstown's then director of public safety, David J. Scott, added that he thought "the clinic did more harm than good."

Cincinnati: Dr. John Chadwick Oliver said: "I believe the establishment of narcotic relief stations will probably have a tendency to popularize addiction." Oliver suggested isolating addicts for at least one year as the only solution.

Columbus: Dr. William Deuschle, psychiatrist, stated: "Under no circumstances should the drug addict be permitted to be at large while under treatment."

SLING OF OUTRAGEOUS FORTUNE—At a recent 4-H Club style review in Salina, Kan., where the girls showed off dresses they had made, Sandra Shilling wore something no other girl had—a sling. In the sling was a cast holding her right arm. She broke the arm when she reached around her neck to undo the slide fastener on the back of the dress. It stuck. She twisted her wrist to loosen it. "Cr-a-ack" went a bone in her wrist. She couldn't move the arm. At the hospital, the dress was cut down the back and the arm put in a cast. The dress was in no condition to be entered in the contest. But a friend basted it together and entered it with a note of explanation. It won second prize.

Where They Came In

Bowling Green, Va. (AP)—The scene was a familiar one to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin V. Reeves of High Spire, Pa. They watched as the Rev. L. M. Ritter made Shirley Reeves and Paul L. Dissinger man and wife. Shirley was their daughter. The wedding was at the same place and with the same minister as their own in 1919.

BRIDGEWATER, Sept. 20 (AP)—James W. Bryant, 25, a Negro migrant farm worker, was killed yesterday when his automobile left a highway and crashed into a tree in southern Oneida county. Bryant, who came from Putnam county, Fla., had been working on a farm near North Bridgewater.

SARANAC LAKE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sperry W. Miner of Buffalo has been elected president of the New York State Auto Dealers Assn.

Other officers elected yesterday at the group's convention were Nelson K. Mistz of Staten Island, first vice president; Austin Bigsbee of Saratoga Springs, second vice president; John G. Dorschel of Rochester, third vice president; and Samuel S. Giles of Port Jefferson, secretary. Harold Craig of Albany was re-elected treasurer.

The three-day meeting ended today.

ALBANY, Sept. 20 (AP)—Dr. Frank Reynolds has been appointed permanently as director of the Bureau of Chronic Disease and Geriatrics in the State Health Department.

Reynolds, 43, former medical director of the Saratoga Springs Authority, had been serving on a provisional basis until his appointment yesterday. He will be paid $11,286 a year in the newly created post.

The bureau handles public-health needs in connection with such ailments as diabetes and heart disease and formulates programs for detection and home care of chronic diseases.

FULTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Firemen scaled ladders yesterday to rescue a painter who had been hanging by his fingertips from a roof 40 feet above the ground. His ladder had collapsed.

Edward Hulett, 42, was injured seriously when he fell from the same roof last year when a scaffold collapsed. Arthur Sikes of Palermo, another painter, was injured fatally in that accident.

Senate House Lecture Series Slated Sept. 23

The seventh lecture in a series sponsored by the Senate House Association will be given at St. James Methodist Church, Friday, Sept. 23, at 8 p. m., by Robert G. Wheeler, director of the Albany Institute of History and Art.

Mr. Wheeler, who will augment his lecture with slides, was educated at Syracuse and Columbia Universities, and the New York State College for Teachers.

HE HAS BEEN associated with the fields of American art, including ceramics and silver and has contributed articles on the subject to many newspapers and magazines.

A specialist in the Dutch background of the Hudson Valley, Mr. Wheeler has completed several years of extensive research on the subject. During last winter, he addressed the Williamsburg Forum on this topic.

HE IS A MEMBER of the American Association of Museums, American Federation of Arts, past president and present board member of northeast conference, American Association of Museums. Mr. Wheeler is also a member of the board of directors of the Albany Artists Group, Albany Chamber Music Society, Print Club, Albany League of Arts, Albany Symphony Orchestra, Albany County Heart Association and the Boys Club of Albany.

Mr. Wheeler was a teacher of art appreciation and American art history at Russell Sage College for the past four years, and is teaching the subject at the New York State College for Teachers at present. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Columbia County Historical Society.

O'Reilly Named CC Elections Committee Head

Two new memberships were approved and Robert O'Reilly was named and approved as chairman of the Elections Committee at the recent meeting of the board of directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Membership applications approved were John T. Sotomayor, general building contractor of Kingston R D 1, and Howard S. Pangburn, manager of the Olive Co-operative Insurance Association 276 Fair St. This makes a total of 108 new memberships approved since the begining of the fiscal year. Some of them are duplicate memberships subscribed by firms to provide additional financial support.

Robert O'Reilly, accountant of 17 Pearl street, has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Elections Committe. This committee serves as tellers of election in the nomination and election of seven directors. Nominating ballots will go to all active members on or about November 1 and election ballots are mailed on or about December 1. Seven directors are elected for a term of three years.

Tillson Organizing Civic Association

Tillson, Sept. 19—A number of residents of Tillson met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Winfield Friday evening for the purpose of discussing plans to organize an association which would represent the community when problems of a civic nature arose.

A temporary name, the Tillson Civic Association, was given the new association. A general meeting of all residents in Tillson, adults who either own or rent property, will be called within a few days, the exact time and place to be announced shortly.

THE TILLSON CIVIC Association is being organized as the ultimate outcome of discussions, talks and suggestions made by civic-minded residents during the past several months. The group which met Friday eevning discussed in general the purposes of the organization. Feeling that they were of sufficient value it was decided to call a general meeting as soon as possible, probably next week, in order to acquaint everyone with the purposes of the association, to officially organize, and make future plans.

Alvah Winfield was elected temporary chairman of the meeting, and was also appointed chairman of the forthcoming organizational general meeting.

THE RECENT INDUSTRIAL growth of the Hudson Valley, especially in Ulster county, has had an appreciable effect on this community. Gradually, during the past few years, this small community has expanded in proportion to others in the Kingston area, and is still in the process of expansion. The changes that are taking place are not industrial, but rather of a residential nature.

During the last decade, nearly 100 new homes have been built with new families from all parts of New York state, and other states, settling here. Many of these new residents are in favor of a civic association.

The group of men and women which has initiated the organization of the civic association feel that Tillson will continue to grow and will eventually attract a number of types of business as well as additional residents. However, this growth will depend on many things, and they feel that the association may be in a position to keep this area listed as a favorable spot in which to live.

BEING A HAMLET, with less than 1000 population, Tillson has no immediate local government other than the officials of the town of Rosendale. It was pointed out that officially, a civic association could do nothing, but, as an organized group representing all residents of Tillson, it could suggest to the officials what action the majority of local residents desired on various issues. It would act as a sort of unofficial Chamber of Commerce.

It is hoped that interest in a civic association will be shown by many other local residents, and that they will attend the general meeting. Notice of such a meeting will be announced later this week, and has been tentatively planned for next week.

Plattekill

Plattekill, Sept. 20—Miss Patricia Green, a graduate of the Wallkill Central School, class of 1955, has entered the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Duser of South street, Newburgh, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Oliver Sullivan of Westbury, L. I., have returned from a vacation trip to Canada, Thousand Islands and the five eastern seaboard states which were recently damaged by the hurricane flood. The Van Duzers and Mrs. Sullivan are former residents of this place.

The annual fair and harvest home supper will be held at the Plattekill Grange on Saturday evening, Oct. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merwin enjoyed a tour of the New England States recently.

Attention is called of local people in this locality, to the Republican picnic-rally to be held Tuesday, Sept. 27 at Sportsman's Park, Rosendale. A pleasing program of entertainment is being provided and Attorney General Jacob Javitts is scheduled to be guest speaker.

Modena

Modena, Sept. 20—The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the home of Jean Crane. Regular meetings of the Guild were omitted during the summer months, and a program of activities will be planned for the coming winter season.

Photos of all organization members of the Modena Methodist Church, including the Official Board, Woman's Society of Christian Service, Wesleyan Service Guild and Sunday school were taken recently in order to appear in the Centennial Celebration of the Modena Methodist Church literature. Mrs. Alice Harcourt of Plattekill, formerly of Modena is the oldest member of the church and Mrs. Anna L. Miller of Modena has been a member for the longest period of time.

Among local students attending the Wallkill Central School this season are Nancy Black, Pat Adams, Patricia Pink, Ruth DeBates, Genevieve Smith, Carol Riley, Eileen Coy, John Sutton, Robert DeWitt, Ronald A. Wager, Gilbert and Monte Smith, George Meyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard and family entertained at a family reunion at their home Sunday.

James DeWitt of Woodstock visited his brother, Earl B. DeWitt Sr., and family here during the past week.

Mrs. Myron L. Shultis of Kingston, a recent visitor in town spent the past week with relatives in the Newburgh area.

Mrs. William Decker was a visitor in New Paltz recently.

Mrs. Thomas Elliott of New Paltz visited Miss Glennie M. Wager on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Lent Traver has returned to her home in Rhinebeck after visiting her sister Mrs. Fred Bernard and family here.

Donald Dumm of New Paltz, formerly of Kingston was a caller in this section on Friday.

Harold K. Bernard and Eldred A. Smith were in charge of reroofing the residence of Mrs. Anna L. Miller recently.

Take Care

Falls often are fatal to people over 65, according to the National Safety Council. They advise having well-lighted stairways with continuous handrails, keeping children's toys off floor or lawn except in the play area, and not leaving garden tools where they will be trip-hazards. Older people with poor eyesight are likely to trip on scatter rugs or grass rugs, too.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Spade Jack Blocks Set

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Six hearts is a silly contract for North and South in today's hand if you happen to be looking at both hands. It's not so silly if you bid either hand without looking at the other.

Consider the fact that North and South have all the high cards except for one king, one queen, and one jack. The slam would be unbeatable if North had a third club, for example, even with the same high cards.

When the hand was played, South didn't despair. He saw a chance to make the contract if either opponent had a doubleton picture card in spades and if the defense slipped slightly.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, drew three rounds of trumps, cashed all of the diamonds, and continued with the king and ace of clubs. South then led a low spade from his hand towards dummy.

Not seeing his danger, West played the nine of spades. This was a big enough card to beat South's lead and any spade in the dummy, so West saw nothing wrong with his play.

Unfortunately for West, East had to overtake the nine with the jack of spades. East now had to return a club, whereupon South promptly discarded his last spade and ruffed in the dummy. The slam was now assured.

Either defender could have defeated the contract. East could have dropped the jack of spades at the first trick, or West could have risen with the queen of spades at the eleventh trick. In either case, the defenders would have taken two spade tricks.

Benz Nominated

Salamanca, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Former Mayor Fred A. Benz has been named by the city Republican committee as the GOP mayoral candidate in the November election. Benz, mayor for two terms in the 1930s, was named yesterday to run in place of Thomas E. Hunt. Hunt declined to run after winning the nomination by an unexpected write-in vote at the recent primary.

CAREERS THROUGH MATH and SCIENCE

Parents . . . do you want to help your children choose their careers wisely? Then encourage them to take enough math and science in high school to qualify for any college course.

Most professions now require training in these subjects. To work toward a career as an engineer or scientist a good preparation in math and science is essential.

Remember—America needs engineers now and will for years to come.

Prosecutor Says Boy Admits He Killed Parents

Eaton, Ohio, Sept. 20 (AP)—A 16-year-old farm boy has admitted shooting his foster father to death and using his knee to choke the life out of his foster mother, Prosecutor Everett Fahrenholz said today.

Hours after the slayings, Kenneth Bowman stuffed their bodies into the family car, smashed it into a ditch and set it afire to make their deaths look accidental, the prosecutor reported.

The law enforcement official said Kennth admitted the Labor Day weekend slayings in a signed statement yesterday.

The bodies of his parents, Harold Bowman, 49, a farmer, and Maybelle Bowman, 46, of near West Alexandria, were found early Sunday morning, Sept. 4.

POLICE FIRST marked the case as a double automobile fatality. Kenneth had told officials his mother was driving his ailing father to a hospital. She lost control of the car and it crashed into the ditch. Kenneth had burns on his body and clothing as souveniors of the ensuing fire. The coroner ruled the Bowmans had died accidentally in the auto wreck and blaze.

But Willis Peterson, arson bureau chief in the state fire marsal's office, became suspicious. The fire had started inside the car away from the engine. The gas tank was intact. The evidence pointed to arson.

AUTOPSIES WERE ordered. The Bowman's' bodies were dug from their Preble county graves. The examinations indicated Bowman was shot to death and Mrs. Bowman was strangled.

Kenneth was charged with arson and murder. He was put under observation in the psychiatric ward at Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton. First he refused to talk about the events leading up to his parents' death. Then under the close questioning of Fahrenholz, he started to pour out his story.

He became remorseful and sobbed, "I loved my mommy and daddy." He never gave a reason for his actions.

SHERIFF FLOYD Spliter and Fahrenholz said they were unable to uncover a motive for the slaying of the couple who had cared for Kenneth since he was 2 years old.

Juvenile Court Judge Donald L. Ziegel indicated Kenneth would be sent to Lima State Hospital to see if it can come up with some of the "whys" of the boy's behavior.

Anastasia Gets Court Favor in Citizenship Case

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP)—A ruling in a New Jersey federal court which would have revoked the citizenship of Albert Anastasia, five times accused of murder, has been voided by the U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals. The vote was 2-1.

Anastasia was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $20,000 on June 4 for evasion of income taxes for 1947 and 1948. Sentence was imposed in Camden, N. J., by Federal Judge Thomas M. Madden.

THE GOVERNMENT then sought the annulment of Anastasia's naturalization. The federal court in Camden upheld the government's position and ordered that Anastasia's naturalization be set aside.

The Appellate Court's decision, written by Judge Harry E. Kalodner, was handed down yesterday. Judge Herbert F. Goodrich agreed with Judge Kalodner. Judge John W. Lord, Jr., dissenting, asserted: "Anastasia has no right to naturalization."

Judge Kalodner said "the burden was on the government to establish by clear, unequivocal and convincing evidence, which does not leave in doubt, that the defendant was guilty of fraud or illegal conditions in his naturalization proceedings."

But, he went on, "the government was aware that the defendant had in a New York naturalization proceeding fraudulently concealed" an arrest and a criminal record when he filed for naturalization.

"IN THE LIGHT of these circumstances," Judge Kalodner wrote, "how can it be said that the government was a victim of fruad when it recommended naturalization in 1943?"

Anastasia was once called the "lord high executioner" of the old Murder, Inc., by William O'Dwyer, then Kings county, N. Y., district attorney and later mayor of New York.

The 51-year-old Anastasia had been arrested a number of times up to 1933 on charges ranging from homicide to consorting with known criminals. The only charge the law ever made stick, however, before the income tax conviction, was one for carrying a concealed weapon. He served a two-year prison term from 1923 to 1925 on the weapons charge.

ANASTASIA WAS convicted of the murder of a longshoreman in 1931 and spent 18 months in the shadow of the electric chair at Sing Sing. But he won a retrial on a technicality and eventually was freed, after four witnesses, who had testified against him at the first trial, disappeared.

In all, he beat five murder charges.

He was one of the most publicized figures during the 1951 hearings of the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Refusing to answer questions put to him by the committee, he gave the stock reply: "I decline to answer on grounds it might tend to incriminate me."

BEAUTY MASK — These glasses are designed to protect the wearer not only from eyestrain but from wrinkles. On display at the 1955 Fair of Inventions in Nurnberg, Germany, the glasses feature sponge rubber patches which are supposed to keep wrinkles from forming on the forehead and around the eyes. Hormone lotion is applied to the skin before the patches are put on.

1956 Fords Ready For September 23

Detroit, Sept. 20 (AP)—One of the quickest model changes in auto industry will bring the 1956 model Ford passenger cars to market on Sept. 23.

The new cars, which got into production less than a week after the build-out of the 1955 line, will be available in four series, 18 body styles and with a choice of nine different engine types.

The new Fords are the first of the major volume production cars to go on sale. They will emphasize safety features, including new door latches, deep-center steering wheel and shatter-resistant rear view mirrors as standard equipment on all models and lap belts and crash padding as optional items.

Student Knifed In Dorm Scuffle

Endicott, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—A Harpur College student suffered a superficial knife wound last night in a dormitory scuffle between a group of freshmen and one of local youths.

Joseph Gregg of Washingtonville was treated at Ideal Hospital and released. Two other students, Ronald Rosenstein of the Bronx and Norman Rosenbaum of Hicksville, L. I., were treated for cuts and bruises and also released.

Police gave this account of the incident.

Fifteen to 20 youths drove up to the Lincoln House dormitory in three automobiles, entered, approached a group of about seven freshmen and demanded to see their freshman "beanies."

At first the students thought they were being accosted by sophomores. The scuffle developed when they discovered otherwise.

During the argument, a local boy drew a knife and slashed Gregg in the back. A dormitory proctor broke up the fight and the local youths fled.

The students got the license number of the three automobiles. Police found one car and questioned the occupants.

The boys had registered only yesterday, police said, and had no time to become acquainted with local youths.

No Ice, He Says

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad station at Utica, N. Y., was clear of ice and snow last Dec. 6 when an ex-GI fell under a train and lost both legs, a witness for the railroad testified yesterday. The Central is the defendant in a $500,000 damage suit filed by John L. Callahan, 31, who blames the condition of the platform for his fall and loss of his legs under a moving train. Witnesses testifying for him have said the slightly tilted platform was covered with ice at the time. Assistant Station Master Francis J. Butler of (1003 Rudolf Place) Utica, who was on duty that night, said the platform was free of ice. However, under cross-examination he conceded that police photographs showed ice and snow there shortly after the accident.

Addition Planned

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 20 (AP)—E. I. duPont de Nemours and Co., Inc., today announced plans for a multimillion dollar addition to a plant under construction near Antioch, Calif. The new unit will manufacture sodium, ethyl chloride, trichlorethylene and perchlorethylene. It will adjoin and be integrated with the tetrethyl and "freon" refrigerants plants scheduled for completion in late 1956. Sodium and ethyl chloride are used in the manufacture of tetrethyl lead. Trichlorethylene and perchlorethylene are solvents.

Fatal Fall

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—A 54-year-old painter, Merle Crittenden, was injured fatally yesterday when police said he apparently fell 40 feet from a ladder while painting a restaurant.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Spade Jack Blocks Set

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Six hearts is a silly contract for North and South in today's hand if you happen to be looking at both hands. It's not so silly if you bid either hand without looking at the other.

Consider the fact that North and South have all the high cards except for one king, one queen, and one jack. The slam would be unbeatable if North had a third club, for example, even with the same high cards.

When the hand was played, South didn't despair. He saw a chance to make the contract if either opponent had a doubleton picture card in spades and if the defense slipped slightly.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, drew three rounds of trumps, cashed all of the diamonds, and continued with the king and ace of clubs: South then led a low spade from his hand towards dummy.

Not seeing his danger, West played the nine of spades. This was a big enough card to beat South's lead and any spade in the dummy, so West saw nothing wrong with his play.

Unfortunately for West, East had to overtake the nine with the jack of spades. East now had to return a club, whereupon South promptly discarded his last spade and ruffed in the dummy. The slam was now assured.

Either defender could have defeated the contract. East could have dropped the jack of spades at the first trick, or West could have risen with the queen of spades at the eleventh trick. In either case, the defenders would have taken two spade tricks.

Benz Nominated

Salamanca, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Former Mayor Fred A. Benz has been named by the city Republican committee as the GOP mayoral candidate in the November election. Benz, mayor for two terms in the 1930s, was named yesterday to run in place of Thomas E. Hunt. Hunt declined to run after winning the nomination by an unexpected write-in vote at the recent primary.

Prosecutor Says Boy Admits He Killed Parents

Eaton, Ohio, Sept. 20 (AP)—A 16-year-old farm boy has admitted shooting his foster father to death and using his knee to choke the life out of his foster mother, Prosecutor Everett Fahrenholz said today.

Hours after the slayings, Kenneth Bowman stuffed their bodies into the family car, smashed it into a ditch and set it afire to make their deaths look accidental, the prosecutor reported.

The law enforcement official said Kennth admitted the Labor Day weekend slayings in a signed statement yesterday.

The bodies of his parents, Harold Bowman, 49, a farmer, and Maybelle Bowman, 46, of near West Alexandria, were found early Sunday morning, Sept. 4.

POLICE FIRST marked the case as a double automobile fatality. Kenneth had told officials his mother was driving his ailing father to a hospital. She lost control of the car and it crashed into the ditch. Kenneth had burns on his body and clothing as souveniors of the ensuing fire. The coroner ruled the Bowmans had died accidentally in the auto wreck and blaze.

But Willis Peterson, arson bureau chief in the state fire marsal's office, became suspicious. The fire had started inside the car away from the engine. The gas tank was intact. The evidence pointed to arson.

AUTOPSIES WERE ordered. The Bowman's' bodies were dug from their Preble county graves. The examinations indicated Bowman was shot to death and Mrs. Bowman was strangled.

Kenneth was charged with arson and murder. He was put under observation in the psychiatric ward at Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton. First he refused to talk about the events leading up to his parents' death. Then under the close questioning of Fahrenholz, he started to pour out his story.

He became remorseful and sobbed, "I loved my mommy and daddy." He never gave a reason for his actions.

SHERIFF FLOYD Spliter and Fahrenholz said they were unable to uncover a motive for the slaying of the couple who had cared for Kenneth since he was 2 years old.

Juvenile Court Judge Donald L. Ziegel indicated Kenneth would be sent to Lima State Hospital to see if it can come up with some of the "whys" of the boy's behavior.

Anastasia Gets Court Favor in Citizenship Case

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP)—A ruling in a New Jersey federal court which would have revoked the citizenship of Albert Anastasia, five times accused of murder, has been voided by the U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals. The vote was 2-1.

Anastasia was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $20,000 on June 4 for evasion of income taxes for 1947 and 1948. Sentence was imposed in Camden, N. J., by Federal Judge Thomas M. Madden.

THE GOVERNMENT then sought the annulment of Anastasia's naturalization. The federal court in Camden upheld the government's position and ordered that Anastasia's naturalization be set aside.

The Appellate Court's decision, written by Judge Harry E. Kalodner, was handed down yesterday. Judge Herbert F. Goodrich agreed with Judge Kalodner. Judge John W. Lord, Jr., dissenting, asserted: "Anastasia has no right to naturalization."

Judge Kalodner said "the burden was on the government to establish by clear, unequivocal and convincing evidence, which does not leave in doubt, that the defendant was guilty of fraud or illegal conditions in his naturalization proceedings."

But, he went on, "the government was aware that the defendant had in a New York naturalization proceeding fraudulently concealed" an arrest and a criminal record when he filed for naturalization.

"IN THE LIGHT of these circumstances," Judge Kalodner wrote, "how can it be said that the government was a victim of fruad when it recommended naturalization in 1943?"

Anastasia was once called the "lord high executioner" of the old Murder, Inc., by William O'Dwyer, then Kings county, N. Y., district attorney and later mayor of New York.

The 51-year-old Anastasia had been arrested a number of times up to 1933 on charges ranging from homicide to consorting with known criminals. The only charge the law ever made stick, however, before the income tax conviction, was one for carrying a concealed weapon. He served a two-year prison term from 1923 to 1925 on the weapons charge.

ANASTASIA WAS convicted of the murder of a longshoreman in 1931 and spent 18 months in the shadow of the electric chair at Sing Sing. But he won a retrial on a technicality and eventually was freed, after four witnesses, who had testified against him at the first trial, disappeared.

In all, he beat five murder charges.

He was one of the most publicized figures during the 1951 hearings of the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Refusing to answer questions put to him by the committee, he gave the stock reply: "I decline to answer on grounds it might tend to incriminate me."

BEAUTY MASK — These glasses are designed to protect the wearer not only from eyestrain but from wrinkles. Hormone lotion is applied to the skin before the patches are put on.

1956 Fords Ready For September 23

Detroit, Sept. 20 (AP)—One of the quickest model changes in auto industry will bring the 1956 model Ford passenger cars to market on Sept. 23.

The new cars, which got into production less than a week after the build-out of the 1955 line, will be available in four series, 18 body styles and with a choice of nine different engine types.

The new Fords are the first of the major volume production cars to go on sale. They will emphasize safety features, including new door latches, deep-center steering wheel and shatter-resistant rear view mirrors as standard equipment on all models and lap belts and crash padding as optional items.

Student Knifed In Dorm Scuffle

Endicott, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—A Harpur College student suffered a superficial knife wound last night in a dormitory scuffle between a group of freshmen and one of local youths.

Joseph Gregg of Washingtonville was treated at Ideal Hospital and released. Two other students, Ronald Rosenstein of the Bronx and Norman Rosenbaum of Hicksville, L. I., were treated for cuts and bruises and also released.

Police gave this account of the incident.

Fifteen to 20 youths drove up to the Lincoln House dormitory in three automobiles, entered, approached a group of about seven freshmen and demanded to see their freshman "beanies."

At first the students thought they were being accosted by sophomores. The scuffle developed when they discovered otherwise.

During the argument, a local boy drew a knife and slashed Gregg in the back. A dormitory proctor broke up the fight and the local youths fled.

The students got the license number of the three automobiles. Police found one car and questioned the occupants.

The boys had registered only yesterday, police said, and had no time to become acquainted with local youths.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Practically no matter where one lives in Kingston one can see the mountains or the Hudson either from home or from very nearby. I can go to the top of Wurts and Spring streets and see the Hudson. Little is made of it around here, perhaps because folks are so busy with modern inventions like TV or are just used to picturesque views. There are some swings high up on the park knoll, but the young ones seem to prefer to slide down the sand bank of their own somewhat dangerous creation on Post street. I think it is the city folks who drop in once in a while to make me realize what a "little Switzerland" we live in They ask about the origin of such names as "Hollows" like in Watson Hollow, or "cloves" and "kills," like in Sawkill, and Catskill, etc. Locally the Dutch gave the valleys such names and they are with us today.

It is strange to see the modern homes trying to "bring the outdoors, indoors" with modern picture windows and outdoor fireplaces and terraces. Folks around here, years ago, lived mostly outdoors, watched nature's wonders like a calendar for planting. In fact, the colonists regulated their planting and much of their social life by the phases of the moon. Modern folks may often call it superstition, until some modern scientist re-discovers something the Indians and colonists knew right along. Today we live in artificial conditions, from the food on our table to our steam-heated, artificially ventilated, air conditioned little boxes, called homes. For a long time folks thrilled over the thickness of a carpet but now once again they are beginning to enjoy cutting their own lawns and the aroma of fresh cut grass. There is nothing like it in the whole world. Every young couple today wants to build or own a little house with a lawn around it and they can't get enough "outdoor living" although their refrigerators and freezers are still full of artificially colored and flavored foods. It's the first vegetable garden that will really thrill them. Peas from the garden and peas from a can are just two entirely different foods. Houses are going up like mushrooms all around here, there must be a reason. Whatever the reason I hope each home has a picturesque view, and a little porch, for Ulster county excels in views in all directions. Especially with the setting sun behind the mountains or glistening on the Hudson. But some folks just can't watch the full moon when the TV shows are at its best at that time.

Where else can one find such majestic maple trees, that now in the autumn turn to burning colors and gold no matter what road one takes. Remember the full moon takes about five or six days, so watch the calendar there is one coming up October 1st, if you have missed the September 2nd one. Take a ride to the reservoir and watch the sunsets, with its bright reds and orange and lavenders following each other behind the mountain peaks. Just drive toward the setting sun any nice evening and you will fall in love with Ulster county. Perhaps someone in the know will point out such peaks as High Point, Mt. Samuel's Point close to the reservoir, Slide Mt., or highest mt. in the Catskills, Sugarloaf Mt., and Overlook. Each one a primadonna in its own right when it comes to picturesque beauty and it's all ours to watch and enjoy.

DANIEL BOONE

By Russ Winterbotham and Ralph Lane

Boone soon caught up with his daughter's kidnapers. Two Indians were slain and the other two fled.

One of the rescue party, Sam Henderson, embraced Betsy Callaway and begged her to become Kentucky's first bride.

Squire Boone, acting as lay minister, married them in buckskins, since they'd ruined their Sunday clothes.

A few months later, Fanny Callaway and Jemima Boone wed two other rescuers, John Holder and Flanders Callaway, respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ryan will leave next week to spend a vacation at Greenwich.

For Better or Worse

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Some folks go to the mountains, others take a cruise. Mrs. James A. Oates went to work in a hospital on her honeymoon. She went to work the day following the wedding to be close to her husband, a senior medical student from Baylor University who is in training at the hospital.

READY-PACKED — Don't be jarred at the sight of these two watermelons inside a small-mouthed jar. Farmer Ed Burnell of Leavenworth, Kan., grew them there. He did it by running vines containing small melons into the jar. Then he covered the vines with straw for shade. The melons won't bust through the jar, either, because Burnell clipped the vines when the melons reached maturity.

POWER OF LABOR

Because the Mayors of Sheboygan and Milwaukee, Wisconsin made no effort to prevent rioting, two Norwegian ships with clay from England for the Kohler Company could not unload at either of these ports. This was a shipment in "interstate and foreign commerce." The power of Mr. Reuther's union to scare cowardly officials has raised a warning sign for all to read.

Mr. Hutton

The official paper of the union, the C.I.O. News, of July 25, 1955, said: "The 'long arm of international trade unionism' stretched 1,000 miles down the Great Lakes in an effort to block unloading of clay cargoes for the strike-bound Kohler Company plant in Sheboygan, Wisconsin."

The ships had to go back to Montreal and at that point. Canadian police enforced the law, and the clay was reshipped by rail to Sheboygan.

So, that is how "the long arm of international unionism" operates. What about the mayors of two American cities?

Neighbor, there is something wrong when young soldiers captured in Korea are sentenced to long prison terms for not having the guts to withstand torture, and mayors and police captains back home are not even dismissed or impeached for not enforcing the law. For these mayors, our soldiers have suffered and died in vain!

SAWKILL NEWS

Sawkill, Sept. 20—Residents of the township of Kingston have been contacted this past week by the local committee for the Free Chest X-ray survey being sponsored throughout the county by the Ulster County Health Department and the Ulster County TB and Health Association.

Announce Local Holstein Records

Official production records were completed by registered Holstein cows owned by Patroon Farms and Ridgely Farms, both of Stone Ridge and Ralph E. Ogden of Mountainville, Orange county and Carl H. Swenson, Jr., of Wappingers Falls according to an announcement by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The records were produced at Patroon Farms by Patroon Fonda Chloe and listed 460 pounds butterfat, 14,352 pounds milk (milked two times daily, 365 days), with 18 quarts per day average. Record was begun at the age of four years 5 months.

Ridgely Farms record was made by Amcana Proud Gipsey who produced 691 pounds butterfat, 16,859 pounds milk (milked twice daily, 361 days), with 22 quarts per day average. Record was begun at the age of four years nine months.

Osborndale Rosina Lochinvar, owned by Ralph E. Ogden recorded 828 pounds butterfat, 21,927 pounds milk, (milked twice daily, 365 days), with 28 quarts per day average. Record was begun at the age of nine years and six months. Also of the Ogden farm in Orange county, Glenoden Chieftain Fairfax recorded 858 pounds butterfat, 20,003 milk, (milked twice daily, 365 days), with 25 quarts per day average. Record was begun at the age of nine years and nine months.

Konigen Lyons Jean, owned by Carl H. Swenson Jr., produced 569 pounds butterfat, 16,927 pounds milk, (milked three times daily, 365 days), with 22 quarts per day average. Record was begun at the age of 10 years and eight months.

Cornell University supervised the weighing and testing of the milk for these records and it is a part of the Herd Improvement Registry Department of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America in Brattleboro, Vt., This program is designed to give an offieial production record on every cow in the herd every year so that wise selection for increased efficiency can be accomplished,

Flight Engineers Say Strike Is Necessary

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—United Airlines is threatened with a strike by its flight engineers who report that government mediators have failed to bring about agreement in a long-drawn dispute.

William D. Kent, president of the AFL Flight Engineers International Assn., said yesterday that mediators have given up on the dispute and added:

"My personal view from the attitude of the company is that a strike is going to be necessary."

Kent said the main issue is a job security provision to assure the union that "all flight engineers' work on United Airlines be done by flight engineers.

An airline spokesman said the dispute concerned the company's right to specify employment qualifications of flight engineers.

The airline has been negotiating with the union for eight months to replace a contract that expired Feb. 1.

Kent said the union would be free to strike as soon as the government gave notice that mediation efforts had ended. He said this is expected within a few days, and a strike will be called "immediately" thereafter unless the company changes its position.

The union represents 480 flight engineers working for United in New York, Chicago, Denver, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles. It has already rejected a government recommendation that the dispute be submitted to arbitration.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Practically no matter where one lives in Kingston one can see the mountains or the Hudson either from home or from very nearby. I can go to the top of Wurts and Spring streets and see the Hudson. Little is made of it around here, perhaps because folks are so busy with modern inventions like TV or are just used to picturesque views. There are some swings high up on the park knoll, but the young ones seem to prefer to slide down the sand bank of their own somewhat dangerous creation on Post street. I think it is the city folks who drop in once in a while to make me realize what a "little Switzerland" we live in They ask about the origin of such names as "Hollows" like in Watson Hollow, or "cloves" and "kills," like in Sawkill, and Catskill, etc. Locally the Dutch gave the valleys such names and they are with us today.

It is strange to see the modern homes trying to "bring the outdoors, indoors" with modern picture windows and outdoor fireplaces and terraces. Folks around here, years ago, lived mostly outdoors, watched nature's wonders like a calendar for planting. In fact, the colonists regulated their planting and much of their social life by the phases of the moon. Modern folks may often call it superstition, until some modern scientist re-discovers something the Indians and colonists knew right along. Today we live in artificial conditions, from the food on our table to our steam-heated, artificially ventilated, air conditioned little boxes, called homes. For a long time folks thrilled over the thickness of a carpet but now once again they are beginning to enjoy cutting their own lawns and the aroma of fresh cut grass. There is nothing like it in the whole world. Every young couple today wants to build or own a little house with a lawn around it and they can't get enough "outdoor living" although their refrigerators and freezers are still full of artificially colored and flavored foods. It's the first vegetable garden that will really thrill them. Peas from the garden and peas from a can are just two entirely different foods. Houses are going up like mushrooms all around here, there must be a reason. Whatever the reason I hope each home has a picturesque view, and a little porch, for Ulster county excels in views in all directions. Especially with the setting sun behind the mountains or glistening on the Hudson. But some folks just can't watch the full moon when the TV shows are at its best at that time.

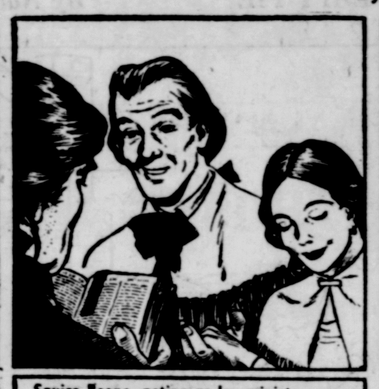
Where else can one find such majestic maple trees, that now in the autumn turn to burning colors and gold no matter what road one takes. Remember the full moon takes about five or six days, so watch the calendar there is one coming up October 1st, if you have missed the September 2nd one. Take a ride to the reservoir and watch the sunsets, with its bright reds and orange and lavenders following each other behind the mountain peaks. Just drive toward the setting sun any nice evening and you will fall in love with Ulster county. Perhaps someone in the know will point out such peaks as High Point, Mt. Samuel's Point close to the reservoir, Slide Mt., or highest mt. in the Catskills, Sugarloaf Mt., and Overlook. Each one a primadonna in its own right when it comes to picturesque beauty and it's all ours to watch and enjoy.

DANIEL BOONE

By Russ Winterbotham and Ralph Lane

Boone soon caught up with his daughter's kidnapers. Two Indians were slain and the other two fled.

One of the rescue party, Sam Henderson, embraced Betsy Callaway and begged her to become Kentucky's first bride.



Squire Boone, acting as lay minister, married them in buckskins, since they'd ruined their Sunday clothes.

Campaign Is Set for Long Hard Battle

By DON WHITEHEAD
AP Political Analyst

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—A full 13 months ahead of the 1956 elections, Republicans and Democrats are mobilizing for the great battle for control of the White House and Congress.

Not in recent political history has there been such an early surge of activity along the national political front. One party worker commented:

"A short presidental campaign in 1956? Don't you believe it. The campaign already is underway as far as we're concerned. This is going to be one of the longest campaigns we've ever had."

THE BUSINESS OF choosing a candidate and waging a barnstorming campaign is months away—but the struggle between the parties already has the politicians maneuvering their troops in the field.

L. Richard Guylay, publicity chief for the Republican National Committee, and Sam Brightman, who occupies a similar post in the Democratic national headquarters, are men who disagree on many things. But they agree on this point: The fight between the parties is developing far faster than it did in the last presidential election.

FOUR YEARS AGO, the early political skirmishing was pretty much confined to candidates jousting among themselves for their party's nomination — and these contests didn't develop to any great degree until the late winter and early spring of 1952. Once the candidates were nominated — Dwight Eisenhower by the Republicans and Adlai Stevenson by the Democrats — then the parties turned their guns full force against each other.

But now both parties are starting early to establish issues, and their national headquarters are pushing programs to organize precinct workers who will get out the vote.

The Democrats are stepping up their attacks on Eisenhower and his administration, bearing down on such issues as farm prices, public-versus-private power, and what the Democrats say is Republican favoritism toward big business.

THE REPUBLICANS are leaning heavily on the "peace and prosperity" slogan and Eisenhower's personal popularity which even the Democrats acknowledge privately is at a high level.

The Republicans already have held a "political school" for the 48 GOP state chairmen, discussing issues and techniques for getting out the vote in the '56 election. These state chairmen are arranging similar meetings in their home states for county leaders, and these meetings will be carried on down to the precinct level.

On Sept. 29, more than 30,000 Republican women will begin ringing doorbells across the nation polling voters on how they will vote and what they consider to be the big issues in the campaign. They plan to call at all the homes in one precinct of each county in the United States.

"WE THINK we know what the major issues will be," Guylay said, "but the poll will give us a good chance to find out what the people think about the issues—and what will influence their vote."

The Democrats also plan to take a voter poll of their own, and they will match the Republicans' "political school" with a meeting of national and state leaders to be held in Chicago Oct. 1.

The man in charge of this meeting will be Niel Stabler, Michigan state chairman, who is credited with setting up a grassroots organization which gave the Democrats a string of victories last November in Michigan. (In this election, the Democrats won the state's major elective offices, held onto the governorship, and unseated a Republican senator.)

BRIGHTMAN SAID: "We'll lay the groundwork for organization and campaign techniques at the Chicago meeting. We think this will be soon enough."

Campaign literature, instructions to party workers, advice on how to argue the issues, and other material is flowing from both headquarters.

Brightman and Guylay both say there is a heavy demand from the states for this political information and they believe it indicates a strong interest on both sides—an interest that is certain to mean a long and hard-fought campaign.

Engineers to See Detonators Made At Hercules Plant

The first meeting of the fall season on Wednesday will take members of the Mid-Hudson Section, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, to Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen, to observe processes in the manufacture of detonators used to fire high explosives in various commercial enterprises.

There will be a series of discussions by E. K. Lefren, assistant works manager; H. I. Etchells Jr., research supervisor and G. R. Mustaparta, safety engineer at the plant.

FOLLOWING the talks, the engineers will tour the plant for observation of detonator manufacturing. Among the processes they will see plastic wire insulation extrusion, shell drawing, lead fuse manufacture, loading and pressing explosives into shells, assembly and testing of the components to make a finished detonator.

The explosives industry is one of the basic industries of this country and its industrial civilization could not exist wtihout its products. All energy sources—water, coal, oil and uranium—depend on industrial explosives for economical extraction from the ground. They are the "hidden ingredient" of steel, for the ore, coal, and limestone are all mined with explosives. Water supplies, highways, and railroads, are constructed with the aid of their potent force.

HERCULES POWDER CO. is the second largest manufacturer of explosives in the United States and the Port Ewen works is one of the five commercial detonator plants in the entire country. A large volume of military items is also manufactured here.

Members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers who are on the staff of the Port Ewen plant are E. K. Lefren, F. E. Bourke, Hugo Schlatter and T. C. Cerwonka.

Mohonk School Begins 36th Term

The Mohonk School opens its 36th session with four Ulster county boys in attendance.

The boys enrolled are Jan Deyo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Deyo of Gardiner; Edward Hogan, son of Dr. and Mrs. Willard N. Hogan of New Paltz; Bernard Brennan, IV, son of Mrs. Doris Smiley Payne of Lake Minnewaska; and Dan Craven Smiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smiley Jr., of Mohonk Lake. Dan represents the second generation in Mohonk School as his father was one of the first students enrolled, attending the first year of its operation.

OTHER BOYS of the Mid-Hudson area are Barry and Monroe Campbell, sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Campbell of Flower Hill road, Poughkeepsie, and Gregory Cummings, son of Mrs. Joseph L. Cummings of 171 Hooker avenue of the same city.

Thirty-two boys are presently enrolled in grades two through nine.

Edward M. Lafferty, headmaster, and Mrs. Lafferty are starting their 10th year as directors of the school. This session opens with a faculty staff of 11 members. Mohonk School is owned by Smiley Brothers, proprietors of Lake Mohonk Mountain House. It was founded by Mrs. A. K. Smiley in 1920, who still takes an active interest in its affairs.

Michigan Solon Dies

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—Rep. D. Dingell, 61-year-old Michigan Democrat, died unexpectedly last night at Walter Reed Army Medical Center. His death was the first in the present 84th Congress. Dingell had represented Detroit's 15th Congressional District since he was first elected to Congress in 1932. He had entered Walter Reed Friday night for a checkup on a suspected asthmatic condition.

Historical Group Meets in Albany

Albany County Historical Association entertained the Ulster County Historical Society at its beautiful headquarters, the Ten Broeck Mansion, 9 Ten Broeck place, Albany, on Saturday. After luncheon Henry Ten Hagen, president of the Albany County Historical Association, introduced Louis Bevier, president of the Ulster County Historical Society.

Dr. Barker the speaker of the afternoon gave a detailed account of the history of the Ten Broeck Mansion which houses the activities of the Albany Association.

The joint meeting then adjourned to the Schuyler Mansion with its outstanding collections of objects of art and historic interest which were fully described by Mr. Gregg the curator.

Army Slow Down, Live Campaign Showing Results

Governor's Island, Sept. 20—Army participation in the President's "Slow Down and Live Campaign" during the 101 day period from Memorial Day to Labor Day has been a marked success in the eight northeastern states comprising the First Army area, according to First Army officials.

THE ARMY'S YEAR-ROUND safety program, designed to reduce accidents of all types and particularly aimed at reduction of motor vehicle mishaps involving military personnel, was geared to the national program for the peak traffic periods occurring during the nation's three principal summer holidays. Techniques and slogans identified with the "Slow Down and Live" effort were fitted into the Army's indoctrination program for military drivers. A gratifying decrease in military accident experience resulted.

IT IS ESTIMATED that regularly assigned military and civilian personnel at First Army installations drove a total of 16,000,000 miles in army motor vehicles during the nation's most densely populated traffic area between Memorial Day and Labor Day. Recently compiled figures show substantially fewer traffic casualties than during the same period in 1954. Army officials attribute this improved record to the intensity and sustained nature of the "Slow Down and Live" campaign, and to the close coordination among military police and safety officials, state safety coordinators, police agencies and the National Safety Council.

WITH THE OFFICIAL closing of the nationwide safety drive on Labof Day, the First Army started moving ahead with plans to ward off traffic casualties during the hazardous late fall and winter driving periods. Included in the army's continuing effort to lick the traffic casualty problem is the recently inaugurated Safety Patrol Program which proved successful in a limited test experiment during the summer. Safety Patrol vehicles will continue to patrol major highways in the vicinity of major military installations, during weekends, holidays and other periods of peak traffic, cooperating with state and local traffic officials.

In addition, the army program will emphasize the following seasonal and other type hazards to military drivers during the next five months: (September) Safe Operating Condition of Vehicles; (October) Night Traffic Hazards; (November) Pedestrian Safety; (December) Holiday Hazards; (January) Winter Driving Hazards.

Says Report Inaccurate

Fraser, Colo., Sept. 20 (AP)—A columnist's report that Russia is overhauling this country in the air-atomic weapons race was branded inaccurate yesterday by a presidential aide. The Washington story, by Joseph Alsop, stated his appraisal was based on an official report to the National Security Council. It said "the frequently mentioned "American lead" may be expected to become a Soviet lead in the period 1960-65." Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, was asked for comment at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here, and declared: "The substance of the story is inaccurate."

Causes No Surprise

Paris, Sept. 20 (AP)—An announcement by Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk that he would take his Indochinese country out of the French Union caused no surprise in the French government today. The prince, former King of Cambodia whose party swept all 91 seats in the National Assembly elections earlier this month, said his country could remain in the French Union only if it was changed to resemble the British Commonwealth.

Parties Mobilize Early to Plan Strategy for 1956 Victories

By DON WHITEHEAD
AP Political Analyst

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—A full 13 months ahead of the 1956 elections, Republicans and Democrats are mobilizing for the great battle for control of the White House and Congress.

Not in recent political history has there been such an early surge of activity along the national political front. One party worker commented:

"A short presidental campaign in 1956? Don't you believe it. The campaign already is underway as far as we're concerned. This is going to be one of the longest campaigns we've ever had."

THE BUSINESS OF choosing a candidate and waging a barnstorming campaign is months away—but the struggle between the parties already has the politicians maneuvering their troops in the field.

L. Richard Guylay, publicity chief for the Republican National Committee, and Sam Brightman, who occupies a similar post in the Democratic national headquarters, are men who disagree on many things. But they agree on this point: The fight between the parties is developing far faster than it did in the last presidential election.

FOUR YEARS AGO, the early political skirmishing was pretty much confined to candidates jousting among themselves for their party's nomination — and these contests didn't develop to any great degree until the late winter and early spring of 1952. Once the candidates were nominated — Dwight Eisenhower by the Republicans and Adlai Stevenson by the Democrats — then the parties turned their guns full force against each other.

But now both parties are starting early to establish issues, and their national headquarters are pushing programs to organize precinct workers who will get out the vote.

The Democrats are stepping up their attacks on Eisenhower and his administration, bearing down on such issues as farm prices, public-versus-private power, and what the Democrats say is Republican favoritism toward big business.

THE REPUBLICANS are leaning heavily on the "peace and prosperity" slogan and Eisenhower's personal popularity which even the Democrats acknowledge privately is at a high level.

The Republicans already have held a "political school" for the 48 GOP state chairmen, discussing issues and techniques for getting out the vote in the '56 election. These state chairmen are arranging similar meetings in their home states for county leaders, and these meetings will be carried on down to the precinct level.

On Sept. 29, more than 30,000 Republican women will begin ringing doorbells across the nation polling voters on how they will vote and what they consider to be the big issues in the campaign. They plan to call at all the homes in one precinct of each county in the United States.

"WE THINK we know what the major issues will be," Guylay said, "but the poll will give us a good chance to find out what the people think about the issues—and what will influence their vote."

The Democrats also plan to take a voter poll of their own, and they will match the Republicans' "political school" with a meeting of national and state leaders to be held in Chicago Oct. 1.

The man in charge of this meeting will be Niel Stabler, Michigan state chairman, who is credited with setting up a grass-roots organization which gave the Democrats a string of victories last November in Michigan. (In this election, the Democrats won the state's major elective offices, held onto the governorship, and unseated a Republican senator.)

BRIGHTMAN SAID: "We'll lay the groundwork for organization and campaign techniques at the Chicago meeting. We think this will be soon enough."

Campaign literature, instructions to party workers, advice on how to argue the issues, and other material is flowing from both headquarters.

Brightman and Guylay both say there is a heavy demand from the states for this political information and they believe it indicates a strong interest on both sides—an interest that is certain to mean a long and hard-fought campaign.

Junior Marrieds Hold First Fall Meeting

The new fall program for the Junior Marrieds Women's Club was announced Thursday, Sept. 15, during their first fall meeting. Some of the highlights of the year will include a membership tea and fashion show on Oct. 6, cosmetic counselor, Halloween dance, mental health discussion by Dr. Shea, card parties and the annual Christmas party.

The club voted to continue to furnish its volunteer cerebral palsy drivers and birthday cakes for TB Hospital patients.

The meeting was followed by a covered dish supper and talent night movies were shown. Hostesses were: Mrs. Donald Boyce, Mrs. Theodore Barten, Mrs. Edgar Stevens, Mrs. John Cline, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Harold Baltz, Mrs. John Burns, 3rd and Mrs. Robert Southard.

Bridal Shower Given For Margaret Hipp

A surprise shower was given in honor of Miss Margaret Hipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hipp of Asbury at the home of Mrs. John C. Paige of Blue Mountain Friday evening. Miss Hipp will become the bride of Robert W. Wiltbank, son of Mrs. Marjory Wiltbank Saturday, Oct. 8, at the Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties.

For the occasion the room was decorated in pink, blue and yellow featuring the traditional umbrella.

An attendance were Mrs. Hilda Hipp, the bride's mother, Mrs. Marjory Wiltbank, Mrs. Marie Pilz, Mrs. Dora Schmidt, Mrs. Carmella Tompkins, Mrs. Lorraine Pavlak, Mrs. Florence Schmidt, Mrs. Paula Buley, Miss Marion Oswald and Miss Gloria McLean.

MISS PAULINE GOODWIN LeFEVER became the bride of Thomas Cholvin Edwards in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. A double ring ceremony was held.

Pauline G. Le Fever Becomes the Bride of Thomas C. Edwards

At the All Saints Episcopal Church, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., on Sept. 17, at 4 p. m., Miss Pauline Goodwin Le Fever, daughter of Mrs. Goodwin Le Fever of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Dr. Kenneth H. Le Fever of 54 Pearl street, became the bride of Thomas Cholvin Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Edwards, Jr., Florida.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert E. Liebenow, pastor of the All Saints Episcopal Church and Dewitt Garrettson was at the organ.

The bride wore an embroidered nylon tulle gown over white taffeta, a shoulder baring neckline with cap sleeves edged with scalloped pattern of embroidery. The embroidered tulle point on the hand gauntlets complimented the cap sleeves. Six tiered skirt swept into a chapel train. The bride's veil was of French silk illusion and held by a cloche of nylon tulle edged with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and white carnations.

Miss Julie Jo Edwards, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor and Miss Edwards wore a blue chiffon gown styled with elongated waistline and bodice scattered with seed pearls. Her headpiece was made of hair braid and velvet to match the gown. Miss Edwards carried a bouquet of cascading yellow Fuji mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Kenneth H. Le Fever and her bridesmaids were Miss Amy Mason and Miss Patricia Myron both of Florida. Peter G. Creighton friend of the groom, was best man and Leighton M. Bramer, Jr:. along with Thomas L. Barnard and Peter Myron were ushers.

Miss LeFever is a graduate of Kingston High School class of 1952 and she attended the University of Miami and is presently employed as a deputy clerk of the Criminal Court of Broward county, Florida.

The groom is a graduate of the Fort Lauderdale High School, class of 1952 and attended the University of Florida. At present, he is associated with the Warren Petroleum Corp., of Tulsa, Okla., in their Florida office.

The wedding reception for one hundred guests was held at the Lago Mar Hotel and the bride's table was set with a white damask cloth belonging to the bride's great grandmother. White flowers and white candles surrounded the wedding cake.

After a wedding trip, the couple plan to reside at 608 S. E. 19th street, in Fort Lauderdale.

New Officers Named For Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Clarence Ryan, newly elected president of the American Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Kingston Post 150, presided over the installation banquet held at the Casablanca Monday evening. Mrs. Earl Haley, past district chairman was the installing officer assisted by Mrs. Joseph Sills, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Andrew Murphy, past president, opened the ceremony and the invocation was led by Mrs. William McNamee. An interesting report of the state convention held at Buffalo recently was given by Mrs. Augustus Winter. Mrs. Winter also noted the accomplishments of the auxiliary and pointed out the various changes made in the constitution and ritual.

Included in the slate of new officers are: Mrs. Edward Snyder, first vice president; Mrs. Sara Fuller, second vice president; Mrs. William E. Powers, Sr., secretary; Mrs. Anna Schmidt, treasurer, and Mrs. William McNamee, chaplain.

Mrs. Daniel Bittner, retiring president, was unable to attend because of illness.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S PRESENT

"What is the proper time for the bridegroom to give his wedding present to the bride? Someone says the night of their wedding, but what if it is something she might wear at the wedding?"

He gives it to her whenever he likes, but always before the wedding. In fact, if it is a piece of personal jewelry she always wears it with her wedding dress.

Visiting Fiance's Family

Dear Mrs. Post: Can you help me? I am going to meet for the first time my fiance's family who lives out west. They are complete strangers to me. I have bought a small gift for each of the children in the family, but my problem is his parents. Should I take a gift for them, or should I send something when I return? If I should take a gift with me, can you suggest something suitable?

Answer: Taking a gift for the children is ample. You are not expected to give the parents anything.

Can They Chaperone Each Other?

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper for two unmarried couples, all in their early 30's, to take a three-day trip by car, stopping at motels at night to sleep? The girls, of course, will share a room together and the boys another. I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: It seems to me at the ages you quote they are fully competent to chaperone each other.

Tipping

Dear Mrs. Post: When being entertained as a weekend guest at someone's house, is it necessary—or even correct to tip the housekeeper upon leaving, and if so, should one first ask permission of the host or hostess to do so?

Answer: If you mean a housekeeper, no; if you mean a general maid, yes and you tip her just before you leave. On no account, mention it to the host or hostess.

What linens and clothes are necessary for the hope chest? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-5 includes a list of linens and clothes for the bride-to-be. Junior Marrieds Hold First Fall Meeting

The new fall program for the Junior Marrieds Women's Club was announced Thursday, Sept. 15, during their first fall meeting. Some of the highlights of the year will include a membership tea and fashion show on Oct. 6, cosmetic counselor, Halloween dance, mental health discussion by Dr. Shea, card parties and the annual Christmas party.

The club voted to continue to furnish its volunteer cerebral palsy drivers and birthday cakes for TB Hospital patients.

The meeting was followed by a covered dish supper and talent night movies were shown. Hostesses were: Mrs. Donald Boyce, Mrs. Theodore Barten, Mrs. Edgar Stevens, Mrs. John Cline, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Harold Baltz, Mrs. John Burns, 3rd and Mrs. Robert Southard.

Bridal Shower Given For Margaret Hipp

A surprise shower was given in honor of Miss Margaret Hipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hipp of Asbury at the home of Mrs. John C. Paige of Blue Mountain Friday evening. Miss Hipp will become the bride of Robert W. Wiltbank, son of Mrs. Marjory Wiltbank Saturday, Oct. 8, at the Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties.

For the occasion the room was decorated in pink, blue and yellow featuring the traditional umbrella.

In attendance were Mrs. Hilda Hipp, the bride's mother, Mrs. Marjory Wiltbank, Mrs. Marie Pilz, Mrs. Dora Schmidt, Mrs. Carmella Tompkins, Mrs. Lorraine Pavlak, Mrs. Florence Schmidt, Mrs. Paula Buley, Miss Marion Oswald and Miss Gloria McLean.

MISS PAULINE GOODWIN LeFEVER became the bride of Thomas Cholvin Edwards in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. A double ring ceremony was held.

At the All Saints Episcopal Church, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., on Sept. 17, at 4 p. m., Miss Pauline Goodwin Le Fever, daughter of Mrs. Goodwin Le Fever of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Dr. Kenneth H. Le Fever of 54 Pearl street, became the bride of Thomas Cholvin Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Edwards, Jr., Florida.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert E. Liebenow, pastor of the All Saints Episcopal Church and Dewitt Garrettson was at the organ.

The bride wore an embroidered nylon tulle gown over white taffeta, a shoulder baring neckline with cap sleeves edged with scalloped pattern of embroidery. The embroidered tulle point on the hand gauntlets complimented the cap-sleeves. Six tiered skirt swept into a chapel train. The bride's veil was of French silk illusion and held by a cloche of nylon tulle edged with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and white carnations.

Miss Julie Jo Edwards, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor and Miss Edwards wore a blue chiffon gown styled with elongated waistline and bodice scattered with seed pearls. Her headpiece was made of hair braid and velvet to match the gown. Miss Edwards carried a bouquet of cascading yellow Fuji mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Kenneth H. Le Fever and her bridesmaids were Miss Amy Mason and Miss Patricia Myron both of Florida. Peter G. Creighton friend of the groom, was best man and Leighton M. Bramer, Jr:. along with Thomas L. Barnard and Peter Myron were ushers.

Miss LeFever is a graduate of Kingston High School class of 1952 and she attended the University of Miami and is presently employed as a deputy clerk of the Criminal Court of Broward county, Florida.

The groom is a graduate of the Fort Lauderdale High School, class of 1952 and attended the University of Florida. At present, he is associated with the Warren Petroleum Corp., of Tulsa, Okla., in their Florida office.

The wedding reception for one hundred guests was held at the Lago Mar Hotel and the bride's table was set with a white damask cloth belonging to the bride's great grandmother. White flowers and white candles surrounded the wedding cake.

After a wedding trip, the couple plan to reside at 608 S. E. 19th street, in Fort Lauderdale.

New Officers Named For Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Clarence Ryan, newly elected president of the American Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Kingston Post 150, presided over the installation banquet held at the Casablanca Monday evening. Mrs. Earl Haley, past district chairman was the installing officer assisted by Mrs. Joseph Sills, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Andrew Murphy, past president, opened the ceremony and the invocation was led by Mrs. William McNamee. An interesting report of the state convention held at Buffalo recently was given by Mrs. Augustus Winter. Mrs. Winter also noted the accomplishments of the auxiliary and pointed out the various changes made in the constitution and ritual.

Included in the slate of new officers are: Mrs. Edward Snyder, first vice president; Mrs. Sara Fuller, second vice president; Mrs. William E. Powers, Sr., secretary; Mrs. Anna Schmidt, treasurer, and Mrs. William McNamee, chaplain.

Mrs. Daniel Bittner, retiring president, was unable to attend because of illness.

Students to Enter School of Nursing

Twenty students were admitted to the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, Sept. 13. They were enrolled for a three-year basic course in nursing which will qualify them to try the New York State Board examinations for license as registered professional nurses.

A reception was held for the class and their parents in the nurses' residence. Members of the faculty and the junior class acted as hostesses for the occasion.

The students in the junior class are acting as "big sisters" to the individual members of the new group.

Sandry Berry, Hypde Park; Shirley Brown, Gilboa; Ellen Booth, Kerhonkson.

Elinor Carle, Accord; Madeline Cassetta, Poughkeepsie; Beverly Clark, Liberty; Gail Coulter, Walton.

Clair DePuy, Accord.

Dolores Groppe, Delhi.

Joan Hartney, Gardiner; Susan Hook, Kingston.

Audrey Justus, Kingston.

Ann Koller, Spring Valley.

Anne Ramko, Spring Valley.

Mary Elizabeth Relyea, Middletown.

Sandra Stickel, Mt. Upton.

Nancy Torrens, Port Ewen.

Carmel Valente, Catskill.

Betty Lou Whitmore, Kingston.

Home Bureau

KRIPPLEBUSH UNIT held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Winchell with 21 members in attendance. A talk on flower arrangements was presented by Mrs. Vivian Miller and later refreshments were served by Mrs. Winchell.

College Bound Grads

Stanton A. Warren, Jr.

Stanton A. Warren, Jr., left Friday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton A. Warren, Hurley, for Ithaca where he will enroll in the freshman class at Cornell University.

Stanton is an alumnus of Kingston High School, class of 1955.

To Enter Law School

Capt. Griggs, Marine Corps, is scheduled to enter law school at Albany. He attended the San Francisco State College and is a graduate of Emporia State College, Emporia, Kansas. While in the Marine Corps, Capt. Griggs served 29 months overseas in Japan and Korea and was awarded the Purple Heart. He served with the 5th Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division, and will remain a member of the organized Marine reserves. Capt. and Mrs. Griggs, the former June Coniglio, reside in Port Ewen.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S PRESENT

"What is the proper time for the bridegroom to give his wedding present to the bride? Someone says the night of their wedding, but what if it is something she might wear at the wedding?"

He gives it to her whenever he likes, but always before the wedding. In fact, if it is a piece of personal jewelry she always wears it with her wedding dress.

Visiting Fiance's Family

Dear Mrs. Post: Can you help me? I am going to meet for the first time my fiance's family who lives out west. They are complete strangers to me. I have bought a small gift for each of the children in the family, but my problem is his parents. Should I take a gift for them, or should I send something when I return? If I should take a gift with me, can you suggest something suitable?

Answer: Taking a gift for the children is ample. You are not expected to give the parents anything.

Can They Chaperone Each Other?

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper for two unmarried couples, all in their early 30's, to take a three-day trip by car, stopping at motels at night to sleep? The girls, of course, will share a room together and the boys another. I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: It seems to me at the ages you quote they are fully competent to chaperone each other.

Tipping

Dear Mrs. Post: When being entertained as a weekend guest at someone's house, is it necessary—or even correct to tip the housekeeper upon leaving, and if so, should one first ask permission of the host or hostess to do so?

Answer: If you mean a housekeeper, no; if you mean a general maid, yes and you tip her just before you leave. On no account, mention it to the host or hostess.

RUTH L. EVANS

Miss Ruth L. Evans, for the past year field consultant for the State Committee on Children and Public Welfare of the State Charities Aid Association with headquarters in New York city, has been appointed executive secretary of that organization, it was announced today by Mrs. E. E. Fessenden, chairman of the Ulster County Children's Committee.

Miss Evans will make periodic visits to this area to assist the local committee in carrying out its program of services for children and elderly people throughout the county.

Miss Evans is succeeding Miss Helen Van O. Kerr who has retired after many years as executive secretary of the state group.

She is a graduate of Syracuse University and has done graduate work at Columbia and Boston Universities. She has taught school in various parts of New York state and for seven years was a staff member of the American Red Cross, subsequently serving as field representative for the National Association for Mental Health.

Like the Ulster County Children's Committee, the State Committee on Children and Public Welfare is a group of private citizens who volunteer their services. In addition to helping children and older people, they work with the public departments to give the public a better understanding of how tax funds are being spent.

Mrs. Gifford R. Beal represents the Ulster County Children's Committee on the State Committee.

New Flag Presented To Public School 8

A new flag flies over School No. 8, recently reopened by the Board of Education.

Exercises to observe the opening were held on the school grounds Friday at 2 p. m. The flag was presented to Principal William Reardon by Mrs. Leah Jones, past councilor of the Vanderlyn Council, 41, Daughters of America. Mr. Reardon accepted it on behalf of the students, teachers and Board of Education.

An interesting talk also was given by Earl Soper, superintendant of schools.

After the new flag was raised, the entire body of students, faculty and friends and members of the Vanderlyn Council saluted the flag and sang the national anthem.

This is one of the many services extended to the community by the Daughters of America.

The most powerful lighthouse in the United States is at Hillsboro Inlet, Fla., with a candlepower of 5,500,000.

RUTH L. EVANS

Miss Ruth L. Evans, for the past year field consultant for the State Committee on Children and Public Welfare of the State Charities Aid Association with headquarters in New York city, has been appointed executive secretary of that organization, it was announced today by Mrs. E. E. Fessenden, chairman of the Ulster County Children's Committee.

Miss Evans will make periodic visits to this area to assist the local committee in carrying out its program of services for children and elderly people throughout the county.

Miss Evans is succeeding Miss Helen Van O. Kerr who has retired after many years as executive secretary of the state group.

She is a graduate of Syracuse University and has done graduate work at Columbia and Boston Universities. She has taught school in various parts of New York state and for seven years was a staff member of the American Red Cross, subsequently serving as field representative for the National Association for Mental Health.

Like the Ulster County Children's Committee, the State Committee on Children and Public Welfare is a group of private citizens who volunteer their services. In addition to helping children and older people, they work with the public departments to give the public a better understanding of how tax funds are being spent.

Mrs. Gifford R. Beal represents the Ulster County Children's Committee on the State Committee.

New Flag Presented To Public School 8

A new flag flies over School No. 8, recently reopened by the Board of Education.

Exercises to observe the opening were held on the school grounds Friday at 2 p. m. The flag was presented to Principal William Reardon by Mrs. Leah Jones, past councilor of the Vanderlyn Council, 41, Daughters of America. Mr. Reardon accepted it on behalf of the students, teachers and Board of Education.

An interesting talk also was given by Earl Soper, superintendant of schools.

After the new flag was raised, the entire body of students, faculty and friends and members of the Vanderlyn Council saluted the flag and sang the national anthem.

This is one of the many services extended to the community by the Daughters of America.

A combination of Father Time and Rocky Marciano-propelled leather will terminate tomorrow night's Yankee Stadium hostilities somewhere between the first and tenth rounds.

It could happen early or late, or in the middle rounds. But anyway you look at it, Archie Moore, the noted aviator, is a doomed man.

When you appraise the contest realistically there is no escaping the inevitable conclusion. Mr. Moore is going to get himself knocked out. You read much of Archie's brilliant artistry in the ring, his fast hands, stout defense. But if you peruse the record books, you know, too, that he has been knocked out too often for a truly great pugilist.

Marciano might look bad in the early going, but not half as gruesome as Mr. Moore when the final returns are in.

• Tom Creavy to Kingston

If Clarence "Dubby" Raichle's present plans hold up, Kingston golf fans may get their first glimpse of Tom Creavy, of Saratoga Springs, former national PGA champion, during Twaalfskill's Pro-Member on Sunday, Oct. 9.

Creavy, a topnotcher in the Northeastern PGA for more than two decades, won the PGA in 1931. He never won another major title but remained one of the area's top linksmen over the years.

The early field in the Twaalfskill event includes such topnotchers are Armand Farina, Steve Savel, Chuck Wilson, Steve Kay, Scotty Robertson and Jim Hutchins. More than 30 club members have signed but Raichle needs more entries and financial assistance to put the tournament over.

Lindsay Pitches One-Hit Victory

Walker "C" Lindsay whirled a one-hitter past the Chez Emile batters last night at Dietz Stadium, pitching the Destroyer A.C. to the Shaughnessy championship of the City Softball League's American Division.

The Destroyers took the rubber game of the set by a 5-0 score. In the other Shaughnessy final, the Subway Grill took the National Division title by clubbing Les Pommiers, 15-7.

The Destroyer and Subway squads will play a best-of-three series for the Shaughnessey crown this weekend. Game sites and starting times haven't been made known.

THE DESTROYERS got most of the seven hits and all their runs off loser Ronnie Freer in the second inning. Two-base blows by Don Davis, Bob Martin and Lindsay did the biggest part of the damage.

Bud Scheffel's single spoiled Lindsay's try for a no-hitter.

The one-hit job, incidentally, was the second in as many days that the Destroyers pulled on the Chezzies. Frank Boyce turned the trick on Sunday in the set's opener.

Lindsay was really burning 'em in last night. He struck out nine, the high total for the playoffs. He got himself in occasional difficulty by allowing six walks.

The Subway-Prommiers game was an error-studded, free-hitting contest.

Twelve extra-base hits were struck, including home runs by Les Barringer and Bob Schatzel of Subways and Len Holstein of the Pommies.

BARRINGER had a hot night at the plate, clubbing four of the Grill team's 20 hits off veteran Joe Amato, the losing hurler.

The Subway sluggers cracked the game wide open with a five-run sixth inning.

Schatzel and Al Hunt had three hits each for the winners.

The Pommies got 10 hits off Tom Spada.

Amber Ann Wins

Yonkers, Sept. 20 (AP)—Amber Ann, with William Myer at the reins, won the featured $4,500 Woodlawn pace at Yonkers Raceway last night. The 7-year-old mare owned by Mr. and Mrs. Preston A. West, of Snow Hill, Md., led from wire to wire to win by a length and return $6.90, $3.70 and $2.50. Time for the mile was 2:05 2/5. In second place was Dynamic Hal, and a half length farther back was Chief Knight.

Slade Winner Over McBride

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—When Jimmy Slade feels like moving, he's hard to catch. The shifty New York heavyweight was in the mood to move last night and he easily outpointed lumbering Archie McBride of Trenton, N. J., in a television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Outweighed 189 to 180, Jimmy flitted backwards and sideways and often behind the bewildered Jerseyite.

Until he tired after the seventh round, Slade's boxing lesson wasn't too hard to take. But after the seventh he tired and contented himself with loafing and holding.

The votes of the officials, all favoring Slade, were: Judge Bill Recht, 7-2-1, Judge Leo Bornbaum, 6-3-1, and Referee Mark Conn, 5-4-1.

Freeman 'Experts' Vote 22-3 For Marciano Against Moore

By CHUCK NORD
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Employes of The Kingston Daily Freeman have installed Rocky Marciano a prohibitive 22 to 3 favorite to retain his heavyweight boxing championship in his scheduled 15-round fight against Archie Moore tomorrow night at Yankee Stadium.

A survey conducted by the sports department of 25 Freeman employes thus revealed that Marciano is given an 88 per cent chance of winning. The nationally-quoted odds are much less, approximately 3 to 1, or 75 per cent.

All but one picked the fight to end in a knockout.

THE CONSENSUS of opinion was that the fight would go about half its scheduled distance. The most frequent round picked was the seventh. The earliest round picked was the third; the latest, outside of a decision, was the 13th.

The trio of independent souls who ventured the opinion that Moore would win were Craig Plough of the display advertising department, Newt Beichert of photo-engraving and Art Shelightner of the pressroom.

One Moore backer chose Ancient Archie, who's "38, going on 42," because of his boxing skill. He predicted Moore's attack would cut 31-year-old Marciano "to ribbons."

A MARCIANO backer, whose name shall remain anonymous, declared that since the fight "had a television audience involved, it might last five rounds."

One Marciano fan picked the Brockton, Mass., slugger after noting that she had dreamed Moore would win by a KO.

Destroyers, Subways Capture Softball Titles

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

A combination of Father Time and Rocky Marciano-propelled leather will terminate tomorrow night's Yankee Stadium hostilities somewhere between the first and tenth rounds.

It could happen early or late, or in the middle rounds. But anyway you look at it, Archie Moore, the noted aviator, is a doomed man.

When you appraise the contest realistically there is no escaping the inevitable conclusion. Mr. Moore is going to get himself knocked out. You read much of Archie's brilliant artistry in the ring, his fast hands, stout defense. But if you peruse the record books, you know, too, that he has been knocked out too often for a truly great pugilist.

Marciano might look bad in the early going, but not half as gruesome as Mr. Moore when the final returns are in.

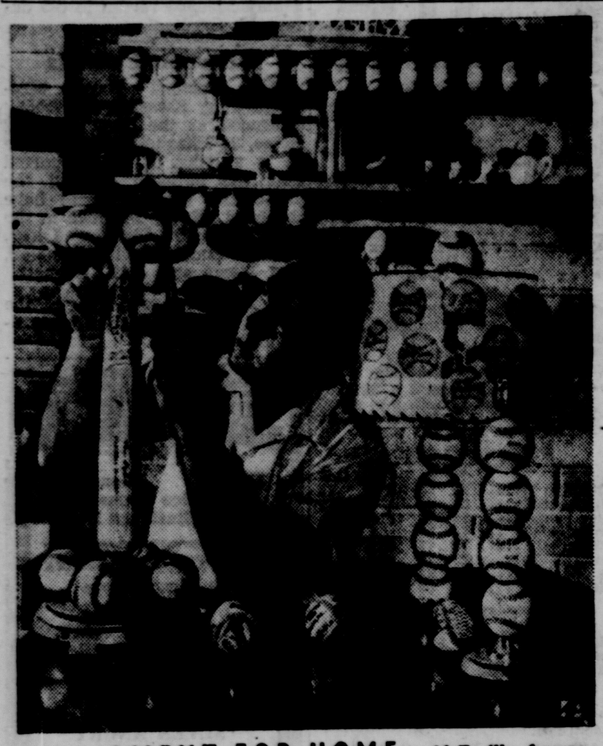
16 Cage Clubs Entered In 'Y' Autumn League



EQUIPMENT FOR HOME — Al Zarilla, former major league baseball player, works on another baseball lamp —an assembly of bats and balls—to decorate Los Angeles home

Opening Set For Sept. 27

Bill Irland, YMCA athletic director, today made known that 16 teams are entered in the YMCA Autumn Basketball League. This represents an increase of two over the 1954-55 season.

The league, split into two divisions, will open next Tuesday, Sept. 27. Three games will be played on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and two games are listed on Saturday nights.

A final meeting of managers will be conducted tomorrow night. Team rosters must be submitted at this time. Formation of a schedule and a discussion of league rules will also take place at tomorrow's meeting.

TEAMS entered in the "A" division are Harry's Angels, Empire Diner, Valley Gardens, Back's Cedaraps Team One, Wimpy's, Ulster Park, Esopus, and a new team, managed by John Peer but with no sponsor as yet.

The "B" division clubs are Rapp's Express, Back's Cedaraps Team Two, Yellow Jackets, Black Tops, Corner Rest, J and E Milk Bar, Schrader's, and DuBois'. The latter two teams have yet to acquire sponsors.

Betsy Milliken Scores 90 Points on 'Jigger' To Cop First Place in Horse Show

Betsy Milliken of Hurley, riding "Jigger" scored three firsts, one second, a third and a fourth with a high score of 90 points to lead at the first annual horse show held Sunday under the auspices of the Ulster Kiwanis Club.

The show was a decided success with a total of 62 horses entered in the day long event which was held at Chambers field off Route 9W. Proceeds of the show will go to the youth program of the community.

Susan Ashley, riding "Peppermint" was second with 60 points and Enid Goetchius of Hurley, riding "Honey" with a score of 55 points was runner up of the day.

The show, which began at 10 a. m. continued through the afternoon with a recess at noon.

PETER TELLER of Middletown, riding "Flicka" took first in the colorful parade class, dressed in authentic western parade outfit. This is the same combination of horse and rider who appeared on a coast to coast TV network, riding in the R. H. Macy Thanksgiving Day parade in New York city last year.

Jack Hammond of Ilion was judge and after the show remarked that the show was one of the finest small shows which he had ever had the pleasure to serve. Much of the success of the show however was due to "Navajo Joe" McNierney who served as director.

One of the interesting sidelights of the show was the display by "Buddy" Dyer and his seeing-eye dog. "Buddy", a former dare-devil auto driver, now blind, put the dog through his paces to demonstrate the ability of these great dogs.

THE FINE harness team of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. LeFever of Lawrenceville, also proved an outstanding part of the program. Mr. Snyder drove his team in a walk, trot and figure 8's much to the enjoyment of the visitors. Mr. Snyder had as his guests driving this exhibition, Mrs. Parran Gates, Mrs. W. Hoefler and Albert Milliken, who enjoyed the rodeo very much. Kasper Gerlach of the Sawkill road has a team of ponies with a beautiful pony cart on exhibition. A four weeks old colt was at the side of its dam, which was one of the ponies in harness.

Returning Vets Give Highland Hopes for Another Big Season

Frank Hamblet's manner is neither optimistic nor pessimistic when his Highland High School football team's prospects are discussed.

Now in his third year at the Highland helm, Hamblet is working with excellent record and a sizeable number of experienced players.

All is not rosy in the down-river school's camp, however. Despite a healthy squad spirit, the Highlanders have "plenty to learn about football as a group," according to their coach.

The Blue and Gold opens its eight-game schedule against Roosevelt High of Hyde Park Saturday at the latter's field.

HIGHLAND hasn't been beaten since its opening game of the 1953 season, when Kingston administered a 36-6 thrashing. Since then the Highlanders have gone undefeated, winning 13 and tying one.

Hamblet has seen half of his '54 "dream team" lost through graduation. But he has retained a number of talented players. If the three or four "rough spots," are ironed out, the Highlanders are headed for another good year, although Hamblet isn't predicting a replica of the past fall's record.

The big man of last year's offense, fullback Danny Welch, is missing. So are two other all-star choices, tackle Tom Russell and end Clark Kurtz. Other first-stringers departed are guard Jim Walsh, halfback John Jeannette and defensive lineman Ken Lyons, plus a host of good reserves.

POSITION by position, here's the HHS grid picture:

Ends. Strong, with two first string returnees, Bobby Valentino and Gordie Kreth. The latter, a defensive regular last year, will go both ways.

Tackles. Good, with three-year regular Charley Crimi on one side and sophomore Dan Angellillo on the other.

Guards. Excellent, at least as far as returnee Dave Mackey, another all-star selection, is concerned. Mackey has all the necessary football qualities. The other slot is being filled by Walt Burger, a converted fullback.

Quarterback. Excellent, with returnee John Gersch, a talented passer, runner and field general. There's also a good reserve, Dave Burdash, who may break into the starting lineup.

Halfbacks. Good yet questionable. Esau McClinton, a returnee, will fill one side. He's capable on offense and a bear on defense. Tony Cusa, a first-year man, or '54 reserve John Gruner, are in line for the other slot.

Fullback. Could be the key to the team's success. Valentino played in the backfield two years ago. He's strong, willing and reasonably fast.

THE FIRST STRING is blessed with enough weight. The line will average approximately 185 pounds and the backfield 170. No single position is lacking in poundage..

"We've got some size," Hamblet says, 'but our problem may be getting that size in motion."

Subs who may also figure in the Highland football fortunes are ends George Baker and Tom Casaburo, tackles Sam Vona and Pat Cusa (both over 200 pounds), guards Ed Sagarese and Jack Schopinsky, and backs Bill Ose and Bob Vitale. The reserve strength, on the average, is rated fair.

Hamblet and his assistant, Bob Relyea, are handling both the varsity and jayvee squads, which number 46 candidates in all.

Jackson Gets Post

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—William H. Jackson, New York lawyer and investment banker, has been given the task of mapping United States strategy for improving contacts between the Communist bloc and the free world. Negotiation on "development of contacts between the East and West" was one of the tasks which the Big Four summit conference assigned last July to the foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia, meeting in Geneva, Oct. 27. The aim was defined to mean elimination of barriers to trade and travel and to the freer exchange of ideas. Jackson, named yesterday as a special assistant to Secretary of State Dulles, will coordinate various U. S. proposals along this line in advance of the conference. Jackson is a former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency and two years ago directed a study of international information and propaganda activities for President Eisenhower.

Order Granted

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—On a plea by the Central Massachusetts Dairy Assn., the U. S. District Court has granted an order restraining Agriculture Secretary Benson from proceeding with a vote on a referendum to extend the Boston milkshed area. The restraining order granted yesterday was sought by a group of eight dairymen representing four or five Massachusetts dairy associations. Arthur Schofield of Cochituate, president of the Central Massachusetts group, and Francis Adams, secretary-treasurer, headed the delegation in Washington.

The first thing Sam Jones of the Chicago Cubs did after pitching his no-hitter against the Pirates was to telephone his wife at their home in Monongah, W. Va.

BOUND FOR EBBETS FIELD—Sixty-two Y boys and three fathers (James Costello, Joseph Blass, John McGarry) travelled to Ebbets Field to see the Dodgers and Giants in action last Saturday. The official chaperone group included Lou Schafer, Y general secretary; Bill Irland, physical director; and Frank "Doc" Rebollo, boys secretary.

Grunenwald (648), Ev Gross (562) Lead City Keglers in Scoring

Ed Muller's 244 grabbed high single in the Independent League.

ART LANSPERRY unloaded games of 162, 220 and 201 to pace the Junior Major with 583. Jay Croswell's 231 was high single.

Returning Vets Give Highland Hopes for Another Big Season

Frank Hamblet's manner is neither optimistic nor pessimistic when his Highland High School football team's prospects are discussed.

Now in his third year at the Highland helm, Hamblet is working with excellent record and a sizeable number of experienced players.

All is not rosy in the down-river school's camp, however. Despite a healthy squad spirit, the Highlanders have "plenty to learn about football as a group," according to their coach.

The Blue and Gold opens its eight-game schedule against Roosevelt High of Hyde Park Saturday at the latter's field.

HIGHLAND hasn't been beaten since its opening game of the 1953 season, when Kingston administered a 36-6 thrashing. Since then the Highlanders have gone undefeated, winning 13 and tying one.

Hamblet has seen half of his '54 "dream team" lost through graduation. But he has retained a number of talented players. If the three or four "rough spots," are ironed out, the Highlanders are headed for another good year, although Hamblet isn't predicting a replica of the past fall's record.

The big man of last year's offense, fullback Danny Welch, is missing. So are two other all-star choices, tackle Tom Russell and end Clark Kurtz. Other first-stringers departed are guard Jim Walsh, halfback John Jeannette and defensive lineman Ken Lyons, plus a host of good reserves.

POSITION by position, here's the HHS grid picture:

Ends. Strong, with two first string returnees, Bobby Valentino and Gordie Kreth. The latter, a defensive regular last year, will go both ways.

Tackles. Good, with three-year regular Charley Crimi on one side and sophomore Dan Angellillo on the other.

Guards. Excellent, at least as far as returnee Dave Mackey, another all-star selection, is concerned. Mackey has all the necessary football qualities. The other slot is being filled by Walt Burger, a converted fullback.

Quarterback. Excellent, with returnee John Gersch, a talented passer, runner and field general. There's also a good reserve, Dave Burdash, who may break into the starting lineup.

Halfbacks. Good yet questionable. Esau McClinton, a returnee, will fill one side. He's capable on offense and a bear on defense. Tony Cusa, a first-year man, or '54 reserve John Gruner, are in line for the other slot.

Fullback. Could be the key to the team's success. Valentino played in the backfield two years ago. He's strong, willing and reasonably fast.

THE FIRST STRING is blessed with enough weight. The line will average approximately 185 pounds and the backfield 170. No single position is lacking in poundage..

"We've got some size," Hamblet says, 'but our problem may be getting that size in motion."

Subs who may also figure in the Highland football fortunes are ends George Baker and Tom Casaburo, tackles Sam Vona and Pat Cusa (both over 200 pounds), guards Ed Sagarese and Jack Schopinsky, and backs Bill Ose and Bob Vitale. The reserve strength, on the average, is rated fair.

Hamblet and his assistant, Bob Relyea, are handling both the varsity and jayvee squads, which number 46 candidates in all.

Jackson Gets Post

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—William H. Jackson, New York lawyer and investment banker, has been given the task of mapping United States strategy for improving contacts between the Communist bloc and the free world. Negotiation on "development of contacts between the East and West" was one of the tasks which the Big Four summit conference assigned last July to the foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia, meeting in Geneva, Oct. 27. The aim was defined to mean elimination of barriers to trade and travel and to the freer exchange of ideas. Jackson, named yesterday as a special assistant to Secretary of State Dulles, will coordinate various U. S. proposals along this line in advance of the conference. Jackson is a former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency and two years ago directed a study of international information and propaganda activities for President Eisenhower.

Order Granted

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—On a plea by the Central Massachusetts Dairy Assn., the U. S. District Court has granted an order restraining Agriculture Secretary Benson from proceeding with a vote on a referendum to extend the Boston milkshed area. The restraining order granted yesterday was sought by a group of eight dairymen representing four or five Massachusetts dairy associations. Arthur Schofield of Cochituate, president of the Central Massachusetts group, and Francis Adams, secretary-treasurer, headed the delegation in Washington.

The first thing Sam Jones of the Chicago Cubs did after pitching his no-hitter against the Pirates was to telephone his wife at their home in Monongah, W. Va.

BOUND FOR EBBETS FIELD—Sixty-two Y boys and three fathers (James Costello, Joseph Blass, John McGarry) travelled to Ebbets Field to see the Dodgers and Giants in action last Saturday. The official chaperone group included Lou Schafer, Y general secretary; Bill Irland, physical director; and Frank "Doc" Rebollo, boys secretary.

Grunenwald (648), Ev Gross (562) Lead City Keglers in Scoring

Charlie Grunenwald and Evelyn Gross powered hefty triples to take individual scoring honors in last night's tenpin shooting around the city.

Evelyn Francis continued her fine early season rolling with a 472 series to lead the Matinee Club. She had games of 119, 168 and 185.

Ed Muller's 244 grabbed high single in the Independent League.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press

PITCHING — Bud Black, Tigers, hung up his first major league shutout in his third starting assignment, blanking Athletics on six hits 4-0.

BATTING — Ernie Banks, Cubs, walloped his fifth grand-slam home run of season to set a major league record in 6-5 defeat by Cardinals.

Entertain Patients

The Dorfferl Band serenaded Tony Kwasnik on Sunday afternoon at the Shaw Nursing Home, 21 Elizabeth street where he is staying. It was reported that the patients enjoyed the music and would like to have the band return. The men in the band include Charles Lucas, Cashin Lucas, Irvin Dunham, Bud Lucas and John Emmett.

Geographic center of the United States is in Smith County, Kansas.

What the average wife says goes, according to a pastor. We agree, if she's talking about money.

It's easy to get used to a financial upset after you get used to your new circle of friends.

A statistican says that only 2 per cent of the people can really sing. Will someone please try and convince the other 98 per cent they can't?

Why We Say--

A joke is referred to as a gag because of its relation to show business. If an actor started to utter the wrong lines during a performance, another actor would break in with a joke designed to quiet his fellow performer and act as a gag (or silencer) until he remembered the right lines.

Mother's Day has a special meaning for Mrs. Betty Albers, of Cincinnati, O. On Mother's Day, 1953, she gave birth to her first child, a girl; on Mother's Day, 1954, her second, a boy.—Mrs. Ed Roghair, Okaton, S. D.

Bright Miss—You know what a co-ed is, don't you? (to her bemused uncle out on the farm.)

He—Why, yes. That's a girl who didn't get her man in high school.

Once there was a very brave lion-tamer who was not afraid of the most vicious lions in the menagerie. But he had a wife who did not like him to stay out late, and one night he did stay out late. When he realized it was midnight he was panic-stricken. He didn't dare go home, but if he went to a hotel his wife might find him. So he went to the menagerie, crawled into the lions' cage, and went to sleep with his head resting on the largest lion.

The next morning his wife began to hunt for him, and she looked all over town. Finally she came to the menagerie and saw her husband in the lions' cage. A look of contempt came over her face, and she snarled: "You coward!"

A country doctor tells this story on himself: After writing a prescription for a patient, the physician told him that the druggist would probably charge him sixty cents for filling it. Then the patient asked the physician to lend him the money. Thereupon the physician carefully scratched out a part of the prescription and handed it back, with ten cents remarking:

"You can have that filled for a dime. What I scratched out was for your nerves."

NOTICE OF SPECIAL DISTRICT MEETING
Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster

The Board of Trustees of Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster HEREBY GIVES NOTICE that a special district meeting of the qualified voters of said school District will be held at the Town of Esopus Auditorium, in Port Ewen, New York, in said School District, on the 5th day of October, 1955, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, for the purpose of voting upon the following propositions:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

RESOLVED, that the Board of Trustees of Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster, is hereby authorized to construct a new elementary school building in said School District, including original furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus in connection therewith, and grading and improvement of the site, at a maximum estimated cost of $481,000, including incidental expenses in connection therewith; and such sum of $481,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be raised by the levy of a tax upon the taxable property of said School District and collected in annual installments as provided by Section 416 of the Education Law; and, in anticipation of such tax, obligations of said School District shall be issued.

PROPOSITION NO. 2

Shall the following resolution be adopted, to wit:

RESOLVED, that the acts and proceedings heretofore taken by the Board of Trustees of Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster relative to the purchase of 18-½ acres of land, more or less, from Henry R. Van Aken, as a site for a new school, for the sum of $14,000 as authorized at a special district meeting held in said School District on July 30, 1955, are hereby ratified, approved and confirmed; and said Board of Trustees is hereby authorized to purchase said property as now surveyed and determined as a school site, at a maximum estimated cost of $14,000, such land being described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster and State of New York, more particularly bounded and described as follows, viz:

BEGINNING at an iron pipe on the easterly side of the Clay Road, said point being the North Westerly corner of lands of Harry Whitaker, and running thence along the easterly and northerly side of said Clay Road the following bearings and distances: North 16° 42' West 85.05 feet to a point; thence North 34° 18' West 51.75 feet to a point; thence North 52° 20' West 45.30 feet to a point; thence North 64° 58' west 36.15 feet to a point; thence North 80° 10' West 46.80 feet to a point; thence South 89° 57' West 14.00 feet to the center of the Plantasie Kill; thence down the center of the same and along the Easterly line of lands of the Kirndale Development Corporation 1003 feet more or less to a point; thence along the Southerly line of lands of the Kirndale Development Corporation and passing over a pipe on the Easterly side of the aforementioned Plantasie Kill South 81° 34' East 452.00 feet to an iron pipe; thence along the southerly line of lands of Byer South 80° 47' East 234.77 feet to an iron pipe; thence along the westerly line of lands of Frank Sorbello South 3° 53' West 571.59 feet to an iron pipe; thence along the Northerly line of lands of Harry Elmendorf North 85° 08' West 436.14 feet to a large oak tree; thence along the Westerly line of lands of said Elmendorf South 2° 10' West 430.00 feet to an iron pipe; thence along the Northerly line of lands of said Elmendorf and Harry Whitaker North 86° 13' West 412.14 feet to the place of beginning. Containing 17.30 acres more or less.

All bearings are referred to the Magnetic-Meridian as of July, 1955.

and such land is hereby designated as a school site; and such sum of $14,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be raised by the levy of a tax upon the taxable property of said School District and collected in annual installments as provided by Section 416 of the Education Law; and in anticipation of such tax, obligations of said School District shall be issued.

Dated: Port Ewen, New York, Sept. 13, 1955.

France to Remove within the French government itself, and between French and Moroccan leaders, on the choice of the third regent.

Both sides had earlier agreed that two of them would be the former Pasha of Sefrou, Si Bekkai, an independent nationalist, and El Mokri, 108-year-old grand vizier or prime minister of Morocco.

Under Faure's plan the three regents are to install a new government of national union, including representatives of the principal nationalist movements. This is part of a program for a reconstruction of French-Moroccan relations which Faure hopes will end months of bloodshed and violence in the north African protectorate.

they "stand on the principles of price parity."

Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture under President Roosevelt who heads the committee, told reporters:

"PARITY IS the synonym for economic equality. Parity is our objective. We are going to seek out the very best information and ideas on how to achieve and keep it, and we won't neglect the consumer in the process."

Parity is a price level aimed at getting for farmers a fair income for what they sell in relation to the things they must buy.

Wickard said the committee believes a farm price situation serious for farmers "and the whole economy" is developing, and the Republican administration has not been coping with it.

"The administration hasn't taken one single step to bolster farm prices," Wickard said.

Wickard said his committee is "not married" to any solution of farm problems, and needs much more data before trying to formulate a program.

Morale Runs High

Belhaven, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP) (By Radio) — Wind and water damaged every house yesterday in this town of 2,500 population, but morale ran high today. There was joking and laughter as the Salvation Army laid out more than 1,000 meals to men, women and children at Negro school yesterday. All the while tremendous rain pounded the area. terrific winds howled. Waters of the Pungo river, actually an arm of the Pamlico Sound, rose into the streets.

There are no forests in Greenland.

council camp and fund raising activities will account for about $25,500. The balance of $7,500 represents the council's budgetary requirements presented to the Community Chest for 1956 for salaries, administrative and operating expenses.

Largest single item in the council's budget concerns the operation of Camp Wendy at Wallkill, which is self-supporting except for certain major projects such as the recent installation of electricity. Last year's gross camp income was $14,127.84 and operational expenses amounted to $13,574.20.

THIS SUMMER, a total of 321 girls attended the camp, of whom 156 were Ulster county residents and the remainder out-of-county Girl Scouts. Camperships were offered to deserving Ulster county girls, 14 of whom attended on camperships during the season.

Ulster county girls, including Kingston area Scouts, are given priority in registering for camp, with no applications accepted from outside the county until May 15 of each year. After that date, available vacancies are filled in order of application until the camp's capacity is reached.

The camp is available on weekends for troop camping by local Girl Scout troops, and it is hoped to expand the troop camping program next year, according to Mrs. Buehring.

WHILE THE volunteer worker is the backbone of the Scouting organization, the council employs one county advisor, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, whose services are available upon request to units throughout the council area. An office is maintained in the city of Kingston at 292 Fair street, open weekdays from 11:30 to 12:30 and from 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock.

Leadership training available to leaders is provided by the council at various training sessions held in different parts of the county. Last year sessions were held at Shokan, New Paltz, Onteora, Woodstock and Ellenville.

Other county council services include participation in intercounty rallies, sending a Senior Scout to regional conferences, and sending an adult to the National Convention to represent the local council in establishing national Girl Scout policy.

Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster

The Board of Trustees of Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster HEREBY GIVES NOTICE that a special district meeting of the qualified voters of said school District will be held at the Town of Esopus Auditorium, in Port Ewen, New York, in said School District, on the 5th day of October, 1955, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, for the purpose of voting upon the following propositions:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

Shall the following resolution be adopted, to wit:

RESOLVED, that the Board of Trustees of Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster, is hereby authorized to construct a new elementary school building in said School District, including original furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus in connection therewith, and grading and improvement of the site, at a maximum estimated cost of $481,000, including incidental expenses in connection therewith; and such sum of $481,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be raised by the levy of a tax upon the taxable property of said School District and collected in annual installments as provided by Section 416 of the Education Law; and, in anticipation of such tax, obligations of said School District shall be issued.

PROPOSITION NO. 2

Shall the following resolution be adopted, to wit:

RESOLVED, that the acts and proceedings heretofore taken by the Board of Trustees of Common Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster relative to the purchase of 18-½ acres of land, more or less, from Henry R. Van Aken, as a site for a new school, for the sum of $14,000 as authorized at a special district meeting held in said School District on July 30, 1955, are hereby ratified, approved and confirmed; and said Board of Trustees is hereby authorized to purchase said property as now surveyed and determined as a school site, at a maximum estimated cost of $14,000, such land being described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster and State of New York, more particularly bounded and described as follows, viz:

within the French government itself, and between French and Moroccan leaders, on the choice of the third regent.

Both sides had earlier agreed that two of them would be the former Pasha of Sefrou, Si Bekkai, an independent nationalist, and El Mokri, 108-year-old grand vizier or prime minister of Morocco.

Under Faure's plan the three regents are to install a new government of national union, including representatives of the principal nationalist movements. This is part of a program for a reconstruction of French-Moroccan relations which Faure hopes will end months of bloodshed and violence in the north African protectorate.

they "stand on the principles of price parity."

Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture under President Roosevelt who heads the committee, told reporters:

"PARITY IS the synonym for economic equality. Parity is our objective. We are going to seek out the very best information and ideas on how to achieve and keep it, and we won't neglect the consumer in the process."

Parity is a price level aimed at getting for farmers a fair income for what they sell in relation to the things they must buy.

Wickard said the committee believes a farm price situation serious for farmers "and the whole economy" is developing, and the Republican administration has not been coping with it.

"The administration hasn't taken one single step to bolster farm prices," Wickard said.

Wickard said his committee is "not married" to any solution of farm problems, and needs much more data before trying to formulate a program.

Morale Runs High

Belhaven, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP) (By Radio) — Wind and water damaged every house yesterday in this town of 2,500 population, but morale ran high today. There was joking and laughter as the Salvation Army laid out more than 1,000 meals to men, women and children at Negro school yesterday. All the while tremendous rain pounded the area, terrific winds howled. Waters of the Pungo river, actually an arm of the Pamlico Sound, rose into the streets.

council camp and fund raising activities will account for about $25,500. The balance of $7,500 represents the council's budgetary requirements presented to the Community Chest for 1956 for salaries, administrative and operating expenses.

Largest single item in the council's budget concerns the operation of Camp Wendy at Wallkill, which is self-supporting except for certain major projects such as the recent installation of electricity. Last year's gross camp income was $14,127.84 and operational expenses amounted to $13,574.20.

THIS SUMMER, a total of 321 girls attended the camp, of whom 156 were Ulster county residents and the remainder out-of-county Girl Scouts. Campership were offered to deserving Ulster county girls, 14 of whom attended on camperships during the season.

Ulster county girls, including Kingston area Scouts, are given priority in registering for camp, with no applications accepted from outside the county until May 15 of each year. After that date, available vacancies are filled in order of application until the camp's capacity is reached.

The camp is available on weekends for troop camping by local Girl Scout troops, and it is hoped to expand the troop camping program next year, according to Mrs. Buehring.

WHILE THE volunteer worker is the backbone of the Scouting organization, the council employs one county advisor, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, whose services are available upon request to units throughout the council area. An office is maintained in the city of Kingston at 292 Fair street, open weekdays from 11:30 to 12:30 and from 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock.

Leadership training available to leaders is provided by the council at various training sessions held in different parts of the county. Last year sessions were held at Shokan, New Paltz, Onteora, Woodstock and Ellenville.

Other county council services include participation in intercounty rallies, sending a Senior Scout to regional conferences, and sending an adult to the National Convention to represent the local council in establishing national Girl Scout policy.

Smoking Lamp Is Lit

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A cigarette lighter was presented to Rear Adm. George C. Dyer at a civic luncheon honoring him on his retirement as commandant of the 11th naval district. The admiral promised he would carry it always in his pocket. He refrained from telling the gathering of wellwishers that he doesn't smoke.

HOME BATTERED BY HURRICANE — This small house along the Neuse river, near New Bern, N. C., takes full force of Hurricane Ione Sept. 19. All its windows are blown out. Waves from the river roll toward the front door. Several houses along the river were damaged. (AP Wirephoto).

Five Dead . . .

STILL, IONE'S peculiar and slow movements gave the seaboard ample time to get set for the worst. This probably was a great factor in the comparatively low loss of life and property.

Every state in the storm's path marshalled police and civil defense forces to cope with the emergency. Everything loose was tied down. Emergency aid centers were set up. Civil and military planes were shifted to fields inland. Red Cross operations were planned.

NORTH CAROLINA got the worst of the blow, suffering 100 mile an hour winds and deluges of rain.

All five deaths were counted in the state, and crop and property damages totaled millions.

Four died at New Bern, where the Trent river flooded 40 city blocks. Two victims, a boy of five and a man of 50, drowned. Information on the others was not immediately available.

THE FIFTH VICTIM was another child who drowned when a dam was reported to have burst at Elizabethtown, N. C.

Several towns were left partly or entirely under water.

At many points power and communications lines were demolished, roads made impassable and buildings wrecked or battered.

Flooded towns included Morehead City, 12 miles from New Bern, Washington and Belhaven. The latter, which has a population of 2,500, reported every house damaged by wind and water.

CROP LOSSES in eastern North Carolina were expected to run into millions.

Ione's heavy rainfall, coming so soon after Hurricanes Diane and Connie, was reported to have ruined the peanut crop and struck hard new blows at corn and cotton.

Ione hit the state's principal commercial peanut producing area, where last year's crop was valued at 38 million dollars. Sweet potatoes were another crop casualty in some areas.

VIRGINIA apparently escaped with less damage, even though the hurricane decided to stop for a visit around Norfolk.

Winds were only about 35 to 47 miles an hour, although there were occasionally stronger gusts.

Rainfall was heavy at some points in Virginia, including Norfolk where three inches fell in 24 hours. Cape Henry registered 3.53 inches, nearly two and a half of them in six hours. Richmond had 3.83 inches.

IONE HITS WITH FURY—The cottages along the Begue Sound near Morehead City, N. C., take a severe lashing as Hurricane Ione hit early Sept. 19. Much damage was done to the coastal area from high water and wind. (AP Wirephoto).

Second Man Held For Grand Jury After Altercation

Philip Ramos, 23, of 63 Green street, who was arrested September 11, in the home of Fred Eggerman of Port Ewen on a charge of assault third degree, waived examination when arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen and was held for the grand jury.

Arrest of Ramos followed an altercation in the Eggerman home about 2:30 a. m. involving Eggerman, 53, his father, Philip Ramos and John Ramos, 21, of 298 Clinton avenue, according to the Ulster county sheriff's office.

IT WAS reported that the Ramoses were visiting in the Eggerman home when a quarrel broke out.

John Ramos was arraigned before Judge Palen last Friday on a charge of petit larceny, waived examination and was held for the grand jury. He is represented by Attorney Francis Martocci.

Eggerman was also arrested last Friday charged with attempted sodomy on complaint of Philip Ramos. He waived examination when arraigned before Judge Palen and was held for the grand jury.

Nixon Defends Artist

San Francisco, Sept. 20 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon last night defended an artist whose caricature of him was removed from an art exhibit here. In a telegram to Art Commission President Harold Zellerbach, who ordered the lithograph removed, Nixon said the artist had a right to express his opinion of a public official's behavior and the public was entitled to see it. The caricature was removed after one day. The exhibit closed Sunday.

Harriman Says

is through a system of federal grants. And they should not be limited to equalization to help the poorer states; they should be aimed at giving a general lift to the status of education throughout the country."

The keynote address at the conference by Kenneth C. Royall, chairman of the New York State Committee for the White House Conference, brought comment later by several of those attending.

Royall, who was secretary of war under former President Truman, said one objective of the conference should be "calmly to evaluate just what we actually need in education and to seek to eliminate what we do not really need.

HE OPPOSED any "over-enthusiastic estimate of our needs," and said the financial situation calls for paring down less essential school services "realistically and helpfully."

He said we are "sending to college too many young people who are either not adapted to higher education, or who do not need it in their particular life work."

STATE COMPTROLLER Arthur Levitt, former president of the New York City Board of Education, commented that it is essential that American youth get as much training as possible, to meet the needs of the atomic age.

Dr. Virgil Rogers, dean of the Syracuse University School of Education, commented that Royall "wants less education when this country desperately needs more."

Rogers said he was "fearful that if Mr. Royall's address was symbolic of what was to happen at this conference, we will bypass the most critical issues facing American education."

Mark Starr, education director for the AFL International Garment Workers Union and a member of the state committee for the conference, said Royall's educational thinking was that "of the ox cart, and not plane age."

Frank E. Karelsen, a member of the state committee, said Royall's speech "had value in that it will create almost unanimous dissent."

JUDGE William A. Kelly received two votes from Liberal party voters to get the Liberal designation. William A. Kaercher, Democratic candidate for district attorney received the Liberal designation when he received two of the three votes cast. Charles Kaiser, Jr., received one vote. Henry L. Schipp, Democratic candidate for county treasurer and Charles Rosenstack, Republican candidate for coroner, received the Liberal designations, each receiving one vote.

Today was the last day for central registration and registration books at the county board of elections were closed. The next opportunity to register in the city of Kingston will be on regular registration days, October 7, 8 and 14 from 10 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on October 15 from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. In the county where personal registration is not required the dates are October 8 and 15.

Two Youths Held On Assault Charge

Two teen-age youths were arrested by Kingston State Police yesterday on complaint of Elwood Klumpt of Twin Locusts Lodge, Shokan, who charged they had assaulted his wife.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Carle of the town of Olive on charges of assault third degree were Aaron Elting Vande Bogart, 17, of Mt. Tremper, and James LeRoy Shultis, also 17, of Wittenberg.

Both pleaded not guilty and were committed to the Ulster county jail in lieu of $25 bail. Hearings will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 27. Troopers William Shurter and Gorman investigated.

Heated Argument

Dallas, Tex. (AP)—In pleading to arson, Rosie Lee Carter explained: she and her boy friend had a fuss and he'd locked himself in his room. She built a fire against his door to smoke him out.

Two Pay $35 Fines At Ulster Hearing

Two persons paid fines totaling $35 when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Millard Davis of the town of Ulster yesterday—$25 for disorderly conduct and $10 as an unlicensed operator.

Kingston state police received a complaint about 4:20 a. m. today from Louise Daab of the Trailer Haven, 9W bypass that some people in the vicinity were fighting.

Trooper H. H. Ganss arrested Winona Ann Wynkoop of Box 28, Kingston, on a charge of disorderly conduct and George Gill of 41 East Strand as an unlicensed operator of the Wynkoop car, it was reported.

Orders Couple Held

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP)—Magistrate Elias Myers late yesterday ordered Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz held in $5,000 bail each for grand jury action on charges they performed an attempted abortion which killed food store heiress Doris Jean Silver Ostreicher. Myers made the ruling after agreeing that Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash had presented sufficient evidence to warrant the charges.

HOME BATTERED BY HURRICANE — This small house along the Neuse river, near New Bern, N. C., takes full force of Hurricane Ione Sept. 19. All its windows are blown out. Waves from the river roll toward the front door. Several houses along the river were damaged. (AP Wirephoto).

Five Dead . . .

STILL, IONE'S peculiar and slow movements gave the seaboard ample time to get set for the worst. This probably was a great factor in the comparatively low loss of life and property.

Every state in the storm's path marshalled police and civil defense forces to cope with the emergency. Everything loose was tied down. Emergency aid centers were set up. Civil and military planes were shifted to fields inland. Red Cross operations were planned.

New York city's 21,000-man police force was kept on an all-night alert.

NORTH CAROLINA got the worst of the blow, suffering 100 mile an hour winds and deluges of rain.

All five deaths were counted in the state, and crop and property damages totaled millions.

Four died at New Bern, where the Trent river flooded 40 city blocks. Two victims, a boy of five and a man of 50, drowned. Information on the others was not immediately available.

THE FIFTH VICTIM was another child who drowned when a dam was reported to have burst at Elizabethtown, N. C.

Several towns were left partly or entirely under water.

At many points power and communications lines were demolished, roads made impassable and buildings wrecked or battered.

Flooded towns included Morehead City, 12 miles from New Bern, Washington and Belhaven. The latter, which has a population of 2,500, reported every house damaged by wind and water.

CROP LOSSES in eastern North Carolina were expected to run into millions.

Ione's heavy rainfall, coming so soon after Hurricanes Diane and Connie, was reported to have ruined the peanut crop and struck hard new blows at corn and cotton.

Ione hit the state's principal commercial peanut producing area, where last year's crop was valued at 38 million dollars. Sweet potatoes were another crop casualty in some areas.

VIRGINIA apparently escaped with less damage, even though the hurricane decided to stop for a visit around Norfolk.

Winds were only about 35 to 47 miles an hour, although there were occasionally stronger gusts.

Rainfall was heavy at some points in Virginia, including Norfolk where three inches fell in 24 hours. Cape Henry registered 3.53 inches, nearly two and a half of them in six hours. Richmond had 3.83 inches.

IONE HITS WITH FURY—The cottages along the Begue Sound near Morehead City, N. C., take a severe lashing as Hurricane Ione hit early Sept. 19. Much damage was done to the coastal area from high water and wind. (AP Wirephoto).

Second Man Held For Grand Jury After Altercation

Philip Ramos, 23, of 63 Green street, who was arrested September 11, in the home of Fred Eggerman of Port Ewen on a charge of assault third degree, waived examination when arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen and was held for the grand jury.

Arrest of Ramos followed an altercation in the Eggerman home about 2:30 a. m. involving Eggerman, 53, his father, Philip Ramos and John Ramos, 21, of 298 Clinton avenue, according to the Ulster county sheriff's office.

IT WAS reported that the Ramoses were visiting in the Eggerman home when a quarrel broke out.

John Ramos was arraigned before Judge Palen last Friday on a charge of petit larceny, waived examination and was held for the grand jury. He is represented by Attorney Francis Martocci.

Eggerman was also arrested last Friday charged with attempted sodomy on complaint of Philip Ramos. He waived examination when arraigned before Judge Palen and was held for the grand jury.

Nixon Defends Artist

San Francisco, Sept. 20 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon last night defended an artist whose caricature of him was removed from an art exhibit here. In a telegram to Art Commission President Harold Zellerbach, who ordered the lithograph removed, Nixon said the artist had a right to express his opinion of a public official's behavior and the public was entitled to see it. The caricature was removed after one day. The exhibit closed Sunday.

Harriman Says

is through a system of federal grants. And they should not be limited to equalization to help the poorer states; they should be aimed at giving a general lift to the status of education throughout the country."

The keynote address at the conference by Kenneth C. Royall, chairman of the New York State Committee for the White House Conference, brought comment later by several of those attending.

Royall, who was secretary of war under former President Truman, said one objective of the conference should be "calmly to evaluate just what we actually need in education and to seek to eliminate what we do not really need.

HE OPPOSED any "over-enthusiastic estimate of our needs," and said the financial situation calls for paring down less essential school services "realistically and helpfully."

He said we are "sending to college too many young people who are either not adapted to higher education, or who do not need it in their particular life work."

STATE COMPTROLLER Arthur Levitt, former president of the New York City Board of Education, commented that it is essential that American youth get as much training as possible, to meet the needs of the atomic age.

Dr. Virgil Rogers, dean of the Syracuse University School of Education, commented that Royall "wants less education when this country desperately needs more."

Rogers said he was "fearful that if Mr. Royall's address was symbolic of what was to happen at this conference, we will bypass the most critical issues facing American education."

Mark Starr, education director for the AFL International Garment Workers Union and a member of the state committee for the conference, said Royall's educational thinking was that "of the ox cart, and not plane age."

Frank E. Karelsen, a member of the state committee, said Royall's speech "had value in that it will create almost unanimous dissent."

Stang Primary

candidate for county treasurer, received 727.

William F. Edelmuth, Democratic candidate for mayor, received the Liberal party designation when he received 4 out of the 5 votes cast. Mayor Frederick H. Stang received one vote. Harry A. Flowers Jr., Democratic candidate for alderman-at-large, received the Liberal designation when he received three of the four votes cast.

JUDGE William A. Kelly received two votes from Liberal party voters to get the Liberal designation. William A. Kaercher, Democratic candidate for district attorney received the Liberal designation when he received two of the three votes cast. Charles Kaiser, Jr., received one vote. Henry L. Schipp, Democratic candidate for county treasurer and Charles Rosenstack, Republican candidate for coroner, received the Liberal designations, each receiving one vote.

Today was the last day for central registration and registration books at the county board of elections were closed. The next opportunity to register in the city of Kingston will be on regular registration days, October 7, 8 and 14 from 10 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on October 15 from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. In the county where personal registration is not required the dates are October 8 and 15.

Pencil makers estimate that pencils still do about 94 per cent of U. S. writing jobs.
